MISSING SCHOOL TEACHERS ACCOUNTED FOR.

KILLED BY LADRONES IN CEBU

BODIES OF FOUR OF THEM ARE RECOVERED.

MISSING SINCE JUNE 10

LEADER OF THE MURDERERS IS KILLED.

Washington, July 23.—The war department today received the following cablegram regarding the school teachers who have been missing from Cebu since June 10th:

"John E. Wells, 209 Montgomery avenue, Providence, R. I., and his cousin, Louis A. Thomas, same address; Ernest Heger, 1413 Vine street, Cincinnati, Ohio; Clyde A. France, Berea, Ohio, missing, Cebu, murdered by Ladrones, bodies recovered. Leader murderers killed; eight others captured by the constabulary."

LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS UP.

Vincennes, Ind., July 23.—Engineer John Conahy, of Washington, and fireman Michael Muster, of this city, were killed yesterday by a terrible boiler explosion of their engine on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern freight train, No. 34, while running forty miles an hour, near Claremont, west of this place. Both leave families. Twelve cars of merchandise were ditched and burned by the wreck. The loss will reach $12,000. The accident was most singular in railroad annals.

The trainmen are unable to give any accurate description of the explosion. The train was making fast time on an easy grade and the dead engine men evidently had no warning of the disaster. A brakeman saw them a few minutes before the accident. At that time Conahy sat, as usual, on the right side of the cab and the fireman was busy feeding the boiler. The explosion threw parts of the engine in all directions and the speeding cars piled up on and over the debris, the whole mass catching fire immediately and burning rapidly. The engine men evidently died instantly, apparently having been killed by the force of the explosion and being lifeless before their bodies were pinned under the wreckage.

CADETS AS FIRE FIGHTERS.

Annapolis, Md., July 23.—A fire that broke out in the heart of Annapolis at 3 o'clock this morning destroyed nine buildings, including St. Martin's German Lutheran church and the large general store of E. J. Jewell, and caused a loss estimated at $50,000.

The blaze started in the confectionery store of B. Wiegand in State Circle. An overheated bake oven is supposed to have been the cause. The dwelling of Edward McCusker was burned and Bond's restaurant and the office of the United States express company were damaged. Two hundred marine guards from the naval academy did effective work as a bucket brigade. The ancient state house was not damaged. The fire was extinguished within an hour after its discovery.

MEETING OF NEWSBOYS.

The Newsboys' union met last evening in their rooms in the Arcade and elected officers for the coming year. Frank K. Hills was made an honorary member. After the election a banquet was served. The annual field day of the union will be held next Tuesday afternoon. There will be twelve events, and prizes aggregating twenty-five dollars have been put up by the Exchange Publishing company and Phelps & Hadson. The athletic sports will be held under the auspices of the Kekionga Athletic club.

SWIMMERS WILL COMPETE.

Master John K. Baker, of this city, will meet Thomas J. White, of Indianapolis, in a swimming contest for the championship of their class at Chicago on August 5th. Baker swam two and three-fourths miles at Newport, R. I., last summer, and is of the opinion that he can swim three miles in fresh water.

POLICE CHIEF MURDERED.

Elkins, W. Va., July 23.—Chief of Police F. E. Wilmoth, of this town, was murdered late last night at Womelsfort, near here. Wilmoth was in the act of arresting two negroes when a third shot him from ambush. A posse is in pursuit of the murderer and it is believed that he will be lynched if caught. This is the third murder of an Elkins chief of police within a year, the other two victims being Robert Lilly and Page Marsteller.

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLODES.

Baltimore, July 23.—A gasoline stove exploded at Pinto, Md., today in the home of W. H. Feathers. The house was consumed and two children, 6 and 4 years of age, burned to death. Mrs. Feathers barely escaped with her life and her young baby was seriously burned.

KING IS FED BY SCHEDULE

EDWARD'S DIET UNDER STRICT SUPERVISION.

His Majesty Submits Good-Naturedly to the Severe Regime—Royal Yacht to Cruise.

London, July 23.—King Edward today enjoyed the improved weather at Cowes, Isle of Wight. He spent the forenoon in an invalid chair on the open deck. He is still under the most strict supervision. The patient's diet menu is signed daily by one or the other of the royal physicians before it is submitted to the king, who submits good-naturedly to the somewhat severe regime. There is every indication of his majesty's continued progress towards complete convalescence. Weather permitting, the royal yacht will probably go on a short cruise tomorrow.

Truth says that Emperor William's visit to King Edward will be brief and strictly private. The German emperor sailing from Kiel on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern August 2 and remaining at Cowes through the regatta week, when his schooner yacht Meteor III. will compete for the king's cup.

WILL RESTRAIN A UNION.

Newark, N. J., July 23.—Vice Chancellor Emery today granted a rule to show cause, returnable on Tuesday next, why an injunction should not be issued restraining Journeymen Plumbers' Union No. 24 and Walking Delegate William E. Ryan from interfering with the business of Charles E. McGuire, a master plumber, by continuing to call out members of the organization employed by him. McGuire claims that the union has called out several of his men during the past two months in retaliation for his refusal to reinstate another employee who had quit work because of McGuire's refusal to discharge an apprentice.

MACKAY'S PLANS TO GO ON.

London, July 23.—George G. Ward, the vice president and general manager of the Commercial Cable company, was asked today by a representative of the Associated Press what effect the death of John W. Mackay would have on the business of the company. He replied:

"I do not know who will succeed Mr. Mackay as president. That is entirely in the hands of the board of directors. You can say, however, that there will be no change of policy. The progress of the company and particularly Mr. Mackay's plans will be faithfully carried out. The contracts for the Pacific cable have been let and the enterprise will proceed precisely as though Mr. Mackay's death had not occurred."

SCHOOLSHIPS AT HAVRE.

Havre, July 23.—The Pennsylvania nautical schoolship Saratoga and the Massachusetts nautical schoolship Enterprise have arrived here.

YOUNG JACKSON WON.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 23.—Young Peter Jackson fought Mike Donovan, of Rochester, N. Y., to a standstill and was awarded the decision at the end of the twentieth round last night. Donovan was clearly outpointed and missed being knocked out in the eighteenth round only by one count.

DEATH LIST NOW 109.

Hamburg, July 23.—It is now announced that 109 persons were drowned by the sinking Monday morning of the steamship Primus, of this port, after a collision in the river Elbe with the tug Hansa.

The Iantha Sewing club will meet Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 with Mrs. J. Fraile, 835 Lake avenue.

CASH ROLLING IN

MINERS' STRIKE FUND HAS A LARGE ADDITION.

ILLINOIS MEN SEND $50,000

AGGREGATE OF $100,000 IN A MONTH FROM THEM.

MANY MORE CONTRIBUTIONS

SINGLE SUBSCRIPTIONS OF $1,000 ARE RECEIVED.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—Secretary Wilson, of the United Mine Workers, today received a check for $50,000 for the strike fund from the Illinois organization. This was forwarded by him immediately to the anthracite field.

The Illinois miners have, within four weeks, given the national organization $100,000 for strike funds, and still have nearly half a million in reserve.

This donation, it is said, is the largest ever received for a strike. Wilson has received notice from individuals of checks for as much as $1,000 that are now on their way to headquarters, indicating that the appeal to the public for funds has been effective.

Secretary Wilson says no attempt will be made to pay the anthracite strikers stipulated sums of money. "Our intention," said he, "is not to pay regular benefits, but merely to take care of the strikers and their families."

It is believed the miners will not attempt to keep bituminous coal out of the anthracite markets except as a last resort. The officials will not talk about it now, but it is understood that this was fully considered the night the committee discussed Mitchell's recommendations and that it has been left largely to the discretion of Mitchell and Wilson as to what shall be done.

President Mitchell left this afternoon for Chicago and he will go from there to Wilkesbarre.

ARGUING EXTRADITION CASE

TESTIMONY IN RILEY-JULIAN CASE ALL SUBMITTED.

Decision is Hardly Expected Today—Long List of Witnesses to Prove Alibi.

The taking of testimony tending to show that neither John Julian nor John Riley could have been in Canada at the time they are suspected of having committed burglaries there in 1900 was completed before Commissioner Logan in the federal court this afternoon, and the attorneys took up the argument of the case. It is not known how much time will be required on the case, but it is not regarded as probable that a decision will be rendered today on the question of extradition of the two men.

To offset the positive identification of the men by Canadian witnesses, there has been a long list of witnesses from Bluffton who testified just as positively in support of the alibi set up by the accused men, and the case is a most perplexing one. For Julian today testified was given by Isaac Bessler, C. D. Kyle, ex-Sheriff Higgins, Louis DeHaven, Eli Haeflich, Mrs. Julian, her son and a brother of the accused man. The evidence of several witnesses was to the effect that during the entire fall of 1900 Julian was not away from Bluffton for any length of time save on one occasion when, with his family, he was visiting in Ohio. It was also shown that on December 24, of that year, when one of the Canadian robberies is alleged to have occurred, Julian was conducting a turkey raffle in a saloon at Bluffton. Other witnesses Tuesday contributed largely toward the testimony by which it is hoped by the defendant to prove an alibi.

Several witnesses for Riley, also tending to prove an alibi, were heard today. Among them were Christian Maples, his father-in-law, Sanford Millington, a junk dealer, Jesse Metts, Joseph Whaley and Mrs. Riley. Riley himself took the stand this afternoon. Judge Mock was also a witness for Riley, who was living in one of his (Mock's) houses in 1900, and a letter written by Judge Mock on November 9, 1900, threatening Riley with ejectment unless he paid his rent was produced in court as evidence.

Attorney Lafollette reached the city last evening, and has been chief counsel for the Canadian government in the hearing today. The case is a very interesting one, and has been largely attended by attorneys other than those directly concerned in the hearing.

WILL GO TO WABASH.

Pathfinder lodge No. 19 will go to Wabash over the Fort Wayne and Southwestern next Friday evening, leaving the city at 5 o'clock, and returning leave Wabash at midnight. The Fort Wayne and Southwestern is not completed all the way to Wabash, but arrangements have been made with the Big Four road to meet the excursionists at the end of the electric road and take them to Wabash. It is expected that about 200 Pathfinders will take in the excursion.

AUBURN BOYS IN TROUBLE

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY STORE AT ALTONA.

Were Arrested Last Evening at Leotto—Deputy United States Marshal is Summoned.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Garrett, Ind., July 23.—Monday night Maggart's general store at Altona, a little village one mile west of this city, was entered by burglars and a varied assortment of plunder taken, aggregating about $50 in value. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear window and the stuff stolen included $5 or $6 in pennies from the cash drawer, some knives, a lot of hosiery, handkerchiefs and other notions.

Suspicion was directed toward four young Auburn boys, all of them under twenty-one years of age, and Marshal Freese, of this city, in company with a number of deputies, took up the search for the suspected lads. At Leotto Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock Marshal Freese and his men arrested Lewis E. Clark, John Blaney, C. J. Marsh and W. L. Watt, all of Auburn.

Three of them were taken without resistance, but Blaney started to run. Deputy Joseph Leeson fired two shots from his revolver in the air. This had the effect of stopping Blaney and he surrendered without further ado. The four lads were brought to Garrett and lodged in jail to await a hearing this afternoon. The post-office at Altona is located in the Maggart store-building, but it is not believed that any of the government property was molested.

Shortly before noon today United States Commissioner Logan received a telegram from Garrett to the effect that the postoffice at Altona had been robbed and that four young fellows were under arrest at Garrett for the crime. Assistant United States Attorney Lafollette is in the city and a telegram was at once sent to Indianapolis asking that a marshal be sent to Garrett to look after the case. Mr. Lafollette will remain over and if the charge of robbing the postoffice is made against the lads they will be brought to Fort Wayne for a hearing before the commissioner.

EXPECT FRESH TROUBLE.

Paris, July 23.—There is every prospect of fresh disturbances today as a sequel to yesterday's clerical outbreaks as protests against the government's enforcement of the law against unauthorized congregations. It now appears that three hundred persons were arrested and numerous prosecutions are pending, though the majority of the prisoners were released. Fresh meetings to protest in favor of the religious orders are expected to be held today, while the radical and socialist papers are urging the republicans to meet at the Pantheon as a counter-demonstration.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO ELECT.

The board of directors of the Fort Wayne Commercial club will meet at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the club rooms to elect a president, secretary and treasurer for the ensuing year. The directors feel very gratified at the prospects for next year, which promise much for Fort Wayne's growth, and there is more than ordinary interest manifest in the affairs of the club.

INJURED HIS ANKLE.

While leaving his residence, on West Wayne street, Tuesday afternoon C. F. Pfeiffer tripped upon the step, falling in such a manner as to severely sprain his right ankle. He will be confined to the house for some time.

SESSIONS CLOSE

WALTHER LEAGUE CONVENTION IS OVER.

OFFICERS CHOSEN TODAY

CLEVELAND, RE-ELECTED.

A WALTHER LEAGUE RALLY

BIG GATHERING AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH TONIGHT.

The sessions of the Walther League of the United States, which began Sunday evening at Zion's Lutheran church, concluded this afternoon, and while quite a number of the delegates will remain over Thursday to participate in the social session at Robison park tomorrow, many will leave for their homes this evening. The convention of 1902 has been the largest in the history of the Walther League and in some respects the most important on account of the final settlement of a number of important questions.

The principal business of this morning's session, which was opened with a prayer by Rev. C. H. Lush, of Zion's church, was the election of officers. Owing to the abolishment of the dues, decided upon yesterday, the office of financial secretary, held by W. C. Baade, of this city, was done away with.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Louis Hohnsbehn, of Cleveland, O.

Recording Secretary—Ed. M. E. Gross, Fort Wayne.

Corresponding Secretary—Prof. M. Dippman, Milwaukee.

Treasurer—R. E. Braeunlich, Buffalo, N. Y.

The officers of the league today denied the report that the lady delegates were working to have one of their number elected to a national office. The constitution of the Walther League provides that no woman can hold such an office.

The committee, appointed to revise the books of the financial secretary and treasurer reported that the books were in perfect order. President Hohnsbehn appointed the following committees: On membership, H. F. Neils, John Partenfeller and Herman Landeck, all of Milwaukee; on entertainment, H. W. Nobis, J. Dress and A. Walker, of Cleveland; on buttons, A. Kramer and Gottlieb Strieder, of this city.

SOCIETIES WITHDRAW.

The following societies presented notices of withdrawal from the national body: Defiance, O.; Christ's church and St. Luke's societies, of Cleveland; St. Andrews, of Buffalo. The reasons given for withdrawal are that the above mentioned societies are opposed to membership fees, and as the fees have been abolished, the presidents of the two districts were instructed to endeavor to have the societies reconsider their resignations.

This afternoon's session was devoted to the consideration of unfinished business and the discussion of a number of questions of minor importance. The final adjournment was made shortly after 4 o'clock.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

It was definitely decided yesterday afternoon to do away with the payment of dues to support the league, although the matter was not settled without considerable debate. It was also decided to hold annual meetings, both matters being placed in the hands of a committee for settlement. The convention decided to donate all collections received during the coming year for the support of theological students in the Missouri synod. All money collected from the leagues for the Walther Luther Monument association will be refunded and the amusement committee will return to the leagues all books it has received.

The society at Mishawaka was stricken from the rolls, having failed to make formal application for membership. The society at Goshen will take the matter up and will endeavor to form a new society in Mishawaka, affiliated with the national body. The Buffalo district will be divided into two districts to be known as the east and west.

An important point decided yesterday was the granting permission to the English members to form separate districts in the league. This permission is granted with the understanding that they remain affiliated with the national body.

Rev. Bruno K. Poch, pastor of a German church in London, gave a lecture on missionary work in that city. It was decided to donate the money taken at the opening collection for mission work in London.

Prof. J. H. Ungemach has been asked to arrange the Walther League chorus for mixed and female choirs.

BIG RALLY TONIGHT.

The closing rally of the Walther league convention will be held this evening in St. Paul's church on Barr street, and the program as outlined in last evening's Sentinel will be carried out.

SHOT IN THE NECK.

A four-year-old son of John W. Bohde, of 3202 South Broadway, was shot in the neck Monday evening by a bullet from a 22-caliber target rifle. The lad was crossing the commons in that section of the city when the shot was fired. A physician cut the bullet from the lad's neck, and while his wound is painful, it is not serious. Yesterday Detective Coling took possession of a 22-caliber Colt's rifle at the home of Harry Stoltz, of Organ avenue. The bullet cut from the neck of the boy fits the rifle perfectly. Stoltz has been complained of by neighbors for shooting about there. The bullet did not glance, but struck the lad direct, for it is not at all battered. Stoltz was not at home when the officer called.

NEW HOME FOR DAILY NEWS

NEWSPAPER COMPANY LEASES

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Possession Is to Be Given September 1—Prudential Has Not Yet Chosen Quarters.

The Fort Wayne Daily News company has just closed a lease with the White estate for the occupancy of the city Y. M. C. A. building on Calhoun street, between Wayne and Washington, and from and after September 1 the Daily News will be printed from its new home in that building.

The lease is said to be for a long term of years, and includes the entire building with the exception of the top floor, now in use as a bowling alley. The Prudential Insurance company now occupies the front portion of the main floor, and Superintendent Beal stated this morning that their lease extended until February next. He had as yet made no selection of future quarters for the insurance company. With the exception of the portions used by the Prudential and the bowling alley the building will be surrendered to the Daily News company on September 1.

The following societies presented notices of withdrawal from the national body: Defiance, O.; Christ's church and St. Luke's societies, of Cleveland; St. Andrews, of Buffalo. The reasons given for withdrawal are that the above mentioned societies are opposed to membership fees, and as the fees have been abolished, the presidents of the two districts were instructed to endeavor to have the societies reconsider their resignations.

QUEER OLD SOUVENIR.

John W. Double, of this city, is the possessor of an old newspaper which he prizes very highly as a souvenir of the days before the civil war. It is a copy of "Brother Jonathan," a publication issued by Wilson & Co., New York, dated July 4, 1848, and "published on the Fourth of July and Christmas of each year." The immense sheet is tattered and discolored by age, but its contents are interesting as showing the topics of those times. The paper is a nine-column quarto, and its first page is entirely taken up, save for the space used by the heading, by portraits of Thomas H. Benton, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun and Daniel Webster, who were then in the zenith of their prominence. Two pages are occupied by an immense wood engraving illustrating the storming of the castle of Chapultepec, September 13, 1847; less than a year previous, by the American troops under General Scott. Other illustrations include humor of the day and scenes from the Fourth of July parades. The paper has been in Mr. Double's possession for many years.

The concert given last evening by the Eintracht Singing society and the City band at Centlivre park was attended by an immense crowd. A very pleasing program was rendered by the band, interspersed with musical numbers by the singing society. The delegates in attendance at the Walthier league convention attended in a body.

Bluffton News: "Miss Lillian Clark entertained a party of about fifteen friends last evening in honor of her guest, Miss Lillian Ehle, of Fort Wayne. Her piano music was greatly appreciated, as were also violin selections by Grant Burkett. The guests were served with refreshments."

Gottfried Hartman, of 2217 Broadway, who deserted his family some time ago, was seen by a Fort Wayne gentleman in Chicago Sunday. An effort will be made to have him brought back to the city.

INVESTIGATING BLOCKADE.

Washington, July 23.—The navy department has taken steps to investigate the reported interference with American shipping in Venezuelan waters, which is said to have resulted from the recent blockade declared by President Castro upon a number of ports in the republic. The navy department has been informed that Commander Rodgers left La Guaira yesterday with the gunboat Marietta for the mouth of the Orinoco river, and will stop en route at Cumana, Carupano and Trinidad.

The work laid out for the Marietta will keep her busy for four or five days or more and meantime the gunboat Ranger at Panama will be the only sentinel on the isthmus, the Machias having been ordered to sail at once from Colon for Cape Haytien.

Senator Pettigrew says Mr. Bryan will play a strong hand in fixing the policy of the democratic party in the next campaign, else Mr. Bryan will be found in the new political party which the former Dakota senator and others are about to launch. Mr.
Mr. Bryan's friends, and the host numbers millions, will not believe, even upon the word of Senator Pettigrew, that the Nebraska leader has purpose to pursue any such rule or ruin game as that. Mr. Bryan has in two campaigns had the most loyal support of the democratic masses and there is not in the country today any man in any political party who has so strong a hold on so large a personal and devoted following as Mr.
Bryan by ties of democracy. If Mr.
Bryan ceases to be a democrat, he will in the same moment cease to be the leader he now is. There may be differences as to party policy, as to making of issues, as to choice of candidates, as to qualifications for leadership, as to tests of loyalty, and all that, but in the masses of the party
there is little difference as to Mr.
Bryan. He is admired and trusted for his honesty, courage and ability.
But not so many are in accord with Mr. Bryan's views as formerly, though he has suffered no loss of esteem or affection. Mr. Bryan will speak in Boston tomorrow and doubtless will take occasion to define more distinctly his notion of what is expedient.

A WORLD'S RECORD

FOR 1,000 MILES BROKEN BY FORT WAYNE BIRD.

ARRIVED HOME THIS MORNING

HOMING PIGEON COVERS DIS-TANCE IN 195 HOURS.

LOWERS RECORD 37 HOURS

FREED AT ABILENE, TEXAS,
JULY 12, AT 5:25 A. M.

The first two birds of the flock of fourteen homing pigeons which were liberated at Abilene, Texas, last Tuesday morning reached Ft. Wayne shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, having flown the 1,004 miles between Abilene and Fort Wayne in 8 days, 3 hours, 5 minutes and 30 seconds and lowering the world's record for 1,000 miles by nearly a day and a half.

The first bird to arrive belonged to Henry Beach, president of the Fort Wayne Homing club, and a bird belonging to Dr. Carl Schilling arrived less than five minutes afterward. The birds had been in nearly half an hour before it was known they had arrived, but in accordance with the rules governing a pigeon race, the time was reckoned from the time the arrival of the birds is noted.

Mr. Beach, who lives at 2,013 Lafayette street, first became aware of the return of his bird by hearing a great commotion in his pigeon loft, and upon investigation found the pigeon engaged in a duel to the death with another bird who had alienated the affections of his mate. The stay-at-home bird had not only "cut out" the other, but had pre-empted his nest box, hence the fight. The homer had decidedly the best of the argument, notwithstanding his long flight, and soon put his rival out of business. Then, apparently disgusted with his mate's fickleness, he turned her out and proceeded to find another.

The fourteen pigeons, belonging to Henry Beach and Dr. Carl Schilling, were liberated at Abilene at 5:25 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 15.
The pigeons were all of the blue barred and check variety and several of them had made long flights earlier in the season.

In making the trip home the birds crossed Texas, Indian Territory, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, averaging about 125 miles a day. The birds seldom alight except to roost at night and eat but little. In long flights it is seldom that more than one bird in four returns, as they are frequently shot, killed by eagles or hawks, captured, or lose their way.

Mr. Beach's bird which now holds the world's record is of the variety known as the "smoky check" and is about four years old. It has made long flights quite frequently and only a few weeks ago covered 600 miles in record time. Mr. Beach is president of the Homing club and has one of the best equipped pigeon lofts in the United States. Mr. Beach raises homing pigeons exclusively and his birds have taken numerous prizes in races and exhibitions.

The Fort Wayne Homing club is composed of the following gentlemen: Henry Beach, Carl and John Schilling, Frank Contant, Oscar Griebel, Fred Kreibbaum, William H.

Link, Louis Gebfert, Ben Mariotte, Fred Match, William Minner, Fred Fisher and Messrs. Slagle, Swart and Burchard.

HALT IN THE SALOON CASES

AFFIDAVITS PRESENT SOME TECHNICAL HOLES.

Cases Therefore Go Over Until the Matter Can Be Remedied—
The News of the Police.

Police court this morning, as a whole, resolved itself into an imitation of an amateur debating society, such as our forefathers used to enjoy in the log schoolhouse before the march of civilization thrust revised statutes and vaudeville shows into prominence. The debate started with the case of Charles Hunt, who was arrested for selling liquor to minors.
Earl Arnold being the particular minor designated in the original affidavit and the offense was stated to have been committed on the 19th of July. Arnold was not present in court this morning, so the prosecutor made a new affidavit, naming Edward Blair as the principal witness, and as he was identified with all the cases against Hunt, the latter's attorney, Mr. Thomas, made no objection. It was only after young Blair was sworn and was on the stand that Mr. Thomas discovered that the date of the offense charged had been changed from July 19 to July 8 and to that change he objected. The prosecutor held that any date could be used to prove the offense, whether it was the one used in the affidavit or not. Mr. Thomas claimed that his client had been present yesterday and today was ready to stand trial on the original affidavit; that he was prepared to disprove the charge and had his witnesses in court who could swear only to what occurred on July 19; but that when it came to trying an entirely different cause and one for which no witnesses had been summoned and of which he knew absolutely nothing, he had a right to ask for a continuance of the ground that he was not ready for trial. He insisted, however, that he was ready for trial on the original charge and demanded a hearing. Then occurred the debate in which everybody joined except Lieutenant Lapp. The result was that the two cases were continued until tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

Another of the same class of cases was presented, being that of the state vs. Thomas Clark, also accused of selling liquor to minors, young Blair again being the star witness.
Clark was present, but it developed that Clark was not the man who did the selling and after a brief investigation the prosecutor admitted the fact and not-prossed the case. Mr.
Thomas, also attorney in this case, objected to that kind of procedure and insisted that a nolle did not clear his client and wanted the record to show that the case was dismissed.
The record was so made.

Then came the case of John Kennedy, also one of the men arrested on the affidavits drawn by the mayor several days ago. Mr. Kennedy was in court yesterday morning and the case was continued until this morning. He was there again today and sat with sublime patience through the previous proceedings. When called he came forward, pleaded not guilty, said he did not know why he was arrested, but said that he was willing to stand for anything that could be proved against him. Before going any further, it is not an undeserved compliment to say that Mr. Kennedy is as smooth as they can make them. Mr. Kennedy was a perfect picture of injured innocence as he stood respectfully before the bar of justice and awaited trial. It was then suddenly discovered that he was not the Kennedy wanted at all. He was John Kennedy, all right, but it was his son, John Kennedy, jr., who was supposed to be the guilty man. This case was dismissed without further talk and then the batch was over for the day.

OTHER OFFENDERS.
Of the other offenders before the court John Lew was probably the most familiar figure. John but recently finished a jail sentence for vagrancy and was sent over again this morning for a stretch of 16 days. He took the whole affair as a matter of course although, probably through force of habit, he pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Ralph Lane, formerly of this city,

but now a resident of Rome City, came down to town last evening on the late excursion train and wandered along Calhoun street in a very peaceful manner and in a benignant mood. He was encountered at an alley near the south depot by a certain Mr.
Frederick McComb, a gentleman with a fierce disposition and very red hair.
Mr. McComb wanted to fight almost anybody, but particularly Mr. Lane.
After much persuasion Mr. Lane, who is a big man, accommodated the slender Mr. McComb and the result was that both were arrested, Lane being charged with assault and Mc-Comb with liquor and public intoxication. Lane made an interesting talk and in the course of it stated that he had not taken a drink since he came to town and declared that he had tried to get out of a fuss. He tacitly admitted that he was responsible for the rather lopsided eye that McComb was wearing at the time.
He got $1 and costs which he said he would pay as soon as he could get into telegraphic communication with his brother at Rome City. McComb was also given $1 and costs and accompanied the wagon over to the jail.

James Davis pleaded guilty to as-

Mrs. Anton Rieg, of 1223 Huff-mysterious man with the educated dog. The dog invaded her yard yesterday and with great neatness and dispatch captured several choice chickens which he carried to his mas-completely drove away. She says she can identify the man if she ever meets him again. She would also like to do worse things to him than simply identify him.

SMALLPOX PATIENT MAY DIE

AUGUST ZAGEL'S CONDITION EX-TREMELY CRITICAL.

Hanna Street Man Who Returned From the West Has Disease in Severest Form.

By far the most severe case of smallpox observed in Fort Wayne in recent years is that from which August Zagel is now suffering at his home, 1145 Hanna street, and physicians stated this morning that his recovery is a matter of very grave doubt.

Zagel, it will be recalled, returned to the city on a Wabash train Sunday evening after a vacation trip of two weeks spent in the west. He had been ill for several days, but not seriously, and was amazed when the physicians pronounced the case smallpox. During the days preceding his return Mr. Zagel had visited a number of western towns, traveled on railroad trains, stopped at hotels and indulged in the luxury of a Turkish bath, so that there was an excellent opportunity for the spread of the disease.

Since his return to Fort Wayne the most rigid quarantine has been enforced. The case has been severe from the first and the physician in attendance said this morning that while Zagel might recover, present indications were very unfavorable and he would not be surprised at the patient's death at any time. Zagel's condition is critical.

Mercury and Potash

ONLY SERVE AS A MASK FOR CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

They hide its repulsive form, and this serpent disease, stuffed by these drugs, lies dormant until the effects have worn off or treatment is discontinued, when it breaks down the mask and becomes as full of life and venom as ever.
Mercury and Potash may dry up the sores and eruptions, but at the same time they drive the poison back into the blood and system, where it feeds upon the tender tissues, membranes and nerves, finally breaking out in most disgusting sores and even destroying the flesh and bones.

Mercury and Potash cannot accomplish a radical and permanent cure.
They have a palliative but not curative effect upon this treacherous snake-like disease. These drugs produce mercurial Rheumatism, destroy the teeth and corrode the membranes of the stomach and bowels, causing inflammation and dyspepsia, nervousness and general derangement of the system.
S. S. S. is a Specific for Contagious Blood Poison, and the only antidote for the peculiar virus that spreads so quickly throughout the system, corrupting the blood and infecting every organ and fibre of the body.

S. S. S. destroys the serpent, and eliminates every atom of poison from the blood, it makes a thorough and radical cure of the disease, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. contains no minerals of any kind, but is a purely vegetable remedy and we offer $1,000 for proof to the contrary.

Write us about your case and our physicians will cheerfully advise without charge. Our home treatment book will be sent free to all who desire it.

CHANGE OF LIFE.
Some Sensible Advice to Women by Mrs. E. Sailer.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I passed through what is known as 'change of life,' I had two years' suffering,—sudden heat, and as quick chills would pass over me; my appetite was variable and I never could tell for

MRS. E. SAILER,
President German Relief Association,
Los Angeles, Cal.

a day at a time how I would feel the next day. Five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound changed all that, my days became days of health, and I have enjoyed every day since—now six years.

"We have used considerable of your Vegetable Compound in our charitable work, as we find that to restore a poor mother to health so she can support herself and those dependent upon her, if such there be, is truer charity than to give other aid. You have my hearty endorsement, for you have proven yourself a true friend to suffering women."—Mrs. E. Sailer, 755 1/2 Hill St., Los Angeles, Cal.—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

No other person can give such helpful advice to women who are sick as can Mrs. Pinkham, for no other has had such great experience—her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free—if you are sick write her—you are foolish if you don't.

MAJOR GLENN FOUND GUILTY
ADMINISTERED WATER CURE TO FILIPINOS.

Suspended for Month and Fined Fifty Dollars—Cases Forwarded to President for Review.

Washington, July 23.—Secretary Root has sent to the president at Oyster Bay the proceedings and findings in the court martial cases of Major Edwin F. Glenn, Fifth Infantry; Lieut. Julian E. Cautot, Tenth cavalry, and Lieut. Norman E. Cook, of the Philippine Scouts. Glenn was found guilty of administering the water cure to natives, or permitting it to be done, and was sentenced to one month's suspension from duty and fined $50. Lieutenant Cook was acquitted on the charge of giving orders to kill three Filipino prisoners. The testimony showed that he had given orders to shoot the prisoners if they attempted to escape. The Filipino scouts, to whom this order was given, thought it meant to shoot the prisoners.

In forwarding the cases to the president the secretary recommends that the sentences and findings be approved, but that no other action shall be taken. It is not believed that the president, who is reviewing authority in these cases, will make any comments such as were delivered by him in the case of General Smith. It is shown in the evidence and reports that Major Glenn has performed excellent service and has done much to pacify the country where he has been in command.

REMAINS LIE IN STATE.

Rome, July 23.—The remains of Cardinal Ledochowski, who died here yesterday, were laid in state this morning in the Chapelle Ardente of the palace of the propaganda, where they were subsequently visited by all the members of the sacred college. The close friends of the deceased and his secretaries, Fathers Vecchia and Zilewski, insisted on personally performing the last offices and arranged the body for burial. The Chapelle Ardente is now open to the public. The Piazza di Spagna, where the palace of the propaganda stands, is crowded with people, including many American pilgrims, eager to obtain admission. Letters and telegrams of regret are pouring in from all quarters. The grief of Poland, Cardinal Ledochowski's native country, amounts to almost a national demonstration, the dead cardinal having been persona non grata to Russia and Germany on account of his advocacy of Polish independence.

FIVE GENERATIONS LIVING.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rollin L. Walker, of 1315 Hoace street, yesterday, and the very youthful miss enjoys the distinction of being the only person in Fort Wayne having a great-great-grandmother. Her arrival makes the fifth living generation of one family, the four preceding generations being represented as follows:

Mrs. Nancy Wiles, Coesse—great-grandmother.
Mrs. Luke Tousey, Coesse—great-grandmother.
Mrs. M. G. Walker, 1315 Hoace street, Fort Wayne—grandmother.
Rollin L. Walker, Fort Wayne, father.

Mrs. Wiles is nearly ninety years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Tousey, is over seventy. Mr. Walker is an employee of the Newspaper Union and is very well known here.

RANCHMEN IN A WAR.

Denver, Col., July 23.—A telephone message received by Mrs. Leonard Sedgewick, at her home here, conveyed the information that upon her husband's sheep ranch near Rock Springs, Wyo., one of the herders had been killed, presumably by infuriated cattle herders. The message also stated that seven thousand sheep had been slain by the same persons. Mrs. Sedgewick says that there is the most intense jealousy between the sheep and cattle men in that district and that often hundreds of cattle and sheep are slaughtered when found roaming upon strange ground.

CARNIVAL COMMITTEE MEETS.

The Fall Festival association held a meeting last evening at its headquarters in the Arcade and continued the formation of the program for the big event which is to occur August 25 to 30. According to the outline the opening day, Monday, is to be civic and military day, Tuesday is children's day, Wednesday fraternity day, Thursday Fort Wayne day and Friday visitors' day. Red, white and blue are the carnival colors, and headquarters are to remain open constantly from this time until the close of the carnival.

L. S. Williams, of 2412 Miner street, was brought home from Louisville last evening, suffering from serious injuries which he sustained last Friday. Mr. Williams was standing near a car loaded with lumber, when one of the timbers fell and struck him on the head. He is in the employ of the Kentucky Veneer Lumber company as inspector.

READY FOR THE BIG FIGHT
JEFFRIES AND FITZSIMMONS IN FINE CONDITION.

Attendance Promises to Tax the Big Arena—The Gladiators Have Finished Training.

San Francisco, July 23.—Everything is now in readiness for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons contest on Friday night and the attendance promises to tax the capacity of the arena. It is not likely that Jeffries will follow his usual routine of exercise from now on. He is at his best and will do just as he pleases. He is particularly partial to sprinting at this stage of the game, as he believes that by footing it over short stretches of highway he gains in speed and strengthens his wind. Jeffries is better natured than he was a week ago. He declares that he feels stronger and better than he ever did before going into any fight and those who have been watching him during his training insist that he is faster than ever.

Fitzsimmons has also tapered off in his work, having passed the point where preliminary exercise will cut any figure. He says that hereafter he will do his boxing in private. After experiencing a temporary boom in betting circles Fitzsimmons' chances have receded in the estimation of speculators until the original odds of 10 to 4 now prevail.

A slight defect in the ring has been found, but it will be remedied before the fight. The heavy timbers which supported the frame work above the ring were found to be rather too close to the ropes. If there was a struggle in any of the four corners there was a possibility of either the heads or the hands of the boxers being injured. To avoid this a rope will cut off one foot of each corner, making the ring octagonal instead of square. The posts will be padded as an extra precaution.

Soldier Tom Wilson, who came from the east to act as Fitzsimmons' sparring partner, but who was shelved in favor of Hank Griffin, will not see the fight. He received orders to join his regiment at Fort Monroe, Va., by July 29 and will leave tonight.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

Trustee Schirmeyer, who with his family has located at Rome City for a month, is in the city today to attend to such duties as require his attention. During his vacation he makes it a rule to come to Fort Wayne twice each week.

County Commissioners Orff and Moody, accompanied by Bridge Superintendent Wiley, went to Scipio township this morning to inspect several bridges. They were taken there by Cheffeur Bostick in his four-wheeled machine and the commotion they created while going through the country at an express-train gait will become a matter of history. Commissioner Moody nailed his hat fast before they started. "They call me a blockhead, anyway," said he, "and I might as well prove it." Commissioner Orff gave a cheap cap to his topknot and Wiley wore nothing but a wet towel on his head.

Ralph McLain, who charged A. A. Martin with having assaulted him because he undertook to take possession of a saloon for which he had partially paid, has not prosecuted his case in Justice Bullerman's court, but has commenced replevin proceedings against Martin to recover $450. The sheriff served the papers today and Martin promptly gave bond and retained possession.

After a day of strenuousness, Judge Aiken again adjourned court last evening and today hid himself to Lake George, where he will remain until next week when another short session of the superior court will be held.

HAD A FORTUNE IN PEARLS
PHILADELPHIA WOMAN WORE $20,000 NECKLACE.

Jewels Taken From Her by Customs Officers as She Landed From the Steamship.

New York, July 23.—As a prominent young society woman of Philadelphia stepped from the steamship Kron Prinz Wilhelm on its arrival here and greeted her husband waiting on the pier, agents of the treasury department interrupted their conversation and took from the woman a pearl necklace reported worth $20,000, which she had purchased in Paris and omitted from her declaration.

A special treasury agent had been in Paris and learned of the purchase of the necklace. He determined to return to New York on the same steamship with the purchaser. He noticed that she had made no mention of the gems in her declaration to the customs officers. He remained near by at the pier and after the traveler had greeted her husband he, with another agent, asked the couple to return to their stateroom. He asked for the necklace and the woman, who wore it around her neck under the dress collar, handed the pearls over.

The latter said, however, he might decide not to pay the duty and return the necklace to the Paris jeweler who sold it to his wife. The woman said she had no intention of evading payment, but wished to consult her husband about the purchase before declaring it to the customs officials.

MEMORIAL OF MR. MCKINLEY.

Baltimore, July 23.—The Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of this city has prepared and will send to Mrs. McKinley a handsome and costly memorial in the form of an engraved set of resolutions adopted by the association on the occasion of President McKinley's death. The memorial is in the form of an album, and is handsomely bound in black coal leather. The volume is ten and one-half inches wide by fourteen and one-half inches long, and is lined with heavy silk. On the cover in gilt letters is the inscription: "In Memory of William McKinley." The book contains ten heavy bristol board pages. In the center of the first page is a well executed picture of the late president, the result of most careful penmanship. To the right is a view of the capitol at Washington, and below the portrait is a picture of the American flag furled, with the coat-of-arms of the state directly beneath it. The other nine pages are devoted to the "resolutions adopted by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association in respect to the memory of William McKinley, president of the United States."

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The Columbia street pavement is now completed with the exception of trimming the curbs and taking out the Bell telephone poles. The city attorney was informed that the company is engaged in putting in a cable to relieve the squeeze between Barr and Clinton streets and that when the cable is strung the poles will be removed. The poles will be cut off at a level with the concrete and the work of putting in the brick will not be great. All this, of course, will be done at the telephone company's expense.

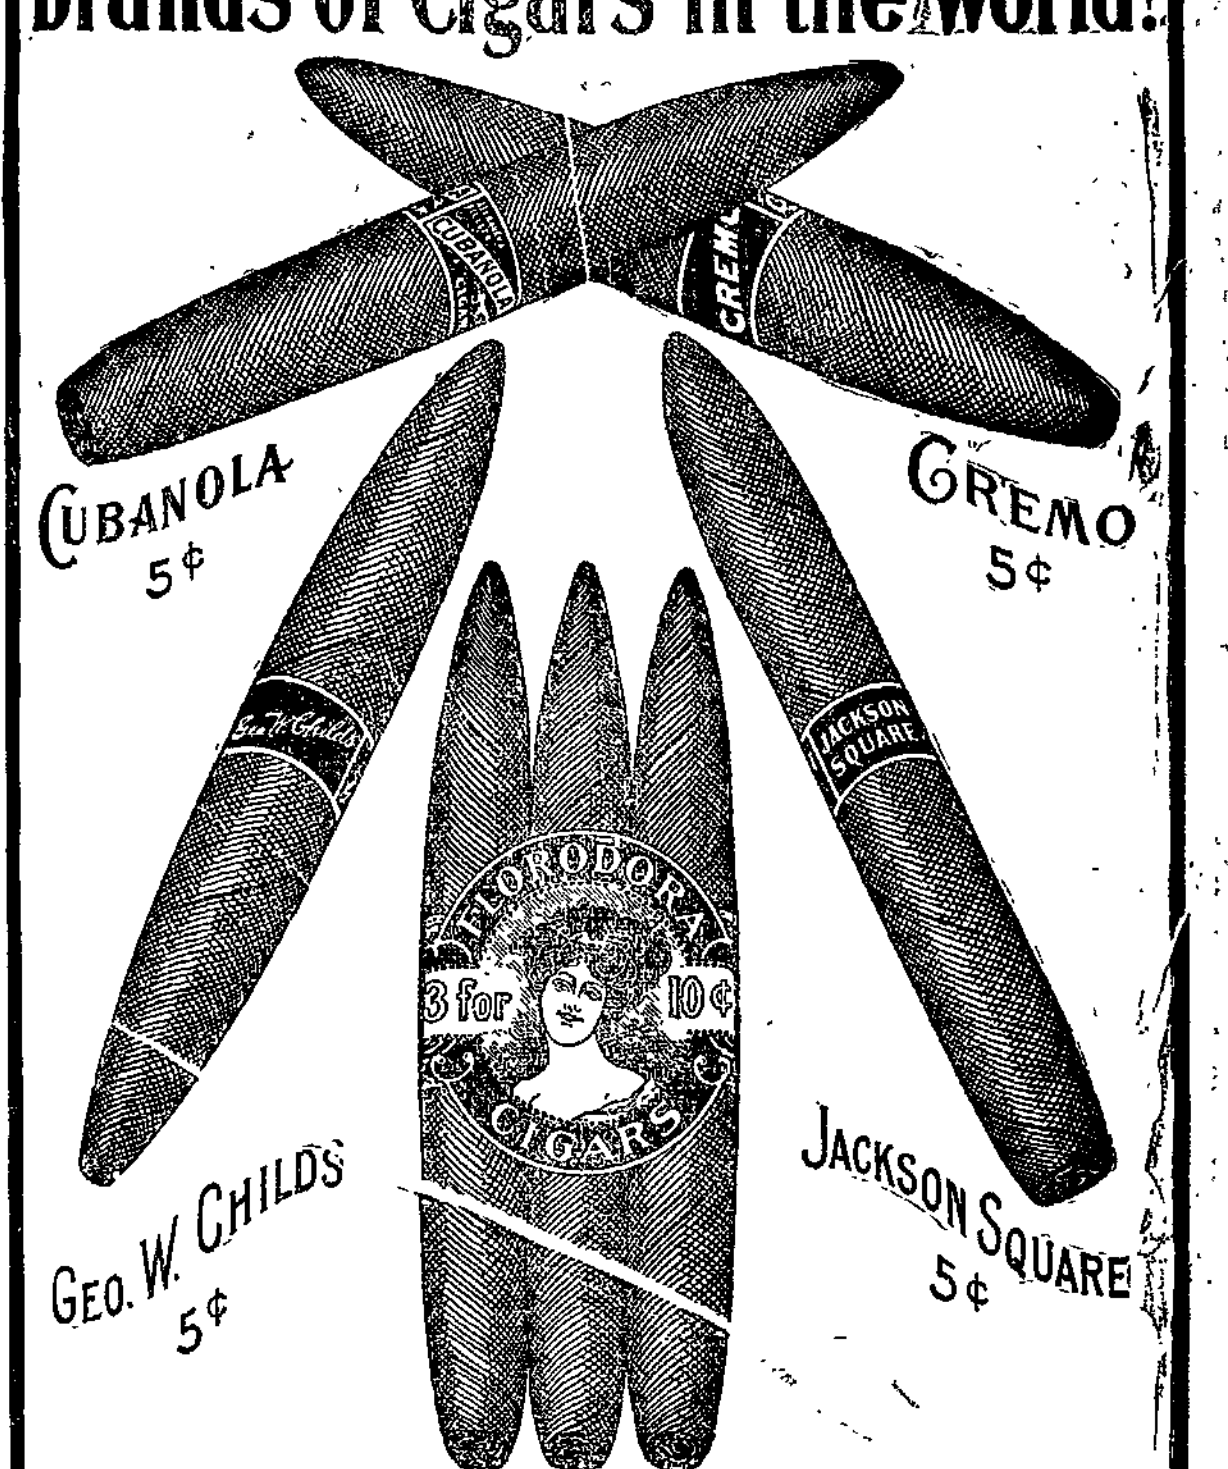

Waterworks Trustee Kaough returned from Cleveland this morning. He says that at the Van Buren street station work is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. There is no reason to anticipate any further trouble with the water supply this year if consums use the same economy as has been exercised during the past six weeks.

BIBLE AS NEWSPAPER SERIAL.

Pana, Ill., July 22.—The bible as a serial story is the undertaking proposed by the Assumption Independent, a weekly newspaper. The publisher announces that he will begin with an installment from Genesis this week and will print additional chapters in each issue until the work is finished. He estimates he will need fifty years to complete the publication.

The editor of the Independent says he has read many of the modern historical romances and that none of them compared with the scriptures for plot, dramatic situations and sustained interest. By breaking off each installment at a critical point in the narrative he expects to arouse curiosity in the succeeding issues and he believes he will not only increase the sales of his paper, but will also secure widespread interest in a work which he declares is grossly neglected in the modern household.

A SMALL EXCURSION.

The Sandusky excursion on the Nickel Plate today was a disappointment to the management, though it might have been worse. There were twenty-two excursionists out of this city and enough picked up en route to make the aggregate 150 when Bellevue was reached. When this trip was planned it was not known that the harvest was going to be as late as it has been, the intention being to have the excursion immediately after all work of this kind had been done. Instead, the backward season brought the excursion right at a time when farmers were very busy, and as a consequence very few of them took it in.

FAST FREIGHT RUN.

A sixteen car stock train, in charge of Conductor Miller, with Engineer Dayton H. Baltzell and Fireman I. N. Shlider in the cab, made the run from Chicago to this city, 143 miles, in five hours and thirty minutes. This includes thirty-five minutes consumed in stops for trains 2, 9 and 11, which deducted leaves the actual running time of the stock train four hours and fifty-five minutes. About a week ago, with Conductor Al Smith and Fireman J. L.
Liggett, Engineer Baltzell brought a twelve car stock train down from Chicago in five hours and thirty minutes, including delays which aggregated eighty minutes, making the actual running time four hours and ten minutes. These runs are very creditable.

lions of dollars have been spent in improvements and betterments within the last five years, and it has a roadbed and equipment that compare favorably with that of competing lines, and it now ranks among the best roads crossing northern Indiana.
It is predicted that the Nickel Plate will now take rank with the best class of roads."

STRIKERS CANNOT RETURN.

General Superintendent A. M.
Schuyler, of the Pennsylvania, is quoted by the Pittsburgh Post as saying that "the men who engaged in the recent strike at the freight houses of the Pennsylvania cannot return to work. Last April we granted the freight men an advance to fifteen cents an hour and on July 1 a second advance of 8 per cent. was allowed.
Despite this concession the men organized and made a demand for eighteen cents an hour. Railroads are willing to consider requests, but in the most part are averse to demands. As far as we can learn the strike has left no ill feeling among the freight men on any part of our system."

MAY MOVE TO VALPO.

Mrs. W. L. Scott and daughter went to Valparaiso this morning to spend a few days with Engineer Scott, who is now running on the Chicago milk train, with headquarters in Valparaiso.
Mr. and Mrs. Scott are considering the advisability of moving to that city and the present visit may result in a decision on that question.

TRAIN SCHEDULE TOO SLOW.

General Passenger Agent E. A.
Ford, of the Pennsylvania, in commenting upon the speed attained at times by the "Pennsylvania Special," which makes the run between New York and Chicago in twenty hours, predicted that two hours would soon be lopped off the running time of this train. His prediction is based upon his knowledge of the time this train can make when required to cover delays and keep within its schedule. A few days since this train made the run from Alliance to Pittsburg, 83.2 miles, in exactly one hour and thirty minutes, an average 55.3 miles per hour for the entire distance. It left Alliance at 8:52 in the evening and after running seven miles it struck a 72-mile-an-hour gait. This speed was attained near Garfield, motwithstanding a stiff up-grade was encountered before reaching that point.
After going around sharp curves east of Salem and up another steep grade near Leetonia, the "Pennsylvania Special" moved along at the rate of 81 miles an hour, making that time near New Waterford. At Enon the pace was 75 miles an hour, and near New Galilee on an up-grade the wheels were grinding out 63 miles an hour. Near Homewood they spun along at a 66-mile-an-hour gait.
After observing slow orders at that point and Kenwood and several other points the train was rushing along at 66 miles an hour at Baden, which was increased to 69 miles an hour at Leetonia. Before Allegheny was reached it was making 78 miles an hour, upon nearing the yards and the outer depot it slowed down and rolled into Pittsburg Union station at 10:22 p. m., just one hour and a half after leaving Alliance, during which the train made up twenty-four minutes on its schedule time, covering the distance at an average speed of 55.3 miles per hour. At that speed the run from Chicago to New York can be made in about sixteen hours.

A PLEASANT EVENT.

Frank Deck, formerly an employe of the Pittsburg copper shop, is sojourning at Rome City and his cottage is a favorite place with the shopmen who visit the resort. Last night
Mr. Deck entertained in honor of J.
J. Lynch and Frank Conners, of the shops, and those who were fortunate enough to be numbered with the guests say they never had a better time. Mr. Lynch returned home this morning and resumed his duties in the shop.

DIRECTORS HOLD MEETING.

Baltimore, July 23.—The regular meeting of the new board of directors of the Western Maryland railroad took place in this city today.
Two new directors were elected, these being A. H. Orlef, of New York, who is treasurer of the Missouri Pacific, and H. C. Deming, of New York. Mr. Deming was selected only to serve in the place of George Gather, of Maryland, who is now in Europe and who will resume his place on the board when he returns.
At today's meeting only routine business was transacted. The subject of establishing a tide water terminal at Baltimore was not discussed.

TO OFFER NEW TUNNEL BILL.

Philadelphia, July 23.—It was officially announced at the office of the Pennsylvania railroad company today that as the New York board of aldermen had rejected the tunnel franchise, a new measure will be presented. It could not be learned, however, whether the company had decided upon the provisions of the new bill, though it is stated the action of the board of aldermen yesterday was anticipated.

President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, is in Bar Harbor, and has made no statement concerning the future action of the company.

It is stated officially, however, that no new appeal will be made to the New York legislature. The last act of the assembly was so amended that the rapid transit commission could not grant a perpetual franchise to the railroad company unless the board of aldermen should have the right to approve or reject the contract, consequently yesterday's action was final in so far as the board of aldermen was concerned.

The railroad company, it is stated, must now deal with the rapid transit commission in perfecting a new bill to be presented to the aldermen.

The published statements that work had been commenced on the New Jersey end of the tunnel are denied. No contracts, it is announced, have as yet been awarded

Spangler, who was visiting in Ohio, shops, has been quite sick for several days.

ting horse will participate in some of the events.

build the Pennsylvania shop additions, spent the day here yesterday directing the work.

Jimmy Donahue, who was taken sick at Rome City Sunday, was able to report for work at the Pittsburg paint shop this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patton have gone to St. Louis for a week's visit with friends. Mr. Patton is employed in the Pittsburg machine shop.

Pittsburg Shopmen J. Moore, A.
Orone, Frank K. Miller and Frank Stenger are sick and off duty and John Edelman is looking after private matters.

Pittsburg, his wife and son, Dent, have returned from Lebanon, where they witnessed the dedication of St.
Rev. Father Crowley's church.

J. Gormall, of the Pittsburg lumber yards, reported for duty this morning after an absence of about a month. He had been spending the time with relatives in St. Louis.

John Haisler, who had a finger hurt last week, also reported for duty this morning. He works in the planing mills.

Machinist F. W. Dorn, of Huntington, was the guest of Fort Wayne friends yesterday.

Machinist Louis Kopp is now an employe of the Western Gas Construction company.

Fireman Bert Flowers, of the Pittsburg, and Miss Lulu Monroe were married last evening at 530 Monroe street, Squire France performing the ceremony.

A boiler was loaded at the Bass shops today for shipment to Gladstone, Mich., where it will be placed in the mining works of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company.

The Pennsylvania, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Wabash are improving their dock facilities at Toledo. The former company will expend $750,000 in that work.

Arle Trier, of the Bass shops, had a foot injured yesterday by a heavy casting turning over upon it. He was taken to his home on Barr street, where he will be confined for some days.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific has deferred the removal of its general offices, located at Topeka, to Kansas City, not being able at present to secure such rooms as are desired.

The little son of Machinist Charles Rosenberger, of the Western Gas Construction company's works, fell off a fence yesterday afternoon and fractured an arm. Dr. A. J. Kessler attended the little sufferer.

Ralph Tonne, a machinist, has been transferred from Ashley to the Wabash shops in this city. Chris.
Arnold, of the Erie shops, has also taken a position here. H. Korte has resigned a position at the Wabash shops.

The rooms of Foreman Harvey
Brown and Ed Plet, at the Bass foundry, are closed today to allow some needed changes on the floors, which cannot be accomplished while the molders are at work. About 150 men are idle today on account of the shut down.

Contractor William Kelley is today delivering the material for a house at the end of the Main street car tracks, near the Lindenwood cemetery entrance. Several lots have been laid out at that point and doubtless a cluster of houses will soon be located there.

H. E. Bennett, who resigned a position in the Wabash shops several weeks ago, is here today, looking after some personal matters. He will go to Lafayette this evening, to look into a position that is open, to him, and to visit his brother, who holds office with the Monon company. Mr.
Bennett called at the Wabash shops
this morning to see his old friends.

M. S. Willson, of the incandescent testing department of the Electric works, and Mrs. Willson went down to Winona this morning to spend the day. Thence Mrs. Willson will go to Grand Forks, N. D., to spend a month with her sons, Harry and Fred, who are in the newspaper business in that city. Mr. Willson will return home this evening.

D. M. DeBurn has resigned his position in the Wabash machine shop and Monday he will take a position with the Fort Wayne and Southwestern, with headquarters in Huntington. Mr. DeBurn is a locomotive engineer and for a number of years was thus employed on the Chicago and Erie road. H. Korte also resigned his position at the Wabash shops. He will return to his father's farm near Woodburn.

Col. J. S. Russell, general counsel of the Pullman company, in speaking of the advances in wages of Pullman car men, said: "The reason the company originated it was that they were willing that they might have a share in the prosperity the company has enjoyed the last two years." As to advance of pay of other employes, he said the company had the matter under advisement, but he did not know what action would be taken.

W. S. Wells, of the Pittsburg machine shop, is the father of the annual athletic day of the Pennsylvania employes. Through his exertions the first events were given four years ago and repeated the following year. Last year the Pennsylvania Employes' Athletic association, a broader organization of the old one,
came into existence and the success of its two events practically assures the perpetuity of the association.

Boiler Foreman B. F. Sarver, of the Pittsburg, is attending a conference of boilermaker foremen in Actoona, which began this morning.
The term of his absence from the city is a matter of considerable doubt.
It is intimated that Mr. Sarver may be required to make a trip over the Pennsylvania lines, in which case he will be gone two or three weeks. In the meantime Assistant Foreman John T. Leach will have charge of the shops.

Motive Power Supt. J. B. Barnes, of the Wabash, left for his home in Springfield, Ill., this morning. Mr.
Barnes spent several days here in looking over the shops. When asked if the company contemplated any more improvements here he said:
"Improvements have been in progress for some months. The company has expended about $35,000 in new machinery for the Fort Wayne shops since last fall. Most of it is in operation, but there are several important machines to be installed yet."

Electrician William Sherbondy went to Chicago on Pennsylvania train 21 this morning.

George L. Fisher, of the Electric lights, lost the end of his left thumb yesterday afternoon by getting it beneath a heavy machine that was being moved. Dr. Calvin was called to attend him.

Local Brakeman George Knecht, of the Nickel Plate, was taken sick en route to Knox yesterday. Brakeman Frank Werling was sent to Knox last night to take the vacant place in the local crew.

Mrs. Jorrod, wife of Pennsylvania Engineer E. A. Jorrod, has gone to Church Roads, Va., to visit Mr. Jor-rod's folks. She also goes in the interest of her health, which has been poor for some weeks.

John Newman and H. L. Walton have taken employment with Foreman P. J. Scheid at the Pittsburg round house. Mr. Walton was employed there once before, resigning about six weeks ago.

Messrs. and Madames Charles H.
Dassler and C. W. Moore will go to Cleveland tomorrow to spend two weeks with relatives. The gentlemen are employed in the paint department of the Pittsburg shops.

Jacob Almer, notice of whose purchase of the Frank M. McLeish gar-chery on East Wayne street was made by The Sentinel a day or two ago, resigned his position as car builder at the east shops in order that he might give the grocery business his undivided attention.

The Lehigh Valley road has just received two of the largest passenger engines ever built. They are designed to haul passenger trains of eighteen cars over the mountains in and out of Wilkesbarre without assistance and are guaranteed to make sixty miles an hour with such trains on level portions of the road.

OUTING AT ROME CITY WAS A
DECIDED SUCCESS.

Coppers Will Realize a Good-Sized Sum from Event—Train
Late Coming Home.

The policeman's excursion to Rome City yesterday was everything that could be hoped for by the most enthusiastic friend of the coppers.
There was not an objectionable feature of any kind, and the weather was just as perfect as though it had been made to order—not too hot; not too cool—just right. Shober's First Regiment orchestra furnished music and the excursionists devoted most of the afternoon and evening to dancing, the dance pavilion being really overcrowded most of the time.

The actors at the ticket office show that 596 adults and 19 half-fare patrons took passage on the several trains. It is estimated that nearly 400 tickets were sold which were not exchanged, which will give the force a proper balance of about $600.

The only disagreeable feature of the day was the failure of the special train to leave Rome City on time.
It was scheduled to leave at 10:30, but it was nearly 11:30 before it pulled out, and the consequent result was that it was 12:30 when the several hundred passengers were unloaded at the south depot. At that hour street cars were not running and the tired excursionists were obliged to walk to respective homes in all parts of the city, some of them with heavy bundles or sleepy babies to carry.

Incidentally it might be remarked that the oft-repeated stories concerning the supercilious dignity of the average railroad clerk must be scurrulous libels. The most affable man in Noble county last night was the right agent at the Rome City office.
He answered the same question, no less than 10,000 times last night and never lost his temper once; he answered good humoredly, didn't seem to get tired, and worked with the accuracy of a slot machine. In fact he did everything that a well-regulated station agent should do, and told in-quirers everything except what the trouble seemed to be and when the train was likely to leave. It was a pleasure to meet him, and if he don't own the road some day it will be because merit and genius sometimes die unrewarded.

BASE BALL.

In the National league Pittsburgh went right along delivering medicine as it passed by and St. Louis got its dose yesterday, although the champions made four errors to support the nine hits made by St. Louis. Brooklyn beat in both games of a double-header with Philadelphia yesterday, and that is about all there was to National league ball yesterday except the attendance, which in three cities aggregated 16,200, which included 8,000 school children admitted free at Chicago. In the American league Mullin won his game against Baltimore, although 11 hits were made off his delivery. All the American league games yesterday were marked by clean fielding, but 8 errors being made in the four games, but the hit column looks like a multiplication table, the eight clubs engaged making a total of 79 hits. The attendance was 11,100. In the American association three games were played to 4,892 people. The leaders won again and Toledo by losing reduced its percentage to .304. If Toledo loses again she will drop below the .300 mark, which will be the record at this stage of a championship race, although New York is giving Toledo a horrible race. The results yesterday are given below:

IN NORTHERN INDIANA.

Island Park assembly at Rome City is in session.

Seventy-six charter members have been secured for a Lodge of Elks at Huntington.

In August, 1895, C. C. Ulery cut his name on a land turtle, three miles east of Goshen, and last week it was found eight miles east of Goshen by Cyrus Steele, with the name still legible.

Deserting his wife and three small children, Oliver Reynolds, 35 years old and formerly a school teacher in Adams county, has fled with pretty Julia Loser, 15 years old, daughter of Jacob Loser, a well-to-do farmer three miles north of Goshen. They have been seen Saturday.

and Reynolds took a large amount of money with him.

Bluffton clerks have organized a union.

The American Girl, a steamer on Lake Wawasee, was partially burned at the Pickwick park dock Monday night.

Mrs. Herman Schultz, of Laporte, who recently shot her husband, has been held to await the action of the grand jury.

Thomas Cumberland, living five miles east of Peru, did not know that his revolver was loaded and now he has a badly injured leg.

Because of the failure to take precautions in the case of John Sullivan, who died at Goshen of diphtheria, the city has been exposed to the disease, and an epidemic is feared.

Fred Huskins, of Kokomo, while walking a few feet in front of Luther Rivers, was shot by Rivers' gun, which was accidentally discharged. The injury is probably fatal.

Blackford county has a farm of 240 acres for the poor asylum and yet it is not making expenses. Only eighty acres of the 240 are tillable. It is figured the balance could be made profitable if the county would engage in the raising of live stock.

Mrs. Isham, 81 years old, living near Michigan City, got lost in a huckleberry marsh and was compelled to spend the night there. She was found next morning, standing in two feet of water, suffering from exposure and greatly bewildered.

During a quarrel over a girl, Frank Myers, of Dunkirk, was shot by Hugh Scott and will die. Both are colored. Myers was found a mile from his home, crawling along the railroad. His wound was of such nature that he could not walk, and he had gone half a mile on his hands and knees.

John J. Miller, a farmer near Silver Lake, Kosciusko county, hitched his team near a large ditch. Crazed by the attacks of myriads of flies and mosquitoes one of the horses became entangled in the harness and fell into the ditch, its head so entangled in the harness that it could not lift it above the level of the water in the ditch. Drowning was the result.

Mrs. Lon Holmes, of Gas City, jumped from a T. & St. L. and W. excursion train at Deatur Tuesday morning, sustaining injuries from which she died an hour later. Mrs. Holmes thought the train was not going to stop at Deatur, and fearing she would be carried by her station, she jumped as the depot was passed. She was thrown backward, her head striking a railroad tie, crushing the skull.

Miss Lizzie Davis, of Plymouth, was shot Monday night by a Bourbon young man named Baird, one bullet lodging in her breast, the other in her arm. The wounds are dangerous. Baird was engaged to a Miss Lane, but she broke the engagement. When Baird called later to talk the matter over he was informed the young lady was not at home. He waited, and when Miss Davis approached with her brother Baird thought it was his former sweetheart and fired. Baird made his escape.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 23.—Wheat opened a trifle firmer on slightly improved cables and on the bullish government crop report. There were some rains southwest, but stuff was offered generously and prices at once fell off. September opened unchanged to 1/8c up at 72 3/4c to 73 1/4c and dipped to 72 1/4c. The grading in the new wheat continued so poor that July options held steady at 77c and later influenced September to steady near 73 1/4c. Local receipts were 202 cars, 10 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 289 cars, making a total for the three points of 491 cars against 340 last week and 423 a year ago.

Prospects of rain and manipulation of September options kept wheat up and sent September to 72 3/4c, September closing firm 1/8c up at 72 3/4c.

Although receipts of corn fell somewhat and grading continued poor the good crop reports influenced a dip in corn. September opened a shade to 1/4c down at 61 1/4c to 61 3/4c and eased to 61 1/4c. Offerings on the decline were not large and September rallied to 61 3/4c. July was not traded in during the first hour. Receipts were 127 cars 31 of contract grade. September corn: sold at 61 1/4c to 61 3/4c, but there was little business and that option closed weak 1/4c lower at 61 1/4c.

Indifferent trade in oats together with good weather and crop reports caused lower prices in the oats pit. September opened 1/8c to 3/4c down at 34 1/4c to 34c, dipped to 33 3/4c to 34c, but as offerings dried up rallied to a steadier position near 34 1/4c. Receipts were only 71 cars, 15 of contract grade. July was not traded in during the first hour.

Liberal hog receipts and lower stock yard prices together with offerings in pork caused an easy opening in provisions. Shorts, however, were taking some of yesterday's paper profits and there was a fair demand in lard. These influences started prices up, but only a partial reaction from yesterday's severe slump was recorded. September pork opened 5c down to 5c up at $17.25 to $17.30, sold at $17.45 and steadied near $17.37 1/2. September lard opened 2 1/2c lower to 2 1/2c higher at $10.50 to $10.55 and held to $10.57 1/2. September ribs opened unchanged at $10.25 and gained 7 1/2c.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 23.—There was a large opening demand at slight sharp fractional advances for New York Central, Atchafson and Amalgamated Copper and good gains were scored also by Kansas and Texas, Canadian Pacific, Southern Railway and Sugar. In the general list gains of a moderate fraction were the rule, but there were a few slight declines. Erie second preferred lost a point.

Yesterday's late advance brought realizing orders in Amalgamated and the stock yielded a point below the opening. The soft coal stocks also fell away and Brooklyn Transit was quite heavy. At other points there were good gains, Sugar, the Kansas and Texas stocks, St. Louis Southwestern preferred, New York Central, Atchafson, Canadian Pacific, Southern Railway, Evansville and Terre Haute, Detroit United Railway and the Denver and Rio Grande stocks advancing 1 to 2 1/2. Rock Island opened a fraction off and rallied 3 1/4 to 189 1/4. Some of the less active stocks were under pressure, Denver Southwestern yielding a point. Transcontinental stocks were feverish until Union Pacific was rushed up to 109 1/2, causing a moderate improvement in the others. Large orders for St. Paul, Southern Pacific and Canadian Pacific advanced them from 1 to over 2 points, but their strength was utilized to realize elsewhere. Sugar, Rock Island and New York Central reacted a point and Atchafson and Reading large fractions. Norfolk and Western preferred gained 4 points, but the other soft coal stocks, United States Steel and the tractions were weak, Brooklyn Transit losing 1 1/4. Metropolitan Securities company receipts rose 5 points and Northern Central jumped 10 points on one transaction. The announcement of additional gold exports caused the whole market to react. Bonds were irregular at noon.

LATEST FASHION NOTES.

AN EFFECTIVE EVENING TOILETTE.

Many of the evening frocks are as capable of development in mercerized mull, or cotton grenadine, for warm weather wear, as in the more costly chiffons and crepe de chine, which go to make up the original models, intended for the ball room. This gown might be charmingly reproduced in pale green silk mull. This material must not be confused with mouseline de soie, or silk muslin, this being all silk and requiring a silk foundation, while silk mull is silk one way, cotton the other, and does very well over a lawn slip exactly matching in color. This frock shows quite a new effect on the skirt by means of the unusual arrangement of the tucks, stitched with green Corticelli sewing silk. The flounce heading rises to a point in front and slopes downward at the back. Edging the flounce and the groups of tucks are placed rows of ecru applique, which is also used to define a bolero of plain material on the tucked blouse. The pretty sleeve and shoulder-knots are of velvet ribbon.

ROBBED OF SECURITIES.

St. Louis, July 23.—G. W. McElhinney, who reached here from his home at Guanajuato, Mexico, en route to New York city, was robbed at the Union station of a valise containing money, deeds and shares of the mining property in old Mexico valued at from $125,000 to $200,000. According to McElhinney the stocks are not negotiable. He postponed his departure for the east in the hope that the local police might locate the stolen property.

IS SON OF A FAMOUS SOLDIER

DR. A. BARON VON MANTEUFFEL IN THE CITY.

His Father Was Next in Rank to Von Moltke in Famous Franco-Prussian Conflict.

Among the visitors in Fort Wayne yesterday was a young German of rank, member of a wealthy Prussian family and a son of one of the really great generals of the Franco-Prussian war—General von Manteuffel, who was next in command to the famous von Moltke in that conflict.

It was Dr. A. Baron von Manteuffel. The young man is but twenty-eight years of age and has been a resident of America several years. His wife was an American girl, who died a short time ago in Colorado, whither they had gone in the hope of benefiting her health, and the young man is now en route eastward. He expects to return to Germany, where the family has extensive estates. The father, General von Manteuffel, was in command of cavalry in the Franco-Prussian war and died at Carlsbad in 1885.

Since his residence in America the son has become largely interested in gas matters and was for a time associated with the Messrs. Dieterich, New York owners of the Fort Wayne Gas company. En route eastward Baron Manteuffel stopped in Fort Wayne for a brief visit, calling upon the local gas company officials and paying a visit to the works of the Western Gas Construction company. The young nobleman was entertained at dinner by President O. L. Guildlin, of that company, and shortly after left for New York.

BATTLE WITH AN EAGLE.

Baltimore, July 23.—Silas Bennett, of Baltimore county, had a fierce battle with an eagle this morning near Gardenville, and as a result Mr. Bennett now bears several bad lacerations on the hands and face, which were made by the bird's talons. When Bennett first saw the bird on the ground in the field he thought it would take flight as he approached to where it was, but this was not the case. As soon as he made a pass at it with a club the eagle flew at him and for fully ten minutes there was a terrific battle on between the man and the large bird. Bennett finally

The continuation of the Pink-Boehm case is being gone through with in Justice France's court this afternoon.

Joe Gray was arrested yesterday for assault and battery on Minnie Meyers. This morning he entered a plea of guilty in France's court and was fined, the fine being paid. For some unaccountable reason the fact of the arrest and the entire proceedings were endeavored to be kept out of public notice and the reporters were rather ungenerously held up.

Elmore Hill has filed an affidavit against her husband, Edwin Hill, charging him with desertion. He was formerly a preacher, but is now driving a milk wagon for the Mondamin Meadows dairy. The couple at one time lived in Marion township and have had previous trouble, which was aired at the time in the local courts.

Justice France last evening married Bent Flowers and Lulu Monroe, at the residence of the bride's parents, at 230 Murray street. The most notable incident of the ceremony was the presentation to the bride of a bunch of handsome roses. Mr. Flowers, the groom, made the presentation and said that he presumed she would now have all the flowers she could take care of.

This evening Justice Bullermann is back to hear the charges against Charles Hunt, alleging that he sold liquor to minors, and another that he allowed minors to loiter in his place. The prosecution will be very vigorous.

Martha Bucher has filed an affidavit charging Arthur Funk with having assaulted her adopted boy, Edward Bell. Justice Bullermann will hear the testimony.

MISSING SCHOOL TEACHERS ACCOUNTED FOR.

KILLED BY LADRONES IN CEBU

BODIES OF FOUR OF THEM ARE RECOVERED.

MISSING SINCE JUNE 10

LEADER OF THE MURDERERS IS KILLED.

Washington, July 23.—The war department today received the following telegram regarding the school teachers who have been missing from Cebu since June 10th:

"John E. Wells, 209 Montgomery avenue, Providence, R. I., and his cousin, Louis A. Thomas, same address; Ernst Heger, 1413 Vine street, Cincinnati, Ohio; Clyde A. France, Berea, Ohio, missing, Cebu, murdered by Ladrones, bodies recovered. Leader murderers killed; eight others captured by the constabulary."

LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS UP.

Vincennes, Ind., July 23.—Engineer John Conathy, of Washington, and Fireman Michael Master, of this city, were killed yesterday by a terrible boiler explosion of their engine on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern freight train, No. 34, while running forty miles an hour, near Claremont, west of this place. Both leave families. Twelve cars of merchandise were dinged and burned by the wreck. The loss will reach $12,000. The accident was most singular in railroad annals.

The trainmen are unable to give any accurate description of the explosion. The train was making fast time on an easy grade and the dead engine evidently had no warning of the disaster. A brakeman saw them a few minutes before the accident. At that time Conathy sat, as usual, on the right side of the cab and the fireman was busy feeding the boiler. The explosion threw parts of the engine in all directions and the speeding cars piled upon and over the debris, the whole mass catching fire immediately and burning rapidly. The engine men evidently died instantly, apparently having been killed by the force of the explosion and being lifeless before their bodies were pinned under the wreckage.

CADETS AS FIRE FIGHTERS.

Annapolis, Md., July 23.—A fire that broke out in the heart of Annapolis at 3 o'clock this morning destroyed nine buildings, including St. Martin's German Lutheran church and the large general store of E. J. Jewell, and caused a loss estimated at $50,000.

The blaze started in the confectionery store of B. Wiegand in State Circle. An overheated bake oven is supposed to have been the cause. The dwelling of Edward McCusker was burned and Bood's restaurant and the office of the United States express company were damaged. Two hundred marine guards from the naval academy did effective work as a bucket brigade. The ancient state house was not damaged. The fire was extinguished within an hour after its discovery.

Baltimore, July 23.—A gasoline stove exploded at Pisto, Md., today in the home of W. H. Feathers. The house was consumed and two children, 6 and 4 years of age, burned to death. Mrs. Feathers barely escaped with her life and her young baby was seriously burned.

KING IS FED BY SCHEDULE

EDWARD'S DIET UNDER STRICT SUPERVISION.

His Majesty Submits Good-Naturedly to the Severe Regime—Royal Yacht to Cruise.

London, July 23.—King Edward today enjoyed the improved weather at Cowes, Isle of Wight. He spent the forenoon in an invalid chair on the open deck. He is still under the most strict supervision. The patient's diet menu is signed daily by one or the other of the royal physicians before it is submitted to the king, who submits good-naturedly to the somewhat severe regime. There is every indication of his majesty's continued progress towards complete convalescence. Weather permitting, the royal yacht will probably go on a short cruise tomorrow.

Truth says that Emperor William's visit to King Edward will be brief and strictly private. The German emperor sailing from Kiel on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern August 2 and remaining at Cowes through the regatta week, when his schooner yacht Meteor III. will compete for the king's cup.

WILL RESTRAIN A UNION.

Newark, N. J., July 23.—Vice Chancellor Emery today granted a rule to show cause, returnable on Tuesday next, why an injunction should not be issued restraining Journeymen Plumbers' Union No. 24 and Walking Delegate William E. Ryan from interfering with the business of Charles F. McGuire, a master plumber, by continuing to call out members of the organization employed by him. McGuire claims that the union has called out several of his men during the past two months in retaliation for his refusal to reinstate another employee who had quit work because of McGuire's refusal to discharge an apprentice.

MACKEY'S PLANS TO GO ON.

London, July 23.—George G. Ward, the vice president and general manager of the Commercial Cable company, was asked today by a representative of the Associated Press what effect the death of John W. Mackay would have on the business of the company. He replied: "I do not know who will succeed Mr. Mackay as president. That is entirely in the hands of the board of directors. You can say, however, that there will be no change of policy. The progress of the company and particularly Mr. Mackay's plans will be faithfully carried out. The contracts for the Pacific cable have been let and the enterprise will proceed precisely as though Mr. Mackay's death had not occurred."

CASH ROLLING IN

MINERS' STRIKE FUND HAS A LARGE ADDITION.

ILLINOIS MEN SEND $50,000 AGGREGATE OF $100,000 IN A MONTH FROM THEM.

SINGLE SUBSCRIPTIONS OF $1,000 ARE RECEIVED.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—Secretary Wilson, of the United Mine Workers, today received a check for $50,000 for the strike fund from the Illinois organization. This was forwarded by him immediately to the anthracite field.

The Illinois miners have, within four weeks, given the national organization $100,000 for strike funds, and still have nearly half a million in reserve.

This donation, it is said, is the largest ever received for a strike. Wilson has received notice from individuals of checks for as much as $1,000 that are now on their way to headquarters, indicating that the appeal to the public for funds has been effective.

Secretary Wilson says no attempt will be made to pay the anthracite strikers stipulated sums of money. "Our intention," said he, "is not to pay regular benefits, but merely to take care of the strikers and their families."

It is believed the miners will not attempt to keep bituminous coal out of the anthracite markets except as a last resort. The officials will not talk about it now, but it is understood that this was fully considered the night the committee discussed Mitchell's recommendations and that it has been left largely to the discretion of Mitchell and Wilson as to what shall be done.

President Mitchell left this afternoon for Chicago and he will go from there to Wilkesbarre.

ARGUING EXTRADITION CASE

TESTIMONY IN RILEY-JULIAN CASE ALL SUBMITTED.

The taking of testimony tending to show that neither John Julian nor John Riley could have been in Canada at the time they are suspected of having committed burglaries there in 1900 was completed before Commissioner Logan in the federal court this afternoon, and the attorneys took up the argument of the case. It is not known how much time will be required on the case, but it is not regarded as probable that a decision will be rendered today on the question of extradition of the two men.

To offset the positive identification of the men by Canadian witnesses, there has been a long list of witnesses from Bluffton who testified just as positively in support of the alibi set up by the accused men, and the case is a most perplexing one. For Julian today testimony was given by Isaac Reiser, C. D. Kyle, ex-Sheriff Higgins, Louis DeHaven, Eli Halford, Mrs. Julian, her son and a brother of the accused man. The evidence of several witnesses was to the effect that during the entire fall of 1900 Julian was not away from Bluffton for any length of time save on one occasion when, with his family, he was visiting in Ohio. It was also shown that on December 24, of that year, when one of the Canadian robberies is alleged to have occurred, Julian was conducting a turkey raffle in a saloon at Bluffton. Other witnesses Tuesday contributed largely toward the testimony by which it is hoped by the defendant to prove an alibi.

Several witnesses for Riley, also tending to prove an alibi, were heard today. Among them were Christian Maples, his father-in-law, Sanford Millington, a junk dealer, Jesse Metts, Joseph Whaley and Mrs. Riley. Riley himself took the stand this afternoon. Judge Mock was also a witness for Riley, who was living in one of his (Mock's) houses in 1900, and a letter written by Judge Mock on November 9, 1900, threatening Riley with ejectment unless he paid his rent was produced in court as evidence.

Attorney Lafollette reached the city last evening, and has been chief counsel for the Canadian government in the hearing today. The case is a very interesting one, and has been largely attended by attorneys other than those directly concerned in the hearing.

WILL GO TO WABASH.

Pathfinder lodge No. 19 will go to Wabash over the Fort Wayne and Southwestern next Friday evening, leaving the city at 5 o'clock, and returning leave Wabash at midnight. The Fort Wayne and Southwestern is not completed all the way to Wabash, but arrangements have been made with the Big Four road to meet the excursionists at the end of the electric road and take them to Wabash. It is expected that about 200 Pathfinders will take in the excursion.

AUBURN BOYS IN TROUBLE

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY STORE AT ALTONA.

Were Arrested Last Evening at Laotto—Deputy United States Marshal is Summoned.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Garrett, Ind., July 23.—Monday night Maggart's general store at Altona, a little village one mile west of this city, was entered by burglars and a varied assortment of plunder taken, aggregating about $50 in value. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear window and the stuff stolen included $5 or $6 in pennies from the cash drawer, some knives, a lot of hosiery, handkerchiefs and other notions.

Suspicion was directed toward four young Auburn boys, all of them under twenty-one years of age, and Marshal Freese, of this city, in company with a number of deputies, took up the search for the suspected lads. At Laotto Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock Marshal Freese and his men arrested Lewis E. Clark, John Blaney, C. J. Marsh and W. L. Watt, all of Auburn.

Three of them were taken without resistance, but Blaney started to run. Deputy Joseph Leeson fired two shots from his revolver in the air. This had the effect of stopping Blaney and he surrendered without further ado. The four lads were brought to Garrett and lodged in jail to await a hearing this afternoon. The post-office at Altona is located in the Maggart store building, but it is not believed that any of the government property was molested.

Shortly before noon today United States Commissioner Logan received a telegram from Garrett to the effect that the postoffice at Altona had been robbed and that four young fellows were under arrest at Garrett for the crime. Assistant United States Attorney Lafollette is in the city and a telegram was at once sent to Indianapolis asking that a marshal be sent to Garrett to look after the case. Mr. Lafollette will remain over and if the charge of robbing the postoffice is made against the lads they will be brought to Fort Wayne for a hearing before the commissioner.

EXPECT FRESH TROUBLE.

Paris, July 23.—There is every prospect of fresh disturbances today as a sequel to yesterday's clerical outbreaks as protests against the government's enforcement of the law against unauthorized congregations. It now appears that three hundred persons were arrested and numerous prosecutions are pending, though the majority of the prisoners were released. Fresh meetings to protest in favor of the religious orders are expected to be held today, while the radical and socialist papers are urging the republicans to meet at the Pantheon as a counter-demonstration.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO ELECT.

The board of directors of the Fort Wayne Commercial club will meet at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the club rooms to elect a president, secretary and treasurer for the ensuing year. The directors feel very gratified at the prospects for next year, which promise much for Fort Wayne's growth, and there is more than ordinary interest manifest in the affairs of the club.

INJURED HIS ANKLE.

While leaving his residence, on West Wayne street, Tuesday afternoon C. F. Pfeiffer tripped upon a step, falling in such a manner as to severely sprain his right ankle. He will be confined to the house for some time.

SESSIONS CLOSE

WALTHER LEAGUE CONVENTION IS OVER.

OFFICERS CHOSEN TODAY PRESIDENT HOHNBEHN, OF CLEVELAND, RE-ELECTED.

BIG GATHERING AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH TONIGHT.

The sessions of the Walther League of the United States, which began Sunday evening at Zion's Lutheran church, concluded this afternoon, and while quite a number of the delegates will remain over Thursday to participate in the social session at Robinson park tomorrow, many will leave for their homes this evening. The convention of 1902 has been the largest in the history of the Walther League and in some respects the most important on account of the final settlement of a number of important questions.

The principal business of this morning's session, which was opened with a prayer by Rev. C. H. Luehr, of Zion's church, was the election of officers. Owing to the abolishment of the dues, decided upon yesterday, the office of financial secretary, held by W. C. Bode, of this city, was done away with.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Louis Hohnbehn, of Cleveland, O.
Recording Secretary—Ed. M. E. Gross, Fort Wayne.
Corresponding Secretary—Prof. M. Dippman, Milwaukee.
Treasurer—R. E. Brauenlich, Buffalo, N. Y.

The officers of the league today denied the report that the lady delegates were working to have one of their number elected to a national office. The constitution of the Walther League provides that no woman can hold such an office.

The committee appointed to revise the books of the financial secretary and treasurer reported that the books were in perfect order. President Hohnbehn appointed the following committees: On membership, H. F. Wells, John Partenfeller and Herman Landeck, all of Milwaukee; on entertainment, H. W. Nobis, J. Drews and A. Walker, of Cleveland; on buttons, A. Kramer and Gottlieb Strieder, of this city.

SOCIETIES WITHDRAW.

The following societies presented notices of withdrawal from the national body: Deiance, O.; Christ's church and St. Luke's societies, of Cleveland; St. Andrews, of Buffalo. The reasons given for withdrawal are that the above mentioned societies are opposed to membership fees, and as the fees have been abolished, the presidents of the two districts were instructed to endeavor to have the societies reconsider their resignations.

This afternoon's session was devoted to the consideration of unfinished business and the discussion of a number of questions of minor importance. The final adjournment was made shortly after 4 o'clock.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

It was definitely decided yesterday afternoon to do away with the payment of dues to support the league, although the matter was not settled without considerable debate. It was also decided to hold annual meetings, both matters being placed in the hands of a committee for settlement. The convention decided to donate all collections received during the coming year for the support of theological students in the Missouri synod. All money collected from the leagues for the Walther Luther Monument association will be refunded and the amusement committee will return to the leagues all books it has received.

The society at Mishawaka was stricken from the rolls, having failed to make formal application for membership. The society at Goshen will take the matter up and will endeavor to form a new society in Mishawaka, affiliated with the national body. The Buffalo district will be divided into two districts to be known as the east and west.

An important point decided yesterday was the granting permission to the English members to form separate districts in the league. This permission is granted with the understanding that they remain affiliated with the national body.

Rev. Bruno K. Poch, pastor of a German church in London, gave a lecture on missionary work in that city. It was decided to donate the money taken at the opening collection for mission work in London.

Prof. J. H. Ungemach has been asked to arrange the Walther League chorus for mixed and female choirs. BIG RALLY TONIGHT.

The closing rally of the Walther league convention will be held this evening in St. Paul's church on Barr street, and the program as outlined in last evening's Sentinel will be carried out.

SHOT IN THE NECK.

A four-year-old son of John W. Rohde, of 3202 South Broadway, was shot in the neck Monday evening by a bullet from a 22-caliber target rifle. The lad was crowding the commons in that section of the city when the shot was fired. A physician cut the bullet from the lad's neck, and while his wound is painful, it is not serious. Yesterday Detective Colling took possession of a 22-caliber Colt's rifle at the home of Harry Stolitz, of Organ avenue. The bullet cut from the neck of the boy fits the rifle perfectly. Stolitz has been complained of by neighbors for shooting about there. The bullet did not glance, but struck the lad direct, for it is not at all battered. Stolitz was not at home when the officer called.

NEW HOME FOR DAILY NEWS

NEWSPAPER COMPANY LEASES Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Possession Is to Be Given September 1—Prudential Has Not Yet Chosen Quarters.

The Fort Wayne Daily News company has just closed a lease with the White estate for the occupancy of the city Y. M. C. A. building on Calhoun street, between Wayne and Washington, and from and after September 1 the Daily News will be printed from its new home in that building.

The lease is said to be for a long term of years, and includes the entire building with the exception of the top floor, now in use as a bowling alley. The Prudential insurance company now occupies the front portion of the main floor, and Superintendent Best stated this morning that their lease extended until February next. He had as yet made no selection of future quarters for the insurance company. With the exception of the portions used by the Prudential and the bowling alley the building will be surrendered to the Daily News company on September 1.

BUT ONE NEW OFFICER NAMED

W. E. DOUD IN DIRECTORATE OF ALLEN COUNTY LOAN.

He Succeeds C. H. Newton, Now of Toledo—Fine Showing at the Annual Meeting.

But one change in the official roster of the Allen County Loan and Savings association was made by stockholders at the annual meeting of the organization, which has just been held. W. E. Doud, the real estate man, was elected a member of the board of directors to succeed C. H. Newton, who retired for the reason that he is no longer a resident of this city, and could give the duties of the office no personal attention.

The board of directors as it is now constituted is made up of C. S. Bash, Gottlieb Haller, H. A. Keplinger, C. W. Orr, F. L. Jones, O. N. Heston, Julius Nathan, Herman Michael, F. V. Culbertson, E. W. Cook and W. E. Doud. Mr. Haller is president. Mr. Orr vice president. Mr. Keplinger treasurer, Mr. Heaton attorney and Mr. Cook secretary.

The board of managers is composed of Mr. Haller, Mr. Keplinger, Mr. Cook, Mr. Orr, Mr. Heaton, Mr. Jones and Mr. Nathan. Mr. Michael is appraiser. The reports presented at the annual meeting show the association in a very prosperous condition, and the future outlook is regarded as most encouraging.

WILL OPEN TONIGHT.

The Island Park assembly at Rome City will open this evening with a grand concert in the pavilion by assembly musical talent. There will be numbers by the assembly orchestra and vocal numbers by several soloists, together with an opening address by one of the officers of the assembly. Tomorrow Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, the hero of the Merrimack, will lecture. There will also be a Pythian rally tomorrow.

NO ONE ACCUSED

CORONER'S JURY FINDS IN LATIMER CASE.

SIMPLY SAY MAN WAS SHOT

LATIMER KILLED DETECTIVE TO SHADOW TUTTILL.

SAW HIM MEET MRS. LATIMER

DETECTIVE DID NOT GIVE HIS BEST TESTIMONY.

New York, July 23.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death of Albert C. Latimer, who died from a pistol shot inflicted at his home in Brooklyn on the morning of July 3, today brought in a verdict declaring that Latimer was killed by a pistol shot wound, but making no accusation against any one. Some of the testimony has tended to show that W. E. Tutthill, a neighbor, was intimate with Mrs. Latimer, and it had been inferred the officers were developing the theory that he might have been Latimer's slayer.

HE SHADOWED TUTTILL.

Harry J. Parker, an insurance adjuster, who worked also as a private detective, was the first witness today. Parker testified that on May 1 this year Latimer visited him and employed him.

"Why did Albert C. Latimer visit you?" asked District Attorney Clarke.

"He told me he wanted to get evidence against his wife for unfaithfulness with a man whose name was given by Mr. Latimer as Tutthill," Parker replied. "On May 2 of this year I went with Mr. Latimer to Tutthill's residence in Vanderbilt avenue, and there I was told by Mr. Latimer that it was Tutthill's house and I was to keep a watch on it and report Tutthill's movements to him. On May 4 I saw Tutthill go to Latimer's house at about 8:30 or 9 o'clock. Latimer was accompanied by a woman as late as 6:30 or 7 o'clock."

Parker testified that on one occasion Tutthill went to see Mrs. Latimer at her home and remained there until the middle of the afternoon.

HINTS AT SUBMERSION.

"I have had no conversation with this witness, but I understand that he can testify that the deceased told him that in case of his death he would know who killed him, mentioning the names of two persons. Now, this is hearsay and not admissible under the laws of evidence. It seems to me that if this declaration is to be introduced now it would be illegal, contemptible and cruel. As far as I am concerned, I don't purpose asking this man to make that declaration."

Maggie Fitzgerald, a servant employed in a house near Latimer's, said that after the shooting she saw a man she thought was Latimer go to a window and call for help. This witness also testified that about the time the police arrived she saw a man on the roof of the Latimer house.

The case was then given to the jury, which brought in a verdict declaring that Latimer was killed by a pistol shot wound. No accusation against any one was made by the jury.

RARE-ZUBER.

Miss Frances C. Zuber and Albert W. Bars were united in marriage this morning at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, Jacob Zuber, at 3331 Ramsey avenue, Rev. J. W. Lake, pastor of Calvary U. B. church, officiating. Only a few invited friends witnessed the ceremony. After the wedding the guests set down to a wedding breakfast and later Mr. and Mrs. Bars went to their new home at 102 Wheeler street. The bride is a daughter of Jacob J. Zuber, of this city, and the groom is a son of George W. Bars, living west of town. Mr. Bars recently returned from the Philippine islands, where he served three years in company C, of the Fifth infantry.

Those ladrones in Luzon seem to have heard of one Mr. Tracy. Anyway, they broke through the cordon in Cavite just when the grand roundup seemed to promise a good bag of game.

Every legal means should be invoked to put out of business the saloonkeeper who sells liquor to a boy. The law is ample, but the means of getting it enforced seem to be shockingly incapable or warped badly to the wrong side of the issue.

M. Santos-Dumont says with $1,000,000 he can construct an airship that will cross the Atlantic ocean in two days. M. Santos-Dumont's success in aerial navigation make a tolerably good balometer for his claim, and with his genius and willingness untried on the ground there does not seem to be wanting to the combination any factor save the million. If John W. Gann could only be convinced the Brazilian sky-sailor is bluffing it is probable the money would also be in sight.

Colonel Gutzburg, just returned from the Philippines, says the water cure is humane and in all respects to be commended. Major Glenn, who has just been convicted on charges of administering the water cure and permitting it to be done, is sentenced to one month's suspension from duty and to pay a fine of $50. Secretary Root approves the findings of the court-martial. From this it would appear that Colonel Gutzburg is likely to discover there is both latitude and longitude between the views as to the water cure and those prevailing in the war department.

partment at Washington. Colonel Gutzburg's attack of jaundice seems likely to get him upon the carpet in the war department.

The National Federation of Millers is whetting a knife with which it hopes to lift the scalp of one David Bremner Henderson, representative in congress from the Third Iowa district and speaker of the national house of representatives. The particular grievance is that as speaker Mr. Henderson caused defeat of the London dock charge clause in a bill designed to relieve American shippers from certain extortions. A. Colonel Henderson has a solid margin of about twelve thousand votes to go on in the Third Iowa district but not that this matter much to him not even to his pillow.

Senator Pettigrew says Mr. Bryan will play a strong hand in fixing the policy of the democratic party in the next campaign, else Mr. Bryan will be found in the new political party which the former Dakota senator and others are about to launch. Mr. Bryan's friends, and the host numbers millions, will not believe, even upon the word of Senator Pettigrew, that the Nebraska leader has purpose to pursue any such rule or ruin game as that. Mr. Bryan has in two campaigns had the most loyal support of the democratic masses and there is not in the country today any man in any political party who have strong a hold on so large a personal and devoted following as Mr. Bryan. But they are attached to Mr. Bryan by ties of democracy. If Mr. Bryan ceases to be a democrat, he will in the same moment cease to be the leader he now is. There may be differences as to party policy, as to making of issues, as to choice of candidates, as to qualifications for leadership, as to tests of loyalty, and all that, but in the masses of the party there is little difference as to Mr. Bryan. He is admired and trusted for his honesty, courage and ability. But not so many are in accord with Mr. Bryan's views as formerly, though he has suffered no loss of esteem or affection. Mr. Bryan will speak in Boston tomorrow and doubtless will take occasion to define more distinctly his notion of what is expedient.

ONE KILLED; TWO INJURED.

Ravenna, Ohio, July 23.—One man was killed and two injured by the explosion of the boiler of a locomotive attached to a westbound freight train on the Pittsburgh and Western branch of the Baltimore and Ohio road here early today. James Barnes, engineer, Akron Junction, Ohio, was killed, and C. H. Cabban, fireman, Shelby Junction, Ohio and C. M. Jones, brakeman, Chicago Junction, Ohio, were badly bruised.

A WORLD'S RECORD

FOR 1,000 MILES BROKEN BY FORT WAYNE BIRD.

ARRIVED HOME THIS MORNING

HOMING PIGEON COVERS DISTANCE IN 105 HOURS.

LOWERS RECORD 37 HOURS

FREED AT ABILENE, TEXAS, JULY 12, AT 5:45 A. M.

The first two birds of the flock of fourteen homing pigeons which were liberated at Abilene, Texas, last Tuesday morning reached Ft. Wayne shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, having flown the 1,000 miles between Abilene and Fort Wayne in 9 days, 3 hours, 5 minutes and 39 seconds and lowering the world's record for 1,000 miles by nearly a day and a half.

The first bird to arrive belonged to Henry Beach, president of the Fort Wayne Homing club, and a bird belonging to Dr. Carl Schilling arrived less than five minutes afterward. The birds had been in nearly half an hour before it was known they had arrived, but in accordance with the rules governing a pigeon race, the time was reckoned from the time the arrival of the birds is noted.

Mr. Beach, who lives at 2,013 Lafayette street, first became aware of the return of his bird by hearing a great commotion in his pigeon loft, and upon investigation found the pigeon engaged in a duel to the death with another bird who had alienated the affections of his mate. The stay-at-home bird had not only "cut out" the other, but had pre-empted his nest box, hence the fight. The homer had decidedly the best of the argument, notwithstanding his long flight, and soon put his rival out of business. Then, apparently disgusted with his mate's fickleness, he turned her out and proceeded to find another.

The fourteen pigeons, belonging to Henry Beach and Dr. Carl Schilling, were liberated at Abilene at 5:25 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 15. The pigeons were all of the blue bearded and check variety and several of them had made long flights earlier in the season.

In making the trip home the birds crossed Texas, Indian Territory, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, averaging about 125 miles a day. The birds seldom alight except to roost at night and eat but little. In long flights it is seldom that more than one bird in four returns, as they are frequently shot, killed by eagles or hawks, captured, or lose their way.

Mr. Beach's bird which now holds the world's record is of the variety known as the "smoky check" and is about four years old. It has made long flights quite frequently and only a few weeks ago covered 600 miles in record time. Mr. Beach is president of the Homing club and has one of the best equipped pigeon lofts in the United States. Mr. Beach raises homing pigeons exclusively and his birds have taken numerous prizes in races and exhibitions.

The Fort Wayne Homing club is composed of the following gentlemen: Henry Beach, Carl and John Schilling, Frank Contant, Oscar Griebel, Fred Kriebbaum, William R. Link, Louis Gehfert, Ben Mariotte, Fred Match, William Mfner, Fred Fisher and Messrs. Magie, Swart and Burchard.

HALT IN THE SALOON CASES

AFFIDAVITS PRESENT SOME TECHNICAL HOLDS.

Cases Therefore Go Over Until the Matter Can Be Remedied—The News of the Police.

Police court this morning, as a whole, resolved itself into an imitation of an amateur debating society, such as our forefathers used to enjoy in the log schoolhouse before the march of civilization thrust revised statutes and vaudeville shows into prominence. The debate started with the case of Charles Hunt, who was arrested for selling liquor to minors. Earl Arnold being the particular minor designated in the original affidavit and the offense was stated to have been committed on the 19th of July. Arnold was not present in court this morning, so the prosecutor made a new affidavit, naming Edward Blair as the principal witness, and, as he was identified with all the cases against Hunt, the latter's attorney, Mr. Thomas, made no objection. It was only after young Blair was sworn and was on the stand that Mr. Thomas discovered that the date of the offense charged had been changed from July 19 to July 3 and to that change he objected. The prosecutor held that any date could be used to prove the offense, whether it was the one used in the affidavit or not. Mr. Thomas claimed that his client had been present yesterday and today was ready to stand trial on the original affidavit; that he was prepared to disprove the charge and had his witnesses in court who could swear only to what occurred on July 19; but that when it came to trying an entirely different cause and one for which no witnesses had been summoned and of which he knew absolutely nothing, he had a right to ask for a continuance on the ground that he was not ready for trial. He insisted, however, that he was ready for trial on the original charge and demanded a hearing. Then occurred the debate in which everybody joined except Lieutenant Lapp. The result was that the two cases were continued until tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

Another of the same class of cases was presented, being that of the state vs. Thomas Clark, also accused of selling liquor to minors, young Blair again being the star witness. Clark was present, but it developed that Clark was not the man who did the selling and after a brief investigation the prosecutor admitted the fact and nol-prossed the case. Mr. Thomas, also attorney in this case, objected to that kind of procedure and insisted that a nolle did not clear his client and wanted the record to show that the case was dismissed. The record was so made.

Then came the case of John Kennedy, also one of the men arrested on the affidavits drawn by the mayor several days ago. Mr. Kennedy was in court yesterday morning and one case was continued until this morning. He was there again today and sat with sublime patience through the previous proceedings. When called he came forward, pleaded not guilty, said he did not know why he was arrested, but said that he was willing to stand for anything that could be proved against him. Before going any farther, it is not an undeserved compliment to say that Mr. Kennedy is as smooth as they can make them. Mr. Kennedy was a perfect picture of injured innocence as he stood respectably before the bar of justice and awaited trial. It was then suddenly discovered that he was not the Kennedy wanted at all. He was John Kennedy, all right, but it was his son, John Kennedy, Jr., who was supposed to be the guilty man. This case was dismissed without further talk and then the batch was over for the day.

OTHER OFFENDERS.

Of the other offenders before the court this morning was probably the most familiar figure. John but recently finished a jail sentence for vagrancy and was sent over again this morning for a stretch of 10 days. He took the whole affair as a matter of course although, possibly through force of habit, he pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Ralph Lane, formerly of this city,

but now a resident of Rome City, came down to town last evening on the late excursion train and wandered along Calhoun street in a very peaceful manner and in a benighted mood. He was encountered at an alley near the south depot by a certain Mr. Frederick McComb, a gentleman with a fierce disposition and very red hair. Mr. McComb wanted to fight almost anybody, but particularly Mr. Lane. After much persuasion Mr. Lane, who is a big man, accommodated the slender Mr. McComb and the result was that both were arrested, Lane being charged with assault and McComb with liquor and public intoxication. Lane made an interesting talk and in the course of it stated that he had not taken a drink since he came to town and declared that he had tried to get out of a fuss. He finally admitted that he was responsible for the rather lopsided eye that McComb was wearing at the time. He got $1 and costs which he said he would pay as soon as he could get into telegraphic communication with his brother at Rome City. McComb was also given $1 and costs and accompanied the wagon over to the jail.

James Davis pleaded guilty to assaulting and battering Edward Diggs and was fined $3 and costs, while Diggs was fined $1 and costs for public intoxication. Both are colored men and both went over.

In the case of Richard Hammond, the second hand dealer, charged with failure to keep a record of purchases as designated by the ordinances, the judge rendered a decision of acquittal. Hammond's principal plea was that he did not violate the law intentionally. The case of Gus Schubert was continued as was that of Will Brock, both to be heard tomorrow morning.

POLICE NOTES.

Humane Officer Schlandroff last evening stabled a stray horse at the Martin barn on East Main street.

Superintendent Garsline who has been leading a bachelor's life for a week or two, expects his wife to return from a two week's visit with friends and relatives at Payne, O., tonight.

Mrs. Anton Rieg, of 1223 Huffman street reports a visit of the mysterious man with the educated dog. The dog invaded her yard yesterday and with great neatness and dispatch captured several choice chickens which he carried to his master who put them into his basket and compacently drove away. She says she can identify the man if she ever meets him again. She would also like to do worse things to him than simply identify him.

SMALLPOX PATIENT MAY DIE

AUGUST ZAGEL'S CONDITION EXTREMELY CRITICAL.

Hanna Street Man Who Returned From the West Has Disease in Severe Form.

By far the most severe case of smallpox observed in Fort Wayne in recent years is that from which August Zagel is now suffering at his home, 1145 Hanna street, and physicians stated this morning that his recovery is a matter of very grave doubt.

Zagel, it will be recalled, returned to the city on a Wabash train Sunday evening after a vacation trip of two weeks spent in the west. He had been ill for several days, but not seriously, and was amazed when the physicians pronounced the case smallpox. During the days preceding his return Mr. Zagel had visited a number of western towns, traveled on railroad trains, stopped at hotels and indulged in the luxury of a Turkish bath, so that there was an excellent opportunity for the spread of the disease.

Since his return to Fort Wayne the most rigid quarantine has been enforced. The case has been severe from the first and the physician in attendance said this morning that while Zagel might recover, present indications were very unfavorable and he would not be surprised at the patient's death at any time. Zagel's condition is critical.

PROBING MINE HORROR.

Johnstown, Pa., July 23.—The corner's investigation into the Rolling mill mine explosion on July 10, in which 112 men were killed, began today. Jacob Broach, a miner who worked in the Kandelke district the night before the explosion, was the first witness. From his evidence it appeared that the regulations in regard to safety lamps, danger notices and other safeguards were strictly complied with. Considerable time will be required to complete examination this morning.

Mercury and Polash

ONLY SERVE AS A MASK FOR CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

They hide its repulsive form, and this serpent disease, stupefied by these drugs, lies dormant until the effects have worn off or treatment is discontinued, when it breaks down the mask and becomes as full of life and venom as ever. Mercury and Polash may dry up the sores and eruptions, but at the same time they drive the poison back into the blood and system, where it feeds upon the tender tissues, membranes and nerves, finally breaking out in most disgusting sores and even destroying the flesh and bones.

Mercury and Polash cannot accomplish a radical and permanent cure. They have a palliative but not curative effect upon this treacherous snake-like disease. These drugs produce mercurial rheumatism, destroy the teeth and corrode the membranes of the stomach and bowels, causing inflammation and dyspepsia, nervousness and general derangement of the system. S. S. S. is a Specific for Contagious Blood Poison, and the only antidote for the peculiar virus that spreads so quickly throughout the system, corrupting the blood and infecting every organ and fibre of the body.

S. S. S. destroys the serpent, and eliminates every atom of poison from the blood, it makes a thorough and radical cure of the disease, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. contains no minerals of any kind, but is a purely vegetable remedy and we offer $1.00 for proof to the contrary.

Write us about your case and our physicians will cheerfully advise without charge. Our home treatment book will be sent free to all who desire it.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Some Sensible Advice to Women by Mrs. E. Saller.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I passed through what is known as a change of life, I had two years' suffering,—sudden heat, and as quick chills would pass over me; my appetite was variable and I never could tell for a day at a time how I would feel the next day. Five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound changed all that, my days became days of health, and I have enjoyed every day since—now six years.

"We have used considerable of your Vegetable Compound in our charitable work, as we find that to restore a poor mother to health so she can support herself and those dependent upon her, is such there be, is truer charity than to give other aid. You have my hearty endorsement, for you have proven yourself a true friend to suffering women."—Mrs. E. Saller, 756 1/2 Hill St., Los Angeles, Cal.—$4.00 per bottle if about ten bottles are not wanted.

No other person can give such helpful advice to women who are sick as can Mrs. Pinkham, for no other has had such great experience—her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free—if you are sick write her—you are foolish if you don't.

MAJOR GLENN FOUND GUILTY

ADMINISTERED WATER CURE TO FILIPINOS.

Washington, July 23.—Secretary Root has sent to the president at Oyster Bay the proceedings and findings in the court martial cases of Major Edwin F. Glenn, Fifth Infantry; Lieut. Julian E. Caulot, Tenth cavalry, and Lieut. Norman E. Cook, of the Philippine scouts. Glenn was found guilty of administering the water cure to natives, or permitting it to be done, and was sentenced to one month's suspension from duty and fined $50. Lieutenant Cook was acquitted on the charge of giving orders to kill three Filipino prisoners. The testimony showed that he had given orders to shoot the prisoners if they attempted to escape. The Filipino scouts, to whom this order was given, thought it meant to shoot the prisoners.

In forwarding the cases to the president the secretary recommends that the sentences and findings be approved, but that no other action shall be taken. It is not believed that the president, who is reviewing authority in these cases, will make any comments such as were delivered by him in the case of General Smith. It is shown in the evidence and reports that Major Glenn has performed excellent service and has done much to pacify the country where he has been in command.

REMAINS LIE IN STATE.

Rome, July 23.—The remains of Cardinal Ledochowski, who died here yesterday, were laid in state this morning in the Cappella Ardentia of the palace of the propaganda, where they were subsequently visited by all the members of the sacred college. The close friends of the deceased and his secretaries, Fathers Vecchia and Zdzicki, insisted on personally performing the last office and arranged the body for burial. The Cappella Ardentia is now open to the public. The Piazza di Spagna, where the palace of the propaganda stands, is crowded with people, including many American pilgrims, eager to obtain admission. Letters and telegrams of regret are pouring in from all quarters. The grief of Poland, Cardinal Ledochowski's native country, amounts to almost a national demonstration, the dead cardinal having been persona non grata to Russia and Germany on account of his advocacy of Polish independence.

FIVE GENERATIONS LIVING.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rollin L. Walker, of 1315 Horace street, yesterday, and the very youthful miss enjoys the distinction of being the only person in Fort Wayne having a great-great-grandmother. Her arrival makes the fifth living generation of one family, the four preceding generations being represented as follows:
Mrs. Nancy Wilkes, Coesne—great-great-grandmother.
Mrs. Luke Tinsley, Coesne—great-grandmother.
Mrs. M. G. Walker, 1315 Horace street, Fort Wayne—grandmother.
Rollin L. Walker, Fort Wayne, father.
Mrs. Wilkes is nearly ninety years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Tinsley, is over seventy. Mr. Walker is an employee of the Newspaper Union and is very well known here.

RANCHMEN IN A WAR.

Denver, Col., July 23.—A telephone message received by Mrs. Leonard Sedgewick, at her home here, conveyed the information that upon her husband's sheep ranch near Rock Springs, Wyo., one of the herders had been killed, presumably by infuriated cattle herders. The message also stated that seven thousand sheep had been slain by the same persons. Mrs. Sedgewick says that there is the most intense jealousy between the sheep and cattle men in that district and that often hundreds of cattle and sheep are slaughtered when found roaming upon strange ground.

CARNIVAL COMMITTEE MEETS.

The Fall Festival association held a meeting last evening at its headquarters in the Arcade and continued the formation of the program for the big event which is to occur August 25 to 30. According to the outline the opening day, Monday, is to be civil and military day, Tuesday is children's day, Wednesday fraternity day, Thursday Fort Wayne day and Friday visitors' day. Red, white and blue are the carnival colors, and headquarters are to remain open constantly from this time until the close of the carnival.

HURT IN LOUISVILLE.

L. E. Williams, of 2412 Miner street, was brought home from Louisville last evening, suffering from serious injuries which he sustained last Friday. Mr. Williams was standing near a car loaded with lumber, when one of the timbers fell and struck him on the head. He is in the employ of the Kentucky Veneer Lumber company as inspector.

READY FOR THE BIG FIGHT

JEFFRIES AND FITZSIMMONS IN FINE CONDITION.

Attend now Promises to Tax the Big Arena. The Gladiators Have Finished Training.

San Francisco, July 23.—Everything is now in readiness for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons contest on Friday night and the attendance promises to tax the capacity of the arena. It is not likely that Jeffries will follow his usual routine of exercise from now on. He is at his best and will do just as he pleases. He is particularly partial to sprinting at this stage of the game, as he believes that by footing it over short stretches of highway he gains in speed and strengthens his wind. Jeffries is better natured than he was a week ago. He declares that he feels stronger and better than he ever did before going into any fight and those who have been watching him during his training insist that he is faster than ever.

Fitzsimmons has also tapered off in his work, having passed the point where preliminary exercise will cut any figure. He says that hereafter he will do his boxing in private. After experiencing a temporary boom in betting circles Fitzsimmons' chances have receded in the estimation of speculators until the original odds of 10 to 4 now prevail.

A slight defect in the ring has been found, but it will be remedied before the fight. The heavy timbers which supported the frame work above the ring were found to be rather too close to the ropes. If there was a struggle in any of the four corners there was a possibility of either the heads or the hands of the boxers being injured. To avoid this a rope will cut off one foot of each corner, making the ring octagonal instead of square. The points will be padded as an extra precaution.

Soldier Tom Wilson, who came from the east to act as Fitzsimmons' sparring partner, but who was shelved in favor of Hank Griffin, will not see the fight. He received orders to join his regiment at Fort Monroe, Va., by July 29 and will leave tonight.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

Trustee Schirmeyer, who with his family has located at Rome City for a month, is in the city today to attend to such duties as require his attention. During his vacation he makes it a rule to come to Fort Wayne twice each week.

County Commissioners Orff and Moody, accompanied by Bridge Superintendent Wiley, went to Shipio township this morning to inspect several bridges. They were taken there by Chauffeur Bestick in his four-seated machine and the commotion they created while going through the country at an express-train gait will become a matter of history. Commissioner Moody nailed his hat fast before they started. "They call me a blockhead, anyway," said he, "and I might as well prove it." Commissioner Orff glued a cheap cap to his topknot and Wiley wore nothing but a wet towel on his head.

Ralph McLain, who charged A. A. Martin with having assaulted him because he undertook to take possession of a saloon for which he had partially paid, has not prosecuted his case in Justice Bullermann's court, but has commenced replevin proceedings against Martin to recover $450. The sheriff served the papers today and Martin promptly gave bond and retained possession. After a day of strenuousness, Judge Aiken again adjourned court last evening and today hid himself to Luke George, where he will remain until next week when another short session of the superior court will be held.

PHILADELPHIA WOMAN WORE $20,000 NECKLACE.

Jewels Taken From Her by Customs Officers as She Landed From the Steamship.

New York, July 23.—As a prominent young society woman of Philadelphia stepped from the steamship Kron Prinz Wilhelm on its arrival here and greeted her husband waiting on the pier, agents of the treasury department interrupted their conversation and took from the woman a pearl necklace reported worth $20,000, which she had purchased in Paris and omitted from her declaration.

A special treasury agent had been in Paris and learned of the purchase of the necklace. He determined to return to New York on the same steamship with the purchaser. He noticed that she had made no mention of the gems in her declaration to the customs officers. He remained near by at the pier and after the traveler had greeted her husband he, with another agent, asked the couple to return to their stateroom. He asked for the necklace and the woman, who wore it around her neck under the dress collar, handed the pearls over.

Collector Stranahan may allow the payment of the duty of 60 per cent, and deliver the necklace to its owner.

The latter said, however, he might decide not to pay the duty and return the necklace to the Paris jeweler who sold it to his wife. The woman said she had no intention of evading payment, but wished to consult her husband about the purchase before declaring it to the customs officials.

MEMORIAL OF MR. MCKINLEY.

Baltimore, July 23.—The Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of this city has prepared and will send to Mrs. McKinley a handsome and costly memorial in the form of an engraved set of resolutions adopted by the association on the occasion of President McKinley's death. The memorial is in the form of an album, and is handsomely bound in black real leather. The volume is ten and one-half inches wide by fourteen and one-half inches long, and is lined with heavy silk. On the cover in gilt letters is the inscription: "In Memory of William McKinley." The book contains ten heavy Bristol board pages. In the center of the first page is a well executed picture of the late president, the result of most careful penmanship. To the right is a view of the capitol at Washington, and below the portrait is a picture of the American flag furled, with the coat-of-arms of this state directly beneath it. The other nine pages are devoted to the resolutions adopted by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association in respect to the memory of William McKinley, president of the United States.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The Columbia street pavement is now completed with the exception of trimming the curbs and taking out the Bell telephone poles. The city attorney was informed that the company is engaged in putting in a cable to relieve the square between Barr and Clinton streets and that when the cable is strung the poles will be removed. The poles will be cut off at a level with the concrete and the work of putting in the brick will not be great. All this, of course, will be done at the telephone company's expense.

Waterworks Trustee Kaugh returned from Cleveland this morning. He says that at the Van Buren street station work is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. There is no reason to anticipate any further trouble with the water supply this year if consumers use the same economy as has been exercised during the past six weeks.

BIBLE AS NEWSPAPER SERIAL.

Pana, Ill., July 22.—The Bible as a serial story is the undertaking proposed by the Assumption Independent, a weekly newspaper. The publisher announces that he will begin with an installment from Genesis this week and will print additional chapters in each issue until the work is finished. He estimates he will need fifty years to complete the publication.

The editor of the Independent says he has read many of the modern historical romances and that none of them compared with the scriptures for plot, dramatic situations and sustained interest. By breaking off each installment at a critical point in the narrative he expects to arouse curiosity in the succeeding issues and he believes he will not only increase the sales of his paper, but will also secure widespread interest in a work which he declares is grossly neglected in the modern household.

BASE BALL

In the National league Pittsburgh went right along delivering medicine as it passed by and St. Louis got its dose yesterday, although the champions made four errors to support the nine hits made by St. Louis.
Brooklyn beat in both games of a double-header with Philadelphia yesterday, and that is about all there was to National league ball yesterday except the attendance, which is three cities aggregated 16,900, which included 6,000 school children admitted free at Chicago. In the American league Mullen won his game against Baltimore, although 11 hits were made off his delivery. All the American league games yesterday were marked by clean fielding, but 8 errors being made in the four games, but the hit column looks like a multiplication table, the eight clubs engaged making a total of 79 hits. The attendance was 11-100. In the American association three games were played to 4,892 people. The leaders won again and Toledo by losing reduced its percentage to .304. If Toledo loses again she will drop below the .300 mark, which will be the record at this stage of a championship race, although New York is giving Toledo a horrible race. The results yesterday are given below:

In August, 1895, C. C. Ulery cut his name on a land turtle, three it was found eight miles east of Goshen by Cyrus Steele, with the name still legible.

The American Girl, a steamer on Lake Wawasee, was partially burned at the Pickwick park dock Monday night.

Mrs. Herman Schultz, of Laporte, who recently shot her husband, has been held to await the action of the grand jury.

Thomas Cumberland, living five miles east of Peru, did not know that his revolver was loaded and now he has a badly injured leg.

Because of the failure to take precautions in the case of John Sullivan, who died at Goshen of diphtheria, the city has been exposed to the disease, and an epidemic is feared.

Fred Huskins, of Kokomo, while walking a few feet in front of Luther Rivers, was shot by Rivers' gun, which was accidentally discharged.
The injury is probably fatal.

Blackfoot county has a farm of 240 acres for the poor asylum and yet it is not making expenses. Only eighty acres of the 240 are tillable.
It is figured the balance could be made profitable if the county would engage in the raising of live stock.

Mrs. Isham, 81 years old, living near Michigan City, got lost in a huckleberry marsh and was compelled to spend the night there. She was found next morning, standing in two feet of water, suffering from ex-posure and greatly bewildered.

During a quarrel over a girl, Frank Myers, of Dunkirk, was shot by Hugh Scott and will die. Both are colored. Myers was found a mile from his home, crawling along the railroad. His wound was of such nature that he could not walk, and he had gone half a mile on his hands and knees.

John J. Miller, a farmer near Silver Lake, Kosciusko county, hitched his team near a large ditch. Crushed by the attacks of myriads of flies and mosquitoes one of the horses became entangled in the harness and fell into the ditch. Its head so entangled in the harness that it could not lift it above the level of the water in the ditch.
Drowning was the result.

Mrs. Lon Holmes, of Gas City, jumped from a T. St. L. and W. expression train at Decatur Tuesday morning, sustaining injuries from which she died an hour later. Mrs.
Holmes thought the train was not going to stop at Decatur, and fearing she would be carried by her station, she jumped as the depot was passed.
She was thrown backward, her head striking a railroad tie, crushing the skull.

Miss Lizzie Davis, of Plymouth, was shot Monday night by a Bourbon young man named Baird, one bullet lodging in her breast, the other in her arm. The wounds are dangerous. Baird was engaged to a Miss Lane, but she broke the engagement. When Baird called later to talk the matter over he was informed the young lady was not at home.
He waited, and when Miss Davis approached with her brother Baird thought it was his former sweetheart and fired. Baird made his escape.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 23.—Wheat opened a trifle firmer on slightly improved cables and on the bullish government crop report. There were some rains southwest, but stuff was offered generously and prices at once fell off.
September opened unchanged to 1c up at 72½c to 72½c and dipped to 72¼c. The grading in the new wheat continued so poor that July options held steady at 77c and later influenced September to steady near 72½c.
Local receipts were 202 cars, 10 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 289 cars, making a total for the three points of 401 cars against 340 last week and 423 a year ago.

Prospects of rain and manipulation of September options kept what up and sent September to 72½c. September closing firm 1½c up at 72½c.
Although receipts of corn fell off somewhat and grading continued poor the good crop reports influenced a dip in corn. September opened a shade to 1½c down at 61½c to 61½c and eased to 61¼c.
Offerings on the decline were not large and September rallied to 61½c. July was not traded in during the first hour. Receipts were 127 cars 31 of contract grade.

September corn sold at 61½c to 61¼c, but there was little business and that option closed weak 1½c lower at 61¼c to 61¼c.
Indifferent trade in oats together with good weather and crop reports caused lower prices in the oats pit.
September opened 1½c to 1½c down at 34½c to 34c, dipped to 33½c to 34c, but as offerings dried up rallied to a steadier position near 34½c. Receipts were only 71 cars, 15 of contract grade. July was not traded in during the first hour.

Liberal hog receipts and lower stock yard prices together with offerings in pork caused an easy opening in provisions. Shorts, however, were taking some of yesterday's paper profits and there was a fair demand in lard. These influences started prices up, but only a partial reaction from yesterday's severe slump was recorded. September pork opened 5c down to 5c up at $17.35 to $17.30, sold at $17.45 and steadied near $17.37½. September lard opened 2½c lower to 2½c higher at $10.50 to $10.55 and held to $10.57½. September ribs opened unchanged at $10.25 and gained 7½c.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET

New York, July 23.—There was a large opening demand at slight sharp fractional advances for New York Central, Atchafalpa and Amalgamated Copper and good gains were scored also by Kansas and Texas, Canadian Pacific, Southern Railway and Sugar.
In the general list gains of a moderate fraction were the rule, but there were a few slight declines. Erie second preferred lost a point.
Yesterday's late advance brought realizing orders in Amalgamated and the stock yielded a point below the opening. The soft coal stocks also fell away and Brooklyn Transit was quite heavy. At other points there were good gains. Sugar, the Kansas and Texas stocks, St. Louis Southwestern preferred, New York Central, Atchafalpa, Canadian Pacific, Southern Railway, Evansville and Terre Haute, Detroit United Railway and the Denver and Rio Grande stocks advancing 1 to 2½. Back Island opened a fraction off and rail-ied 3½ to 180½. Some of the less active stocks were under pressure.

Denver Southwestern yielding a point.
Transcontinental stocks were feverish until Union Pacific was rushed up to 109½, causing a moderate improvement in the others.

Large orders for St. Paul, Southern Pacific and Canadian Pacific advanced them from 1 to over 2 points, but their strength was utilized to realize elsewhere. Sugar, Rock Island and New York Central reacted a point and Atchafalpa and Reading large fractions. Norfolk and Western preferred gained 4 points, but the other soft coal stocks, United States Steel and the traction were weak. Brooklyn Transit losing 1½.
Metropolitan Securities company receipts rose 5 points and Northern Central jumped 10 points on one transaction. The announcement of additional gold exports caused the whole market to react.
Bonds were irregular at noon.

CHEAP RATES OFF

WABASH ABANDONS ATLANTIC
EXCURSION PROJECT.

WITHDRAWAL SETTLES WAR

RATES WILL NOW RESUME NORMAL CONDITIONS.

AN EIGHTEEN-HOUR TRAIN

FORD SAYS PRESENT SCHEDULE IS TOO LONG.

Col. E. O. Thompson, of the Wabash, who has been assiduously engaged for several weeks in talking up the Atlantic excursion that that road proposed to give to the Atlantic seaboard in July and August, has been notified that the project has been abandoned and that he should withdraw all advertising matter concerning the excursion that he might have out. This will be a big disappointment to many people who had the trip in contemplation.

The announcement of the cheap excursion rates was a retaliatory move and for the purpose of breaking up the practice of making cheap Atlantic City rates from Chicago, the Baltimore and Ohio being the greatest offender in this way. In fact the Baltimore and Ohio is said to be in fault for the demoralization in east bound rates. The Wabash and the Erie gave the Baltimore and Ohio ample warning of what has occurred, the trouble being hastened by the Baltimore and Ohio taking the initiative in making an unauthorized rate from Chicago. E. A. Ford, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west, is quoted as saying that "the situation is an outgrowth of the determination of the Baltimore and Ohio to carry the Atlantic City cheap excursion rates into Chicago. When the Baltimore and Ohio announced it would make Atlantic City rates out of Chicago the Lake Shore followed with similar announcement. This offended the Wabash and Erie, which claim that Atlantic City excursions disturb the New York City rates, and they gave the Baltimore and Ohio notice if it did not keep out of Chicago they would put in the same rates to New York. The Baltimore and Ohio refused to demist and the result was a general demoralization of New York rates, as the Pennsylvania met the rates made by the other lines. The demoralization has been confined to Chicago and St.

A SMALL EXCURSION.

The Sandusky excursion on the Nickel Plate today was a disappointment to the management, though it might have been worse. There were twenty-two excursionists out of this city and enough picked up en route to make the aggregate 130 when Bellevue was reached. When this trip was planned it was not known that the harvest was going to be as late as it has been, the intention being to have the excursion immediately after all work of this kind had been done. Instead, the backward season brought the excursion right at a time when farmers were very busy, and as a consequence very few of them took it in.

FAST FREIGHT RUN.

A sixteen car stock train, in charge of Conductor Miller, with Engineer Dayton H. Baltzell and Fireman L. M. Shriver in the cab, made the run from Chicago to this city, 143 miles, in five hours and thirty minutes. This includes thirty-five minutes consumed in stops for trains 2, 9 and 11, which deducted leaves the actual running time of the train four hours and fifty-five minutes. About a week ago, with Conductor Al Smith and Fireman J. L. Ziggett, Engineer Baltzell brought a twelve car stock train down from Chicago in five hours and thirty minutes, including delays which aggregated eighty minutes, making the actual running time four hours and ten minutes. These runs are very creditable.

PRaises THE NICKEL PLATE.

In noting the fact that the Nickel Plate is to be operated this year on 63 per cent of its gross earnings, the Indianapolis Journal says: "The Nickel Plate is now in condition, both as to roadbed and equipment, to be operated more economically. Millions of dollars have been spent in improvements and betterments within the last five years, and it has a roadbed and equipment that compare favorably with that of competing lines, and it now ranks among the best roads crossing northern Indiana. It is predicted that the Nickel Plate will now take rank with the best class of roads."

STRIKERS CANNOT RETURN.

General Superintendent A. M. Scheyer, of the Pennsylvania, is quoted by the Pittsburgh Post as saying that "the men who engaged in the recent strike at the freight houses of the Pennsylvania cannot return to work. Last April we granted the freight men an advance to fifteen cents an hour and on July 1 a second advance of 5 per cent. was allowed. Perpetrate this concession the men organized and made a demand for eighteen cents an hour. Railroads are willing to consider requests, but in the most part are averse to demands. As far as we can learn the strike has left no ill feeling among the freight men on any part of our system."

MAY MOVE TO VALPO.

Mrs. W. L. Scott and daughter went to Valparaiso this morning to spend a few days with Engineer Scott, who is now running on the Chicago milk train, with headquarters in Valparaiso. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are considering the advisability of moving to that city and the present visit may result in a decision on that question.

TRAIN SCHEDULE TOO SLOW.

General Passenger Agent E. A. Ford, of the Pennsylvania, in commenting upon the speed attained at times by the "Pennsylvania Special," which makes the run between New York and Chicago in twenty hours, predicted that two hours would even be lopped off the running time of this train. His prediction is based upon his knowledge of the time this train can make when required to cover delays and keep within its schedule. A few days since this train made the run from Alliance to Pittsburgh, 23.2 miles, in exactly one hour and thirty minutes, an average of 55.3 miles per hour for the entire distance. It left Alliance at 8:52 in the evening and after running seven miles it struck a 72-mile-an-hour gale. This speed was attained near Garfield, notwithstanding a stiff up-grade was encountered before reaching that point. After going around sharp curves east of Salem and up another steep grade near Leetonia, the "Pennsylvania Special" moved along at the rate of 81 miles an hour, making that time near New Waterford. At Enon the pace was 75 miles an hour, and near New Galilee on an up-grade the wheels were grinding out 63 miles an hour. Near Homewood they spun along at a 66-mile-an-hour gale. After observing slow orders at that point and Kewwood and several other points the train was rushing along at 66 miles an hour at Baden, which was increased to 69 miles an hour at Leetonia. Before Allegheny was reached it was making 75 miles an hour, but upon nearing the yards and the water depot it slowed down and rolled into Pittsburgh Union station at 10:22 p. m., just one hour and a half after leaving Alliance, during which the train made up twenty-four minutes on its schedule time, covering the distance at an average speed of 55.3 miles per hour. At that speed the run from Chicago to New York can be made in about sixteen hours.

A PLEASANT EVENT.

Frank Deck, formerly an employee of the Pittsburgh copper shop, is sojourning at Rome City and his cottage is a favorite place with the shopmen who visit the resort. Last night Mr. Deck entertained in honor of J. J. Lynch and Frank Conners, of the shops, and three who were fortunate enough to be numbered with the purists say they never had a better time. Mr. Lynch returned home this morning and resumed his duties in the shop.

DIRECTORS HOLD MEETING.

Baltimore, July 23.—The regular meeting of the new board of directors of the Western Maryland railroad took place in this city today. Two new directors were elected, these being A. H. Clegg, of New York, who is treasurer of the Missouri Pacific, and H. C. Deming, of New York. Mr. Deming was selected only to serve in the place of George Galtier, of Maryland, who is now in Europe and who will resume his place on the board when he returns. At today's meeting only routine business was transacted. The subject of establishing a tide water terminal at Baltimore was not discussed.

TO OFFER NEW TUNNEL BILL.

Philadelphia, July 23.—It was officially announced at the office of the Pennsylvania railroad company today that as the New York board of aldermen had rejected the tunnel franchise, a new measure will be presented. It could not be learned, however, whether the company had decided upon the provisions of the new bill, though it is stated the action of the board of aldermen yesterday was anticipated.

President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, is in Bar Harbor, and has made no statement concerning the future action of the company.

It is stated officially, however, that no new appeal will be made to the New York legislature. The last act of the assembly was so amended that the rapid transit commission could not grant a perpetual franchise to the railroad company unless the board of aldermen should have the right to approve or reject the contract, consequently yesterday's action was final in so far as the board of aldermen was concerned.

The railroad company, it is stated, must now deal with the rapid transit commission in perfecting a new bill to be presented to the aldermen. The published statements that work had been commenced on the New Jersey end of the tunnel are denied. No contracts, it is announced, have as yet been awarded.

A boiler was loaded at the Bass shops today for shipment to Gladstone, Mich., where it will be placed in the mining works of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company.

The Pennsylvania, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Wabash are improving their dock facilities at Toledo. The former company will expend $750,000 in that work.

Archie Trier, of the Bass shops, had a foot injured yesterday by a heavy casting turning over upon it. He was taken to his home on Burr street, where he will be confined for some days.

The rooms of Foreman Harvey Brown and Ed Pilot, at the Bass foundry, are closed today to allow some needed changes on the floors, which cannot be accomplished while the molders are at work. About 150 men are idle today on account of the shut down.

Contractor William Kelley is today delivering the material for a house at the end of the Main street car tracks, near the Lindenwood cemetery entrance. Several lots have been laid out at that point and doubtless a cluster of houses will soon be located there.

H. E. Bennett, who resigned a position in the Wabash shops several weeks ago, is here today, looking after some personal matters. He will go to Lafayette this evening to look into a position that is open to him and to visit his brother, who holds office with the Monon company. Mr. DeBurn is a locomotive engineer and for a number of years was thus employed on the Chicago and Erie road. H. Korte also resigned his position at the Wabash shops. He will return to his father's farm near Woodburn.

Col. J. S. Russell, general counsel of the Pullman company, in speaking of the advance in wages of Pullman men, said: "The action of the company originated it was that they were willing that they might have a share in the prosperity the company has enjoyed the last two years." As to advance of pay of other employees, he said the company had the matter under advisement, but he did not know what action would be taken.

W. S. Wells, of the Pittsburgh machine shop, is the father of the annual athletic day of the Pennsylvania employees. Through his exertions the first events were given four years ago and repeated the following year. Last year the Pennsylvania Employees' Athletic association, a broader organization of the old one, came into existence and the success of its two events practically assures the perpetuity of the association.

Boiler Foreman E. F. Sarver, of the Pittsburgh, is attending a conference of boiler-maker foremen in Atlantic City, which began this morning. The term of his absence from the city is a matter of considerable doubt.

It is intimated that Mr. Sarver may be required to make a trip over the Pennsylvania line, in which case he will be gone two or three weeks. In the meantime Assistant Foreman John T. Leach will have charge of the shops.

Motive Power Supt. J. B. Barnes, of the Wabash, left for his home in Springfield, Ill., this morning. Mr. Barnes spent several days here in looking over the shops. When asked if the company contemplated any more improvements here he said: "Improvements have been in progress for some months. The company has expended about $35,000 in new machinery for the Fort Wayne

They are designed to haul passenger trains of eighteen cars over the mountains in and out of Wilkes-Barre without assistance and are guaranteed to make sixty miles an hour with such trains on level portions of the road.

EXCURSION OF POLICEMEN

OUTING AT ROME CITY WAS A
DECIDED SUCCESS.

Coppers Will Requite a Good-Sized

Sum from Event—Train

Late Coming Home.

The policeman's excursion to Rome City yesterday was everything that could be hoped for by the most enthusiastic friend of the coppers. There was not an objectionable feature of any kind, and the weather was just as perfect as though it had been made to order—not too hot; not too cool—just right. Sheriff's First Regiment orchestra furnished music and the excursionists devoted most of the afternoon and evening to dancing, the dance pavilion being fully overcrowded most of the time.

The returns at the ticket office show that 500 adults and 10 half-fare children took passage on the several trains. It is estimated that nearly 400 tickets were sold which were not exchanged, which will give the force a proper balance of about $600.

The only disagreeable feature of the day was the failure of the special train to leave Rome City on time. It was scheduled to leave at 10:30, but it was nearly 11:30 before it pulled out, and the consequent result was that it was 12:30 when the several hundred passengers were unloaded at the south depot. At that hour street cars were not running and the tired excursionists were obliged to walk to respective homes in all parts of the city, some of them with heavy bundles or sleepy babies to carry.

Incidentally it might be remarked that the oft-repeated stories concerning the supercilious dignity of the average railroad clerk must be ridiculous. The most affable man in Noble county last night was the night agent at the Rome City office. He answered the same question no less than 10,000 times last night and never lost his temper once; he answered good humoredly, didn't seem to get tired, and worked with the accuracy of a steam engine. In fact he did everything that a well-regulated station agent should do, and told inquirers everything except what the trouble seemed to be and when the train was likely to leave. It was a pleasure to meet him, and if he didn't own the road some day it will be because merit and genius sometimes do unrewarded.

IS SON OF A FAMOUS SOLDIER

DR. A. BARON VON MANTEUFFEL.
FEL IN THE CITY.

His Father Was Next in Rank to Von Moltke in Famous Franco-Prussian Conflict.

Among the visitors in Fort Wayne yesterday was a young German of rank, member of a wealthy Prussian family and a son of one of the really great generals of the Franco-Prussian war—General von Manteuffel, who was next in command to the famous von Moltke in that conflict.

It was Dr. A. Baron von Manteuffel. The young man is but twenty-eight years of age and has been a resident of America several years. His wife was an American girl, who died a short time ago in Colorado, whither they had gone in the hope of benefiting her health, and the young man is now en route eastward. He expects to return to Germany, where the family has extensive estates. The father, General von Manteuffel, was in command of cavalry in the Franco-Prussian war and died at Carlsbad in 1885.

Since his residence in America the son has become largely interested in gas matters and was for a time associated with the Messrs. Dietrich, New York owners of the Fort Wayne Gas company. En route eastward Baron Manteuffel stopped in Fort Wayne for a brief visit, calling upon the local gas company officials and paying a visit to the works of the Western Gas Construction company. The young nobleman was entertained at dinner by President O. L. Guildlin, of that company, and shortly after left for New York.

She was born and reared in Fort Wayne and was widely known and highly esteemed, prominent in church and social circles, and had a large circle of friends. The surviving relatives include the bereaved husband and a babe but a few days old, in addition to three brothers and three sisters. The latter are Peter Mettler, Mrs. Simon Freistoffer and Mrs. Louis Oddou, of this city, and John and Joseph Mettler and Mrs. Daniel Gordon, of Sioux City, Iowa.

BATTLE WITH AN EAGLE.

Baltimore, July 23.—Silas Bennett, of Baltimore county, had a fierce battle with an eagle this morning near Ordenville, and as a result Mr. Bennett now bears several bad lacerations on the hands and face, which were made by the bird's talons. When Bennett first saw the bird on the ground in the field he thought it would take flight as he approached to where it was, but this was not the case. As soon as he made a pass at it with a club the eagle flew at him and for fully ten minutes there was a terrific battle on between the man and the large bird. Bennett finally

The continuation of the Fink-Loebm case is being gone through with in Justice France's court this afternoon.

In City was arrested yesterday for assault and battery on Minnie Meyer. This morning he entered a plea of guilty in France's court and was fined, the fine being paid. MURDER AT DIXON

JOHN WANAMAKER WIELDS AX WITH FATAL RESULTS.

WILLIAM WALLS HIS VICTIM

DEATH ENSUES FOUR HOURS AFTER THE ASSAULT.

WANAMAKER IS NOW IN JAIL.

FRIGHTFUL AFFAIR IN VILLAGE ON OHIO LINE.

Dixon, Ohio, July 21.—This little village, situated on the Ohio-Indiana state line, was the scene of a shocking murder early Sunday morning, when John Wanamaker, 55 years old and a hostler employed by one of the local merchants, struck William Walls two murderous blows with an ax, inflicting injuries from which his victim died four hours later without regaining consciousness.

Walls was a plasterer by trade, and in addition conducted a dance hall in the village, where dances were held each Saturday night. Wanamaker is a fiddler who occasionally played for the dances. Saturday afternoon the men quarreled. Wanamaker began drinking, and early Saturday evening a constable saw Wanamaker with an ax, with which he was threatening to kill Walls. He was finally persuaded to put away the ax, which he did, hiding it beneath a chicken coop in front of one of the business houses upon the main street.

The dance closed shortly after midnight, and Walls, in company with two brothers named Gilbert, started homeward, passing Wanamaker, who was seated upon a bench near where the ax had been concealed. As they passed Walls remarked that Wanamaker was drunk, and told him if he would vomit he would feel better. This angered Wanamaker, and he sprang from his seat and secured the ax.

STRUCK TWO BLOWS.

Before Walls or his companions could realize what was coming, Wanamaker dealt Walls a frightful blow with the ax, the blade striking him upon the side of the face and sending him bleeding to the ground. Bending over his victim Wanamaker swung the ax over his head and dealt Walls another blow upon the head, crushing the skull like an egg-shell. Horrified witnesses fled from the scene, while Wanamaker walked coolly home, hid the ax and remained undisturbed until morning. The injured man was carried home, but surgical aid was unable to save him, and death ensued at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

Officials from Van Wert were notified, and Deputy Sheriff Bickford and Coroner Jackson, who started for Dixon, met Wanamaker and his stepson upon the road, but neither knew the men. Wanamaker continued his journey to Van Wert, where he surrendered himself to Deputy Sheriff Hattery and was lodged in jail. Here he claimed his act had been committed in self-defense.

Wanamaker is married and has a daughter about 15 years of age. He had lived in Dixon more than twenty years, and when not in liquor is a peaceable citizen. Local option laws are in force on the Ohio side of Dixon, but a number of saloons exist on the Indiana side of the line.

MARRIED AT BUFFALO.

The many Fort Wayne friends of the bride will be surprised and pleased to learn that Miss Leotta M. Elliott and George W. Ingils were married at Buffalo, N. Y., last Saturday, July 12. Miss Elliott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elliott, of West Butler street. Mr. Ingils has been employed as traveling salesman for a large eastern iron foundry and known to the trade in all the prominent cities of the country. Mr. and Mrs. Ingils will go to England upon a wedding trip and upon their return to America they will take up a residence in Arizona, where Mr. Ingils is largely interested in copper mines.

IS ILL FROM SMALLPOX.

August Zagel, of 1145 Hanna street, returned last week from a two weeks' vacation trip and is suffering from a severe attack of smallpox, which he contracted while stopping in a small town out west where there were several hundred cases. Dr. Duemling was called to attend him and he immediately diagnosed the case as smallpox, and Health Commissioner Macbeth placed the house under quarantine at once. Mr. Zagel has been ill over a week and has traveled in trains and stopped at many hotels, exposing a large number of people. The Wabash sleeper in which he arrived in this city will be thoroughly disinfected.

Wambaganss delivering the morning sermon, Rev. Jaus preaching in the afternoon, and the pastor, Rev. Stoepelwerth, conducting the evening service in English.

HOLDS WALLER TO BLAME

COLONEL GROESBECK ON THE SAMAR EXPEDITION.

Judge Advocate of the Court Says General Smith Gave No Kill and Burn Order.

San Francisco, Cal., July 21.—Col. Stephen W. Groesbeck, formerly judge advocate of the division of the Philippines, has arrived here from Manila, en route to Chicago, where he will take station as judge advocate of the Department of the Lakes. Colonel Groesbeck was chief reviewing authority in the trials of Major Waller and Gen. Jacob H. Smith, both of whom were court martialled for methods used in the Samar campaign. Discussing the Waller trial, Colonel Groesbeck characterized Major Waller as a tactician, not a leader. In reviewing that case, he said:

"I could only give a qualified approval of the findings of the court, because I believed him responsible largely for the conditions that caused his men to commit the outrages charged. An attempt was made to lead a detachment of his command, consisting of four officers, fifty-four enlisted men and thirty-three 'cargadores,' from east towns across the Island of Samar in search of the enemy, and when about midway of his course he found himself in the heart of an uninhabited, mountainous section, without rations and without medical attention. The march had begun without proper provision having been made. The men's shoes had worn away, their clothing hung in tatters, many were stricken with fever, their feet blistered and bleeding, their bodies lacerated by thorns, and, adding to this wretchedness, the leeches which abound attacked their greatly aggravated wounds. To the cry for food the cargadores, it is alleged, did not sufficiently respond, and the suspicion was aroused in the minds of the starving men that the cargadores were conniving at their destruction. For this they were placed under guard and all of those from whom a cry of retaliation came were executed."

Alluding to the famous "kill and burn" order, alleged to have been issued by General Smith, Colonel Groesbeck said: "No such order was ever issued by Smith, but he is an impetuous and eccentric man and, when going over the ground at Balangir, after the massacre of an entire company of the Ninth infantry, he remarked to Waller that they would be justified in killing and burning as they went."

He did not think that Waller or any of the officers of his command should be held accountable for lives destroyed, but he believed that had more careful provision been made when the fatal march was begun it would not have ended with such disaster. He spoke of General Smith as a fine officer and expressed regret at the humiliation attached to the recent order for his retirement.

Colonel Groesbeck believes in the "water cure," and said that in all the complaints caused by this method of forcing insurgents to give information as to where arms were hidden, etc., it had been abused only by young officers, inexperienced in their work. "I believe," said he, "the 'water cure,' as practiced by the American army in the Philippines, to be the most humane method of obtaining information from criminals of war that is known to modern warfare."

On the Philippine question in general, Colonel Groesbeck said: "We are there to stay. The price that has been paid for the islands demands that we hold them, but to civilize and establish a government that can be given into the keeping of the natives is a task beyond the comprehension of those unacquainted with the treachery that has been instilled into the people by their former rulers. The uplifted bolo is the only law that they have feared for ages, and strenuous means must be adopted to eradicate such ideas."

FRAME NEW PARTY

LEADERS IN CONFERENCE AT MANHATTAN BEACH.

GIVE AN IDEA OF ITS PLANS

RESEMBLES SO-CALLED LIBERAL DEMOCRACY.

OUTLOOK AS SHIBLEY SEES IT

SAYS COUNTRY HAS LEFT OLD MOORINGS.

New York, July 21.—At a conference just held at Manhattan Beach, in which the principal participants were United States Senator F. T. Dubois, of Idaho; ex-Senator R. F. Pettigrew, of South Dakota; Prof. Garrett Duggan, of South Dakota, for ten years professor of political economy in the imperial university, Tokio, and George Shibley, of Washington, plans were discussed for the organization of a new national party. So far as it has gone the new party seems to be an effort to unify the so-called liberal democracy, which already has state organizations in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio and Iowa.

MR. PETTIGREW TALKS.

Mr. Shibley presented for the consideration of the other members of the conference a complete outline of a plan for a national organization on lines similar to those of the state organizations of the liberal democracy. At the close of the conference Senator Pettigrew gave a statement, in which he said:

"Mr. Bryan will not be the candidate of the regular democracy in 1904, but he and his friends hope that he will have much to say regarding the platform and the management of the campaign. If he does not, Mr. Bryan and his associates will form a new party, based on the Kansas City platform."

"Free silver will not again be a political issue. When we demanded the free coinage of silver we wanted more money. Since then immense new gold fields in Alaska and South Africa have been opened; there is more money than ever before and greater prosperity. This result is what we predicted when we asked for more money. Times are good in the west, in spite of the beef trust. The farmers get more for their cattle and higher prices for their cereals."

COUNTRY DRIFTING AWAY.

"But on other principles aside from silver the west has not changed. We adhere to the original principles of democracy, although the country is fast drifting away from all its own moorings. The main trouble is the departure from the original form of government. A Fourth of July oration of ten years ago will not fit today."

Mr. Shibley, who drafted the outline of the new party, said:

"I have been engaged for years in the effort to establish the referendum, not as a party issue, but as an essential to majority rule. We have now an organization in each state which intends to put all candidates on record on this question, and it is bound to be adopted and made a campaign issue sooner or later."

NAMING A NEW STATION.

A new stopping place along the line of the Southwestern interurban about midway between Lagro and Wabash was christened at the company's offices in this city this morning. The entire office force, from Manager Nelson down, submitted suggestions of names for the new metropolis, and a wide variety of fanciful titles were presented from which to make a choice. Mr. Nelson finally selected "Riverside" as being about the proper cognomen, and Riverside it will be. The chief attraction of Riverside at the present time is an ice house.

GASOLINE CAUGHT FIRE.

The use of gasoline as a preventive for the pestiferous "buffalo moths" and the subsequent lighting of a match in the room was responsible for a slight fire Saturday at the residence of Joseph Mommer, 515 West Main street. Mr. Mommer had applied the gasoline to the carpet in a bedroom upstairs and soon after, without thinking of the consequences, lighted a match to explore a dark corner of the room to see if any traces of moths could be found. The fluid had evaporated into gas and in a flash the room was a blinding mass of flame. It burned the carpet and quickly communicated to the window draperies, which were burned from the windows. Mrs. Mommer retained her presence of mind, and with the assistance of several persons who were passing at the time, set about extinguishing the flames, while someone else rang for the fire department. When the firemen arrived the danger was over. The loss will not exceed $20.

PACKARD STORE REMODELED.

The Packard music store, corner of Washington and Calhoun streets, has been remodeled and newly decorated throughout. The show room in the rear of the store has been enlarged and a hardwood floor has been laid. A beautifully paneled ceiling has been put in and a handsome office has been built. The rooms have been handsomely tinted by Kirchner, the colors being pink, white, green and gold. The show windows have been enlarged and an entrance on the Washington street side of the store has been constructed. The store presents a very attractive appearance, and the improvements will be greatly appreciated by the patrons.

BADE AMERICANS FAREWELL

TAFT AND HIS PARTY RECEIVED BY THE POPE.

Holy Father Was Extremely Cordial and Much Ceremony Marked Final Visit.

Rome, July 21.—The pope received Governor Taft and the members of his party in farewell audience at noon today. The Americans drove in two carriages from their hotel to the vatican. Judge Taft and Judge Smith were evening dress, as prescribed by etiquette; Major Porter was in full uniform and Bishop O'Gorman wore ecclesiastical robes. They were received at the great door of the vatican by the Swiss guards, who rendered military honors. At the foot of the state staircase the Americans were met by Monsignor Biletti, master of the ceremonies, who was accompanied by several other dignitaries of the papal court. At the door of the pontifical apartments the noble guards and gendarmes rendered the customary honors, after which Governor Taft and his companions were introduced into the presence of the pope, who welcomed them with marked cordiality.

MAY HAVE SHAM BATTLE.

A sham battle may be a feature of the celebration in connection with the dedication of the new court house if the plans now afoot among the battery boys do not miscarry. It is proposed to give the exhibition at League park or the Driving park and a number of military companies from cities in the northern part of the state will be invited to take part. One of the battles in the Spanish-American war or the war of the rebellion will be repeated in a most realistic manner. The plan is regarded with much favor and it is believed that the feature would be a great drawing card.

WILL PICNIC AT ROME CITY.

The second annual excursion of the African M. E. Sunday school will be held at Rome City on Friday, Aug. 15. The excursionists will leave on a special train in the morning and will picnic in the woods up the lake instead of on the island on account of the assembly. There will be rowing, swimming, fishing and other athletic contests, for which prizes will be given.

GOODS ARE IN DEMAND.

Additional indications of the promising future in store for the new steel casting company just organized in Fort Wayne was received by President Hoffmann today, when the mails brought inquiries from a number of manufacturing concerns, which stated that they were extensive users of castings and inquiring when the new company would be able to fill orders for goods. News of the organization of the Fort Wayne company has traveled far and wide, and the importance of the concern is quickly recognized by manufacturers in every section of the country.

SEEKS BURIED TREASURE.

San Francisco, July 21.—The schooner Hermann has sailed for the south seas, ostensibly on a pleasure trip, but in reality, it is said, in search of buried treasure, amounting to $70,000,000, reported to have been hidden on an island by the mutinous crew of a Japanese ship. Captain James Brown, a retired mariner of the Atlantic coast, is in command of the Hermann, and is accompanied by four or five eastern friends. The little schooner was fitted out at an expense of $18,000.

The preliminary arrangements are well under way. The tabulation of the premium list is completed, and it can be sent to press as soon as the rules governing the several departments are prepared. Architect's plans for the new buildings required at the driving park are also practically completed, and no time will be lost in putting the grounds in shape for the big exhibition.

THE SUPERINTENDENTS.

The board of directors at its meeting this morning also made the appointment of superintendents of the various departments, the list being as follows:

Much encouragement is being received from all parts of the county, and members of the association are confident the coming exhibition will be by all odds the greatest fair ever held in Fort Wayne.

HOLD-UP MAN SLAIN.

Chicago, July 21.—In an alleged hold-up that took place here early today Robert E. MacMahon, special policeman for the Auditorium annex, killed one man and after a running revolver fight captured another. The man taken into custody gave his name as Mack Ray and said his companion's name was Frank Murphy. He denied there had been any intention to hold up the officer. The fight which ended in Murphy's death took place behind the hotel, which MacMahon was patrolling. The men were lurking in an alley, supposedly waiting for a victim. The officer at first saw but one man, and he was feigning sickness. Suddenly a second man rose from behind a box and both men trained revolvers upon the officer. MacMahon drew a revolver and all three men fired, Murphy being killed instantly. Mack Ray darted down the alley and from the darkness fired repeatedly, at the officer, who gave chase. MacMahon finally tripped the fugitive and took him to the Harrison street police station.

MAY BE A LYNCHING.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 21.—Alfred M. Fenton, a wealthy farmer of Rushville, Mo., was shot by Mark Dunn last night and died of his wound today. Dunn had been arrested for alleged intoxication, but escaped from the officers. He secured a gun and shot Fenton, who was passing in a buggy. Dunn is in danger of being lynched. A deputy sheriff tried to bring Dunn to St. Joseph on the train which passes Rushville at 11:30 o'clock, but the infuriated citizens prevented their departure. Many threats of lynching are made and a special guard has been pressed into service.

ARRANGE DISTRICT MEETING

MANY TRUSTEES WILL MEET IN FORT WAYNE.

Board of Education Held Important Meeting on Saturday—The New Officers.

Some time in September all the township trustees in the counties comprising the Twelfth congressional district will hold a district meeting in this city, at which time various matters pertaining to the school interests of the several counties will be considered. It is probable that a number of authorities on school work will be present and address the meeting.

The gathering was determined upon at an important meeting of the Allen county board of education held at the court house Saturday afternoon. There was a large attendance of trustees and in the reorganization of the board Trustee Louis Schirmeyer, of Wayne township, was elected president, and Trustee Morton T. McComb, of Perry township, was chosen secretary.

Superintendent Young distributed the statistical report blanks to the trustees and spoke briefly upon the school work of the past year, outlining as he did so some of the work it is desired to accomplish during the coming school season.

BOY'S MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 21.—Another terrific storm passed over Chautauqua county yesterday and last night, doing great damage to growing crops, delaying railroad traffic and cutting such holes in highways that travel across country is almost impossible.

George Courtney was drowned at French Creek, while trying to ford a swollen stream.

A bridge across a culvert in this city broke down while George Singlar, a six-year-old boy was standing on it and he was quickly carried into a sewer, through which he was swept at a terrific rate for more than one thousand feet. He came out at the lower end in less than three minutes in a frightfully cut and bruised condition, but alive and able to crawl to a place of safety.

FORMER CHICAGO OFFICIALS

PROMINENT MEN OF "WINDY CITY WERE HERE.

Ex-Chief of Police Joseph Kiple, of Chicago; ex-Commissioner of Public Works John McCarthy, of that city, and Bart McCarthy, of Indianapolis, have been visitors in Fort Wayne for several days, the guests of Patrick McCarthy, of Hoagland avenue, father of the Messrs. McCarthy.

Chief Kiple was at the head of the police force of Chicago for a great many years, but resigned several months ago. He is one of the best known police officials in America and a man of great executive ability. Mr. McCarthy is one of the most widely known democratic politicians of Illinois, and has served in various official capacities during his many years of public life in that city. Bart McCarthy is manager of the Indianapolis Sentinel, and is one of the most prominent men in Indianapolis. The gentlemen left this morning for Boston and on Wednesday will sail for Europe. They will make an extended foreign tour, and expect to be absent several months.

DROWNED IN ELBE

HAMBURG RIVER STEAMER CUT IN TWO BY TUG.

FIFTY PERSONS LOSE LIFE

LARGER PART OF THOSE ON BOARD RESCUED.

HAD AN EXCURSION PARTY

FIFTEEN DROWNED BY FLOOD IN RUSSIA.

Hamburg, July 21.—The steamship Primus, owned in Hamburg with 185 passengers on board, was cut in two and sunk by the tug Hansa on the River Elbe at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

So far as is ascertainable, about fifty persons were drowned. Thirteen bodies have already been recovered.

The Primus was an excursion steamer from Buxtehude (province of Hanover, Prussia).

The disaster occurred between Blankensee and Nienstedten.

Among the passengers were the members of the Kilbeck male choral society.

At the time of the accident the Primus was crossing the river channel near Blankensee from the southern into the northern fairway.

According to witnesses aboard the Hansa the movement was made too precipitately.

The Primus struck the tug's engine room and the Hansa endeavored to push her ashore, but the tug grounded and the ships parted. The Primus then sank.

In the interval, however, about fifty of her passengers were able to reach the Hansa by means of ropes and ladders. Seventy more were picked up by the tugboats, while other swam ashore.

The disaster caused deep gloom here. Many children lost both their parents. The choral society, which was on board the excursion steamer, consisted mainly of workmen. There were no foreign passengers.

CAPTAIN GIVES UP.

Captain Peterson, of the Primus, swam ashore and gave himself up to the police. Captain Sachs, of the Hansa, also surrendered.

The Primus was the oldest boat on the Elbe. She was built in England in 1844 and had never before met with an accident.

The Hamburg-American line which owns the Hansa, issued a statement to the effect that the weather was fine, the moon was shining and that both vessels were steering absolutely clear of each other. Suddenly the Primus, when about 450 feet from the Hansa, put her rudder hard aport and crossed the bows of the latter. "This mistake," continues the statement, "rendered a collision unavoidable. The only possible step for the Hansa to take, namely to go full speed astern, was carried out immediately, but without avail. Less than a minute elapsed between the time the Primus changed her course and the collision. Boats were immediately lowered from the Hansa and ropes and ladders were thrown overboard. Fifty persons were rescued by the boats. At the same time the Hansa tried to push the Primus ashore, but, being of deeper draught, grounded herself before the passenger boat. The Primus floated down stream and sank three hundred feet from the Hansa."

FIFTEEN DIE IN FLOOD.

Kieff, European Russia, July 21.—Fifteen persons were drowned yesterday by a sudden influx of water into the basements of various houses in the lower portions of the town. A torrential rainstorm, accompanied by violent wind and hail, broke over Kieff during the afternoon and turned the streets into veritable torrents, flooding cellars and drowning their occupants before they were able to escape. Large trees were uprooted and railroad embankments were washed away, necessitating the suspension of traffic. The losses sustained are very heavy.

CREWS ARE RESCUED.

Port Hope, Mich., July 21.—Fourteen of the crews of the whaleback steamer A. D. Thompson and barge Whitworth, stranded near Point Aux Barques were taken off the wrecks by the life saving crew today. The steamer has been scuttled to prevent her from pounding to pieces during a gale. The Whitworth is adrift, hanging to the steamer by her tow line.

W. D. Henderson has gone to Chicago to attend the wedding of a relative.

J.W. MACKAY DEAD

FAMOUS BONANZA KING DIES IN LONDON.

HIS DEATH WAS UNEXPECTED WAS THOUGHT TO BE RECOVER-ING FROM ILLNESS.

REMARKABLE CAREER ENDED
AMASSED A FORTUNE BY HARD WORK AND GRIT.

London, July 21.—John W. Mackay, of San Francisco, who had been suffering from heat prostration since Tuesday last, died at his residence on Carlton House Terrace at 6:30 o'clock last evening.

Mr. Mackay's condition, as stated Saturday, had improved, but the patient had a bad night and yesterday morning a consultation was held by three physicians. Mr. Mackay grew worse. He was unconscious most of the time and died very peacefully. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure. The right lung was found to be congested and the symptoms indicated pneumonia.

Mrs. Mackay, her mother and the Countess Telfener were present when Mr. Mackay died, and Princess Galatze Colonna arrived from Paris half an hour after her stepfather's death.

BORN IN IRELAND.

John William Mackay was born in Dublin, Ireland, on November 29, 1831; moved with his father's family to New York in 1840; learned the shipbuilding trade in the Webb yards and worked there till 1851, when he went to California; struggled there for nine years and in 1860 went to Nevada; engaged in mining and had a two-fifths interest in the "Bonanza" claims of the Comstock lode, which made him one of the richest men in the world; with Flood and Fair established the Nevada bank in San Francisco and was its president at the time of his death; with James Gordon Bennett established the Commercial Cable company and was president of the Postal Telegraph company. His residence was part of the time in London and part in San Francisco, and his main office was at No. 253 Broadway, New York.

MACKAY'S FORTUNE.

John Mackay paused on his way up the Bowery and looked with wonder at a dull, brownish heap on the floor of a show window in a transportation agent's office. This dull heap was gold, real gold, almost the first tangible evidence of the richness of the discovery that had been made in California. John Mackay was only a poor Irish boy on his way to work in a shipyard on the East river. He had his lunch in a bucket and some of his tools in his hands. The work was hard and the pay small, but this lad had within him a dauntless heart; it would take more than mere hardship and privation to dispirit him.

When in 1849 the news came of the discovery of gold in California it struck and answering chord in this boy's heart. California, land of dreams, land of gold, land of mystery. So away to San Francisco went John Mackay. It was a long voyage around Cape Horn, with uncertainty at its end. As soon as the opportunity offered he sailed up the Sacramento river with other gold seekers, and a few days later we find him gallantly standing in water up to his knees, gold pan in hand, learning the rudiments of the gold miner's trade.

For ten years we catch glimpses of him. At Murphy's camp, on Murderer's Bar, at Last Chance, on the American river, at Ione—everywhere the tide of goldseekers flowed there went John Mackay, now grown to be a sturdy young man. Sometimes he fared well, sometimes he took work from anybody to regain his financial foothold lost in some daring speculation. Fortune was coy. The claim he bought with five years' earnings turned out a failure. He immediately began to save for another fortune. At last the tide of the gold hunters turned and ebbed. The places were done, the era of quartz mining in California had begun. There was always a living for John Mackay as an employee, but the fortune he had set his heart on would never come as wages.

The word reached him of new discoveries on the other side of the Sierra Nevada, in the bleak, alkali, sage brush country, and thither he went, but fortune was still coy. To live John Mackay became a day laborer in the mines, pushing an ore car eight hours a day. There he made the acquaintance of another man as dauntless as himself, but of a far different personality. James G. Fair and he came together by reason of the force that was in them both. Mackay rose to be a mine foreman. Fair became a shift boss. Both saved their money. Both had learned in their ups and downs the complete science of mining, and Mackay saw in a discredited, half-abandoned shaft the indications he had looked for for more than a decade. He told Fair. In San Francisco they had two friends who owned a restaurant and had some capital. Flood and O'Brien were taken into the discovery; what money was needed was raised, and Mackay, Fair, Flood and O'Brien floated a mining company, reserving to themselves most of the shares. They dug down 1,500 feet before they found the mountain's heart of silver.

Twenty years passed. John W. Mackay, walking with John Russell Young, his visitor, on the streets of Virginia City, Nev., pointing to the mouth of an old shaft with old machinery cluttered about it, was able to say: "I took one hundred and fifty million dollars out of that hole."

The west became a great country. John Mackay was one of its greatest financiers. He married and his wife entertained princes and dukes in the capitals of Europe. He was the president of the leading bank of the Pacific coast. His old partner, Fair, was a United States senator, but they had drifted apart. Fair, almost as rich as Mackay, was hated, while his partner was admired. The unscrupulousness of Fair, his evil life, left him only his millions to comfort him. He remained in the west enormously rich, but with no other claim to notice.

Mackay returned to New York with Bennett; he laid a cable across the Atlantic. Jay Gould tried to crush him for presuming to compete with the old cable. Mackay, trained to combat by his years' long fight for wealth in the mines, turned the tables on the railway and telegraph king and established the Postal Telegraph company and fought the Western Union to a standstill. He triumphed and extended his lines, built great buildings in New York and became a figure of world-wide renown.

But fortune was not yet done with her tricks with him. The manager of his San Francisco bank, taking advantage of Mackay's confidence in him, attempted the Napoleonic feat of cornering the wheat supply of the world with the Mackay millions. Of course, he failed and the great capitalist hurried from London to California to find that $12,000,000 or $14,000,000 had been lost.

"Poor, poor John," sardonically exclaimed his old partner, Fair, who always sneered at the submarine cable. "Poor John, and all his money at the bottom of the sea." Even the Mackay fortune was not proof against such a blow. The shock staggered the Nevada bank, but Mackay's coming steadied it. Every dollar of the securities gambled away by the bank manager was made good. The bank did not fail, but Fair came in as its president. It was Fair's hour of triumph. Just as years before the failure of a mining claim had not daunted the miner, so in this later time the loss of a dozen million did not loosen his fibre, and after that evil day John W. Mackay was richer than ever.

When a lunatic's shot brought him to the verge of death the whole world waited anxiously for the bulletins from his bedside. When his old partner, Fair, died, it did not cause a ripple away from the Pacific coast, and even then no word of regret was heard. John Mackay, the poor shipwright's apprentice, became John W. Mackay, the world-famous financier, without making an enemy. Every dollar of his incalculable millions was clean money. His path to great fortune was not over the bodies of other men. He wrested his wealth from the earth, and no man was the poorer for his acquirement. He won his fortune by hard work and dogged persistence. There were a hundred thousand boys in New York who had the same chance as the young shipyard worker. There were fifty thousand men in the California mines whose opportunity was as good as his. There were ten thousand miners on the Comstock who could have taken the opportunity offered by the half-abandoned shaft, but they did not do it, and John W. Mackay did.

MR. MACKAY'S HOLDINGS. San Francisco, July 21.—Richard Dey, a close personal friend and former confidential secretary of the late John W. Mackay, in an interview last night, said:

"I don't suppose Mr. Mackay, himself, knew within $20,000,000 of what he was worth. His business was in such order and his arrangements were so carefully made that everything will go on just as though he were still alive. He was president of the Mackay-Bennett Cable company, president of the Postal Telegraph company and president of the prospective Pacific Commercial Cable company, vice president of the new $7,000,000 sugar refinery at Yonkers, N. Y., of which Gus Spreckels is president; director of the Canadian Pacific railway, director of the Southern Pacific and director of the new proposed railroad from Havana to Santiago in Cuba. He was one of the largest owners of the White Nob Copper company, of Mackay, Idaho. He was interested with Charles D. Lane in the Wild Goose Mining company at Nome. He was heavily interested in the Sprague Elevator and Electrical works of New York.

"In San Francisco Mr. Mackay owned half the Nevada block, the Grand opera house and the big lot at the southeast corner of Market and Fourth streets. He owned, together with Flood, the Buriburi ranch of about 1,000 acres in San Mateo county, the Coleman tract of about 1,500 acres in and adjacent to the city of San Rafael, and 3,000 acres of timber land in Mendocino county. He owned several thousand acres of woodland in Nevada between Reno and Truckee. In New York city he owned the Postal Telegraph building, a sixteen story structure, and he was the largest owner of the Commercial Cable company's building, a twenty-one story structure, and the property adjacent to it. He owned the Territorial Enterprise, a newspaper at Virginia, Nev.; Mrs. Mackay owns the palatial house in which he died in London.

"Mr. Mackay was a member of the Pacific Union club of San Francisco and of the Merchants' Exchange. He was a staunch republican, but before the civil war he was a democrat. Again and again he refused to be senator from Nevada and eschewed office. In religion he was a warm Catholic and two of his warmest friends were the late Bishop Montague, who had jurisdiction over northern California's mining regions and a large part of Nevada, and Archbishop Riordan. Mr. Mackay for a long time virtually supported the Catholic orphan asylum and its 130 children at Virginia, Nev. In New York he maintained five or six of the free beds in hospitals in memory of his son Willie, who died half a dozen years ago at the age of 26. Mr. Mackay always was doing good quietly and giving money. A large number of regular pensioners will miss him.

"Mr. Mackay came to America from Ireland as an infant with his father, who was afterward naturalized. But along in 1867 James G. Fair, who was Mr. Mackay's partner and also born in Ireland, could not remember whether or not the elder Fair was naturalized, so to make sure, Fair and Mackay were naturalized together at Virginia, Nev., by their friend, 'Sandy' W. Baldwin, who was United States district judge."

INTERMENT AT BROOKLYN.

London, July 21.—The remains of John W. Mackay, of San Francisco, who died here yesterday evening, will be taken to New York for interment in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn. The exact date of the removal of the body and the arrangements for the funeral will not be decided upon until the arrival in London of his son, Clarence Mackay, who sailed from New York on Saturday last.

GUESTS OF THE PRESIDENT

NOTABLE COMPANY LUNCH AT SAGAMORE HILL.

Mayor Low There to Discuss the Political Situation With Mr. Roosevelt.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 19.—President Roosevelt entertained a distinguished party at luncheon today at his Sagamore Hill home. United States Senator John Kean, of New Jersey, arrived on a morning train and went directly to Sagamore Hill. He came primarily to invite the president on behalf of Gov. Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey, to visit the camp of the New Jersey national guard at Sea Girt on July 24. It is not unlikely that Mr. Roosevelt may accept the invitation, as he is particularly interested in the great second line of the country's defense. State Senator Elsborg, of New York, followed, having been invited by the president to talk over with him New York state affairs.

Late last night Ferdinand Jelke, jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio, arrived in Oyster Bay to call by invitation upon the president. He, too, was a guest at luncheon. Mr. Jelke is a member of the Ohio circuit court bench. He is a long-time friend of Mr. Roosevelt. He expressed the belief that there is no political significance in his visit. He is on his way to Quebec, L. I., where he and his family will pass the summer. Mayor Low, of New York, arrived about noon on his yacht, the Surprise, and was conducted direct to Sagamore Hill, where he was welcomed cordially by the president. He and Mr. Roosevelt are the closest personal friends. During the afternoon they expected to discuss political affairs in New York, in which both are peculiarly interested. Mayor Low may remain at Sagamore Hill tonight and a part of Sunday.

LAD PAINFULLY HURT.

Four-year-old Walter Underwood, son of Mrs. Anna Underwood, of 826 Barr street, attempted to run across the street in front of a surrey in which George H. Crouse, of St. Mary's avenue was driving, and was struck by the horse's hoofs and knocked down. The wheels passed over the boy's legs and a deep gash was cut in his head. Dr. Harriet Macbeth dressed his injuries.

BUSINESS BEGINS

WALTHER LEAGUERS IN SESSION AT ZION'S CHURCH.

NATIONAL CONVENTION HERE

WARMLY WELCOMED TO FORT WAYNE LAST EVENING.

SOME REPORTS HEARD TODAY

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED DELEGATES ARE HERE.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Over 100 delegates and visitors from out of the city are in attendance at the tenth annual convention of the Walther League of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church of the United States, whose sessions opened with a largely attended meeting in Zion's Lutheran church last evening.

The meeting last evening was in the nature of a welcoming session for the delegates. The business sessions began this morning, with National President Louis Hohnsbehn, of Cleveland, in the chair. Rev. Brandes, of Huntington, read from the first Psalm and offered prayer, after which Alfred Kramer, president of Zion's society, made an address welcoming the delegates to Fort Wayne.

Owing to the inability of Secretary H. W. Nobis, of Cleveland, to be present, Edwin Gross was elected temporarily to that office. President Hohnsbehn appointed Delegates Dippman and Weiss a committee on credentials, and made a report of the work of the league in the past year. President Hohnsbehn stated that the league has enjoyed a most prosperous year, and that the growth, although not rapid, has been steady and substantial. Owing to certain circumstances several branches of the league have been obliged to sever their connection with the main body, but nevertheless the membership shows a very satisfactory increase. There are sixty-four branches in the United States, with a membership of over 4,000.

THIS AFTERNOON.

This afternoon's session opened at 2:30 o'clock and the entire time was taken up with reports from the different district conventions, substantiated in detail the report of President Hohnsbehn of the year's progress. It was decided that the hours of the sessions should be from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and from 2 to 4:30 p. m.

Two very important questions to be decided at this convention are whether the conventions shall be held annually or semi-annually, and whether the fees of societies, collected for the maintenance of the Walther league, shall be abolished.

This evening there will be a social on Zion's school grounds, at the corner of Creighton avenue and Force street, and it is expected that the crowd will be a record-breaker in point of numbers, providing the weather proves pleasant. There will be a musical program by the Walther League orchestra in addition to the other attractions. The entertainment committee consists of Prof. F. A. Klein, Alfred A. Kramer, Theodore Dehler, Herman Hessemeyer, George Schaak, Misses Roehes and Tillie Andersen.

THE OPENING SERVICE.

The opening session of the tenth annual convention of the league was held last evening in Zion's church, Creighton avenue and Hanna street, and the seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost to accommodate the crowd. Rev. C. Gross, pastor of Emanuel church and second vice president of the Missouri synod, made an address welcoming the delegates to Fort Wayne, after which the great hymn written by Martin Luther, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," was sung.

Rev. Christian Luehr, pastor of Zion's church, preached the opening sermon, taking as his text I. Corinthians, 15:58. In the course of his sermon Rev. Luehr dwelt on the marked tendency of the young people to fall away from the church, being attracted by the amusements of the world. "One of the fundamental principles of the Walther league," he said, "is the advancement of Christian education and social welfare, and every member of the league should exert himself to carry out these principles." The second part of his sermon was very brief, consisting of making clear the reward for remaining steadfast to Christianity. At the conclusion of his sermon Rev. Luehr announced that Rev. Bruno Poch, pastor of a Lutheran church in London, Eng., would deliver an address on mission work in the great metropolis at Emanuel church next Sunday.

A WARM DEBATE.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The most important feature of this morning's session of the Walther league convention at Zion's Lutheran church, was the recommendation of the resolutions committee that the fees for the maintenance of the league be abolished and that the price of the official organ of the league, the "Vereinsbote," published in Buffalo, be raised to twenty cents to make up the deficiency. It was further recommended that on Walther league day, May 23d, every branch of the society take up a collection to be used in making up this deficit.

The session was opened with a prayer by Rev. William Brandes, of Huntington, after which the president of the Milwaukee branch, Herman Landeck, made a report. Mr. Landeck was formerly president of the Walther league of America, and his report was listened to with interest.

The report of the resolutions committee then came up for consideration and a very warm debate followed. In connection with the abolishment of the fees, the matter of holding annual or semi-annual conventions was discussed and this matter provoked further discussion.

A majority of the delegates favor the annual convention and in all probability this will be the ultimate decision of the convention. The Buffalo delegation is in favor of holding a convention every two years, and having larger district conventions in the interim. It was decided to hold the matter over until this afternoon for final settlement.

The financial secretary presented a report showing that the dues were $193.10 short of the required amount. The convention adjourned for luncheon at 11:30.

This afternoon's session was entirely occupied with a further consideration of the report of the resolutions committee and hearing other reports. Tomorrow the annual election of officers will occur and the place of holding the next convention will be decided on.

This evening the lady delegates will be entertained at the home of Henry Miller, on South Hanna street, and the men will attend the concert to be given by the Eintracht Singing society and the City band at Centerville park.

Tomorrow evening there will be a grand rally of Lutheran young people at St. Paul's church on Barr street. The program consists of addresses by Prof. H. Ungemach, Rev. Philip Wambagans, Rev. Paul Stoepelwerth, of this city, and Rev. A. Hanser, of Buffalo; songs by St. Paul's choir and by the congregation.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The reports of the district conventions yesterday showed a very satisfactory condition of affairs. Two new societies have been organized in Milwaukee and the total membership in that city is 1,040. The Fort Wayne Walther league branches are all in a flourishing condition and have a large membership.

President Hohnsbehn appointed the following committees: Committee to investigate the trustees' report, M. Dippman, Milwaukee; F. A. Klein, Fort Wayne, and E. E. Braeunlich, Buffalo; committee on resolutions, H. F. Neils, Milwaukee; John Weiss, Saginaw, Mich., and W. H. Brandt, Milwaukee; committee to revise the different reports, Frank Strege, Milwaukee; W. Kaemerlein, Monroe, Mich., and William Meyer, Schenectady, N. Y.; committee on nominations, F. C. Kelling, Buffalo; C. Rodenbeck, Fort Wayne, and N. E. Gahwe, Buffalo.

The social given by the young people at Zion's church last evening was a decided success, notwithstanding the cool weather. The Walther league string orchestra furnished music and refreshments were served.

THE DELEGATES.

The following delegates are registered: August Walker, Christ, Renker, H. W. Nobis, Louis Hohnsbehn, M. Bosc, Fred Kelling, A. Falch and William Vorst, Cleveland, Ohio; William Meyer, Schenectady, N. BUSY DAY FOR JUDGE AIKEN

CAME IN FROM HIS MOSQUITO CAMP TO WORK.

Waters Divorce Suit Dismissed and Many Other Matters Disposed of—The Court News.

This happened to be Judge Aiken's busy day. He dropped in from Lake George yesterday to see whether there was anything doing down here and found himself head over ears in business before noon today. In fact he started last evening when he dismissed the Waters divorce case. The Waterses have figured more or less prominently in the various courts for a week or two. Waters is a school-teacher living near Wallen and Mrs. Waters is naturally his wife. A week or two ago Mrs. Waters brought several suits against her spouse, charging assault and battery, asking for a surety of the peace bond and wound up by filing divorce proceedings. Waters was fined on one affidavit and the other two were dismissed and now finally on the application of Mrs. Waters the divorce suit was dismissed. A gentleman in an indisputable position to know says that this is the fourth attempt at separation the couple has made and the wife and mother is not yet 20. Other cases disposed of by Judge Aiken during his brief stay, not including the case of the Edmunds Construction company vs. Horace Marriotte, now on trial, are as follows:

Rena Craig vs. Walter Craig, action for divorce; dismissed.
VanMeter vs. Mautner, in receivership; final report filed.
Claus vs. Claus, divorce; dismissed.
Beam vs. Morrison, a decree to quiet title entered.
Cornelle vs. Waterhouse, civil suit; dismissed.
Tigges vs. Tigges, divorce; dismissed.
Minnie Elliott vs. Frank Elliott, action for divorce; decree granted, together with the custody of the 7-year-old issue to the mother.
Kittie Runyan vs. Ivy L. Runyan, action for divorce; divorce to plaintiff at defendant's costs.
Howe vs. Chapman, civil action; dismissed.
Bayless vs. Taylor, civil action; dismissed.
Angevine vs. Snyder, motion for new trial, overruled and judgment entered on the verdict of jury for defendant for costs.

In the county clerk's office very little was doing. Margaret Duber filed an application for divorce from Albert Duber and this, with a damage suit on contract, brought by Jacob E. Long vs. Christine Frederick, finished the business.

CARDINAL LEDOCHOWSKI DIES.

Rome, July 22.—Cardinal Ledochowski, prefect of the congregation of the propaganda of the Roman church, died this morning after a long illness. Cardinal Ledochowski was born at Gork, October 29, 1822, and was the descendant of an illustrious Polish family. The pope on learning of Cardinal Ledochowski's death was greatly distressed and exclaimed: "A valiant fighter for the church and religion has gone. His memory be blessed." The pontiff then knelt and prayed for the repose of the cardinal's soul. With Cardinal Ledochowski's death Cardinals San Stefano and Parocchi are the only surviving cardinals created by Pope Pius IX.

PRESIDENT'S BUSY DAY.

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 22.—President Roosevelt and Assistant Secretary Loeb disposed of an unusually large amount of official business today. The mail from Washington was very heavy and contained several matters of exceptional importance demanding the president's attention.

This afternoon Mrs. Roosevelt was the guest of honor at an elaborate luncheon and lawn party given by Miss Helen Beaman, at her country place, just east of Oyster Bay. Fifteen ladies were invited to meet Mrs. Roosevelt.

The president is preparing for his trip to Sea Girt, N. J., on Thursday. From Sandy Hook the party will take a special vestibuled train of four parlor cars over the New Jersey Central to Sea Girt. General Manager W. G. Desler, of the New Jersey Central, has placed his private car, "Atlas," at the disposal of President Roosevelt and the train throughout will be of the latest pattern of car builders' art. The presidential party will leave the state camp by special train at about 3 o'clock, returning to Atlantic Highlands, where they will embark on the Mayflower for Oyster Bay.

TO SAVE AMERICAN'S LIFE.

Washington, July 22.—The state department has taken active steps to save the life of Dr. Russell Wilson, a young Ohio physician, who is held under arrest at Bluefields by the Nicaraguan military authorities.

Wilson was a member of a filibustering party which made a landing near Monkey Point, about four miles from Bluefields. Most of the party were captured, owing to the inability of the commander of the expedition to land reinforcements on account of the heavy weather, and among the number was Wilson. The Nicaraguan general was about to execute him summarily, but he was induced by the pleas of some of the English-speaking people of Bluefields to allow the law to follow its course. This meant a trial by court martial and it is the understanding that a death sentence was almost inevitable.

Wilson lives at Milan, Ohio, and Senator Hanna has interested himself in his case. Today Acting Secretary Hill telegraphed to the United States consul at San Juan Del Norte to make an immediate investigation and report the facts at once, not only to the department, but also to Senator Hanna. In addition, the consul was directed to use his good offices with the Nicaraguan authorities in favor of young Wilson, as Senator Hanna has represented that he was not a combatant, but was attached to the revolutionary expedition in a medical capacity. The department never has been informed officially of the facts connected with Wilson's capture, and in this case is acting entirely on Senator Hanna's representations.

NASH CALLS LEGISLATURE.

Columbus Ohio, July 22.—Governor Nash issued a proclamation this morning convening the legislature in special session at 3 p. m., August 25. He states in the proclamation that he will present a message then stating the objects for which the session has been called. The principal objects are to provide for the government of municipalities—the supreme court having set aside existing laws and to repeal the Royer act, almost wholly depriving the supreme court of jurisdiction.

Mrs. T. C. Beals is in Chicago to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Minnie Beals, and Louis Marx, which will occur this evening at 6:30 o'clock. Miss Beals is a daughter of the late J. H. Beals, and during the earlier part of her life resided in Fort Wayne.

BY LAND AND SEA

COMBINED ATTACK TO BE MADE ON CAPE HAYTIAN.

CONSULAR CORPS NOTIFIED

FOREIGN RESIDENTS WARNED TO LEAVE CITY.

CONSULS ASK AID OF FRANCE

TROUBLE IN WEST INDIES EM-BARRASSED UNCLE SAM

Cape Haytian, Hayti, July 22.—The local authorities here have notified the consular corps that Cape Haytian is to be attacked by land and sea and that they cannot guarantee the safety of foreigners. The consuls have requested that the French cruiser d'Assas, now at Port au Prince, be sent here, but the French minister there has replied that the situation at Port au Prince does not permit the sending of the cruiser to Cape Haytian.

ORDERED TO HAYTIAN.

Washington, July 22.—Secretary Moody, in a cablegram today to Commander McCrea, of the gunboat Machias, now at Colon, directed him to proceed with that vessel to Cape Haytian in response to the request of the United States consul there. Orders also were sent to the gunboat Marietta directing her to proceed to Colon to take the place of the Machias as soon as she has finished her present work on the Venezuelan coast.

TAXES OUR RESOURCES.

Washington, July 22.—Unusual insurgent activity in the West Indies and on the shores of the Caribbean sea are taxing the resources of the navy department in the matter of ships to look after American interests. A cablegram received at the state department today from Minister Downen at Caracas states that the Marietta is proceeding to ascertain the facts connected with the alleged blockade by the Venezuelan government at its own port of Carupano. An attack upon Puerto Cabello, which lies about seventy miles west of the capital, is expected by the government, and the president may go there from Barcelona, instead of to Caracas, as he originally intended. The three United States warships on the Venezuelan coast are kept moving with alacrity to put in an appearance at the ports where disturbances are threatened.

Meanwhile a cry for a ship comes from Hayti in the shape of a cablegram received today from Consul Livingstone, at Cape Haytian, who reports that troops and Haytian warships are approaching to attack and bombard the cape. There is a good deal of apprehension among the foreigners for their safety. Beside the three ships employed in Venezuelan waters, the United States has in the Caribbean only the Machias at Colon and conditions there are so threatening that the officials are reluctant to move her. In any case, it would be impossible to get a ship to Cape Haytian in less than two or three days, by which time the crisis may be past.

SOON TO REACH FORT WAYNE

TWO CHICAGO MEN GOING TO NEW YORK IN CANOE.

Will Transfer From Wolf Lake to the Maumee River at This Point—The Route

Two Chicago men, Earl R. Parson and a friend, who have started to make the trip from Chicago to New York in a canoe, are expected in Fort Wayne daily.

Their unique trip will be a tedious one, but the sailors insist that they will enjoy it. Their ship is a canoe weighing forty-five and one-half pounds, and on leaving Chicago they made the trip to South Bend by way of Lake Michigan and the St. Joe river. They follow the St. Joe to Elkhart and Goshen, there striking the Elkhart river, which is followed to Wolf Lake, Noble county. Then the boat will be hauled overland to Fort Wayne, and placed on the Maumee river. Arriving at Toledo they will follow the lake to Buffalo, and take the Erie canal, which leads to the Hudson river. From this point they will have a clear path to New York.

NEW OIL FIELD OPENED.

St. Clairsville, Ohio, July 22.—There is great excitement in Belmont county today over the discovery of a new oil field at Uniontown, six miles from here. Last night a well was brought in yielding 26 barrels and today a second well was struck and it is estimated that it will yield 100 barrels a day. The well is owned ed by Drosler & Co., of Pittsburg, and already Pittsburg parties are here trying to lease land.

UNDERGOING NEEDED REPAIRS.

Extensive repairs and improvements are being made at the Jenney power station on Spy Run avenue, and for the next few weeks power for the city electric lights will be supplied by the Fort Wayne Electric works. An eighty-light and a 150-light dynamo are being used, the connections having been made Saturday night. An addition is to be built at the power station and two arc light dynamos will be installed.

EXTRADITION CASES ARE UP

RILEY-ACKER HEARING AGAIN
IN PROGRESS.

Many New Witnesses Here, Both for Identification and to Prove Alibi for Accused Men.

This afternoon United States Commissioner Logan resumed the hearing upon the extradition of the man arrested at Bluffton as William Acker, but who is known there as John Julian, and Benjamin Riley, gathered in by the officers at Convoys, Ohio, under a charge of robbery, alleged to have been committed in Canada in 1900.

When the case was taken up several days ago the Canadian government submitted a portion of its evidence bearing upon the identity of the two men. The prisoners, however, assert that they are not the men wanted, that they have never been in Canada, and the case was continued to permit the summoning of witnesses for the defense.

J. W. Murray, chief of the department of criminal investigation at Toronto, arrived in the city this morning, bringing with him three additional witnesses for the purpose of identifying the prisoners. Attorney J. J. M. LaFollette, who represented the Canadian government at the previous hearing, missed a train and was unable to reach the city today, and Col. R. S. Robertson is conducting the case for the Canadian government. Judge Mock, of Bluffton, is representing Acker, or Julian, and he requested Attorney Henry Colerick to assist him. Attorney Carl L. Smith appears for Riley.

The hearing was resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when Daniel O'Loane, a blacksmith at Ridgeway, Ontario, was placed upon the stand and was positive in his identification of the two men. On the other hand, some idea of the determined fight that is being made by Julian and Riley is presented by an array of twenty witnesses, who arrived from Bluffton today. They are summoned by the defense for the purpose of establishing an alibi for the two men, and the list of witnesses includes Clarence Kyle, W. A. McFarren, Dr. I. N. Hatfield, Roy White, Lew Scott, Sam Milligan, Frank Stogdill, John Hackett, William Dillmore and wife, J. L. Whaley, Isaac Ressler, William Higgins, Jesse Metts, Councilman James Clark, W. A. Fox, Christian Mapey, Elsie Haifich and Lew DeHaven.

It is expected at Bluffton that Judge Mock will be the principal witness for Riley, as it is said that the latter was living in a house owned by Judge Mock at the time he is charged with having been in Canada, and that the attorney is positive Riley was at home at that time.

The accused men have both been locked up in the county jail since their arrest. Both Mrs. Julian and Mrs. Riley are in the audience this afternoon hearing the testimony. The hearing will hardly be concluded today.

A JEALOUS MAN SLAYS TWO

KILLS HIS WIFE AND MAN HE SUSPECTED.

A Double Tragedy Enacted at Steelton, in Pennsylvania—Mur-derer Has Escaped.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 22.—William Filer, a steel worker, shot and killed his wife, Clara Filer, and Harry Bennett, a machinist, today at Steelton, near here. The Filers and Bennett boarded at the same house and it is alleged that Filer was jealous of Bennett's attentions to his wife. The parties had a bitter quarrel last night and Filer left the house. He returned this morning and the quarrel was renewed. The husband drew his revolver and shot Bennett, killing him instantly. Mrs. Filer ran into the street, followed by her husband, who shot her through the heart. She died while being carried into the house. The murderer escaped and is still at large.

Filer and Bennett were employed at the Pennsylvania steel works and have lived at Steelton but a short time. They are not well known and no one seems to know where they came from.

NEW AFFIDAVITS ARE FILED

MRS. BLAIR ON THE TRAIL OF SALOONKEEPER HUNT.

Alleges He Has Sold Liquor to Boys and Allowed Them to Loiter—
The Justices' Courts.

In Bullermann's court Harriet Amanda Blair, mother of the young lad who got drunk last Saturday and on whose account several affidavits were filed in the municipal court yesterday, being evidently very much in earnest, filed additional affidavits. They were directed against Charles Hunt and charge selling to minors and allowing minors to loiter in saloons. They are of the same character as those filed in the city court only differing in the date named; these affidavits name July 3 as the time at which the offense was committed. The cases will be heard tomorrow evening.

In the same court Robert McLain has filed an affidavit against A. Martin charging assault and battery. Martin sold his East Main street saloon to McLain, receiving a sum of money in partial payment, but stipulating that McLain could have possession only when he had completed the purchase by paying all the purchase money. Today McLain entered the premises and proceeded to take possession over the objection of Mr. Martin. Mr. Martin became quite demonstrative as he proceeded with his objection and when the argument was over McLain was not in a presentable condition had he suddenly been called to preside at a society function. Justice Bullermann will investigate the matter this afternoon or evening.

The same justice is also booked to hear the troubles of Elizabeth and Joseph Pompey related. They are a divorced couple and the woman alleges that the ex-husband violently assaulted her and set her out doors. Justice Tancay is listening to a continuation of the Schroeder-Wolf racket started in the east end last week. In this instance Schroeder is the defendant and is charged with assaulting a lad named Rodeheaver. Schroeder is alleged to be quarreling and the police court record shows that he is even now out under suspended sentence, during good behavior.

The case of Fink vs. Boehm, on trial all day yesterday before Justice France, has been continued until tomorrow afternoon.

PAID PENALTY OF CRIMES

COCKE AND LAUDERDALE ARE HANGED IN MISSISSIPPI.

Law Exacts Their Lives for Brutal and Wanton Murder Committed While Drunk.

Greenville, Miss., July 22.—Ashley Cocke and Tom Lauderdale were hanged here at 11:41 a. m. today.

The crime for which Cocke and Lauderdale paid the death penalty was committed on a railroad train December 30, 1901. With them were Will Blackburn and G. M. Phipps. All were intoxicated. G. M. Wray, an engineer, was also a passenger and was asleep when the drunken quartet entered. They ordered Wray to leave the car, and as Wray, realizing their condition, started to do so, Cocke, Lauderdale and Blackburn opened fire on him. He was riddled with bullets and fell dead in the aisle. The murder created great excitement. Blackburn, helped by his previous good character, escaped with a life sentence. Cocke and Lauderdale fought their cases to the supreme court and powerful influence was brought to Governor Longino to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. The governor yesterday refused to interfere.

WILL GET WIRELESS MESSAGE.

London, July 22.—The Cunard line steamer Saxonia, sailing from Liverpool for Boston today, has a wireless telegram for Clarence H. Mackay, son of the late John W. Mackay, who sailed from New York Saturday, July 19, on the Campania, of the same line. The Saxonia hopes to communicate with the Campania tomorrow or Thursday.

The remains of Mr. Mackay have been embalmed and placed in a metallic coffin, which is now resting in the music room of the Mackay residence, surrounded by flowers, which have been sent in great profusion. Cards, letters and telegrams from many distinguished persons in all parts of the world continue to arrive in great numbers.

Mrs. Mackay is as well as could be expected.

Columbia City Post: Mrs. Sam Miner and daughter, of Fort Wayne, arrived in the city this afternoon to visit the families of Joseph and Michael Effert.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 22.—All grains continued the break of yesterday at the opening today, but rallied speedily. Wheat felt the influence of lower cables, fair weather and heavy receipts. Offerings in July options early were free and depressed prices. The late weather seemed to help in the rally. Showers which had been overlooked early began to have a little effect and predictions of more rains, especially in Kansas, turned sentiment bullish. In spite of the large receipts contract stuff was only a fractional per cent. This helped September, which opened $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower at 71 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 71 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, advanced to 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Local receipts were 438 cars, 9 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 274 cars, making a total for the three points of 712 cars, against 712 last week and 764 a year ago. Receipts at St. Louis and Kansas City were reported increasing bearishly.

An estimate of small receipts for tomorrow later pushed September wheat to 73¢ and July to 77¢. The close was strong, both options $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ up, September 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and July at 77¢. Lower wheat prices, continued free movement of corn and the early weather reports started September corn $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 60¢ to 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Trade was only fair and there was little commission house demand early. The increase of 907,000 bushels in contract stocks was very bearish. As wheat rallied there was a better demand in corn and September rallied to 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. July opened $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ down at 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and rallied to 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Receipts were 469 cars, 61 of contract grade.

Corn was quiet until late in the session, but the bullish sentiment pushed September to 61 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and July to 67 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. The close was strong, September 61 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at 61 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 61 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, and July $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher at 67 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

Early trade in oats seemed to be a waiting game. Prices broke with the weather reports and the improved receipts. The break in other grains was some influence for free early offerings. A fair demand, however, was present, prices at once reacted above yesterday's closing figures. September opened $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and dipped to 33¢, but soon advanced and steadied near 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 33 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. July was nominally 65¢, but no trades were made early. Receipts were 184 cars, 40 of contract grade.

Shorts covered in July oats, forcing the market to the top price again, 67 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. The close was strong 3¢ higher at 66¢ for July and 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ higher at 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ for September.

Provisions were hammered by bears and were liberally liquidated early. Hogs were weak at the yards and influenced lower provision prices. Some support came in the pit, however, and prices rallied a little. September pork opened 20¢ to 5¢ lower at \$17.80 to \$17.95 and steadied near \$17.85; September lard 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ down at \$10.67 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 10.72 $\frac{1}{2}$ and sold at \$10.80, and September ribs 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ down at \$10.60 and sold at \$10.65.

Hogs slumped at the yards and under pressing manipulation by packers provisions broke in a panic fashion. September pork closed 70¢ lower at \$17.30; September lard 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ down at \$10.52 $\frac{1}{2}$, and September ribs 42 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ lower at \$10.25.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—July, 77¢; Sept., 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 74 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 74 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢; Dec., 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Corn—July, 67 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Sept., 61 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 61 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢; Dec., 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 43 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Oats—July, 51 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; new, 66¢; Sept., 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; new, 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Dec., 29 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; new, 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. THE KING IS ABLE TO WALK

EDWARD TAKES FEW STEPS ON BOARD HIS YACHT.

Will Hold His First Council With the New Cabinet on Shipboard in a Few Days.

London, July 22.—The weather was less disagreeable at Cowes, Isle of Wight, this morning and the reports from the royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, continue to chronicle King Edward's improvement. It is said that he walked a few steps yesterday.

The king will hold his first council since A. J. Balfour became premier on board the yacht shortly. It is expected that the name of the new lord lieutenant of Ireland to succeed Earl Cadogan, whose resignation was made public July 17, will then be announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid returned to London today after a tour of Scotland. Mr. Reid went by rail, meeting the remainder of his party at Skibo Castle, Sutherland, the seat of Andrew Carnegie, to which they had journeyed from London in an automobile. Mr. Carnegie, who is in excellent health, invited a large house party to meet Mr. and Mrs.

Reid, and on their departure drove them ten miles to the railroad station in the four-in-hand coach with which the late James G. Blaine made his tour of Scotland. Mr. and Mrs. Reid will sail for New York Saturday, July 26. They have cancelled most of their engagements, but will dine at Lord Roseberry's residence tonight.

The soft coal miners will not strike, a fact for which the public is deeply indebted to the chief officers of the miners' union.

Gen. Jacob H. Smith will doubtless add himself to the crowd that holds it treason to criticize the army or anybody that belongs to the army.

Old Jupiter Pluvius has undone all the Chicago grain bulls have done for the prosperity of the western farmers. The floods of the Mississippi and other rivers will cause losses of millions.

Mr. Bryan expresses belief that there will be democratic harmony. But he explains that there will be two democratic parties, in each of which there will be no disagreements and nothing to trouble the peacefulness of the party bosom.

It certainly was crowding the situation somewhat for Hon. David B. Hill to go to Oyster Bay to receive a presidential salute. And then there is another gentleman in that vicinity who might easily have held a mistaken belief that the cannonading was intended for himself.

The plank the Wisconsin republican convention constructed beneath Senator John C. Spooner requires him to battle against trusts and the interference of federal office-holders in Wisconsin politics. Senator Spooner now knows just what to do; likewise just where to "get off at," if that better suits his humor.

Colonel Groesbeck, a returned Philippine officer, says he regards the "water cure" as an exceedingly gentle and humane method of extorting information from recalcitrant insurgents. It would be interesting to know what the colonel would consider an inhumane method and whether he ever saw such a method employed and just what it was.

We observe that the republican press is in happy unison on the president's punishment of General Smith for his military severities—quite as much in unison, indeed, as they were in condemning General Miles for calling the country's attention to the military severities that were practiced in the Philippines and of which General Smith's conduct was a most conspicuous part.

A negro rapist was burned at the stake in Mississippi by a mob a night or two ago, in which incident there is nothing at all remarkable. About the same hour the Mississippi mob was performing its high and self-appointed duty another mob in Kentucky was engaged in the elevating work of lynching a white man—white, bear in mind—who had butchered his wife. This incident was very remarkable, indeed.

General Bragg, whose appointment as consul general to Havana may have to be withdrawn, says the offensive words he used in reference to the Cubans were expressed in private letters to his wife and should have no weight. Doubtless. But however the present matter may fall out, the doughty old general will probably hereafter reserve for the confidence of the bed curtain any views he may entertain as to the practicability of Uncle Sam making whistles of pigs' tails or a self-governing people of the Cubans.

The czar proposes an international conference to devise measures for curbing the rapacity of great industrial and commercial combines. Speed to the movement. But this recalls that four years ago the czar summoned the nations together to form a coalition to put an end to wars. The Hague convention was signed by all the civilized powers, big and little. Then less than a year after the peace covenant was signed Great Britain was at the Beers in a fashion that left no doubt the ways and means of warfare had not changed greatly.

The soft coal miners will not strike, but will support the anthracite miners while they are idle. Half a million dollars a week is believed to be the sum that can be raised from all sources to enable the striking Pennsylvania miners to carry on their war against the anthracite coal trust. This not only enables the present strikers to live, but enables the soft coal miners to thrive. A general strike would put them all under tremendous hardships and finally destitution, while both bodies of miners doubtless would lose all that is at stake.

Mr. Wu might round out his diplomatic career in this country by writing a book on "The Impressions I Have Made on America." He ought to know, for there was perfect design in his way of doing it.

Mr. Bryan did not get his invitation to the Tilden club dinner until several weeks after that notable function had passed. He makes it, however, stand for the text of discourse on the perfidy of Mr. Cleveland and takes renewed occasion to announce that he would not have accepted the invitation even if he had received it on time.

Tom L. Johnson should not go too far west to find wind for his presidential boom. When the time comes it doubtless will be discovered that the states between the Mississippi and the Alleghenies and several of the southern states will be in a tolerable state of harmony with the east on the question of issues and the consideration of candidates. The far west will not be the factor it has been in the last two national conventions, if the present situation is a criterion.

It would be cruel, inhuman to say the young lady who leaped into the water and came near drowning in order to have the ecstasy of being rescued by Captain Hobson would have met poetic justice if her folly had cost her life, but it is not improper to think that if her pa is big enough he ought to give her a salutary lesson across the paternal knee. Such foolhardiness is not commonly indulged in by women and this young lady has achieved not the distinction of being rescued by the hero of the Merimac, but of proving herself the prize fool of her sex.

The freight handlers' strike in Chicago cost the merchants of that city $10,000,000 in damage to goods and loss of trade. It cost the railroads many hundreds of thousands in loss of freight revenues and the strikers probably as much more in wages. There is no way of estimating the loss the community and the country generally suffered in inconvenience and deprecation. And the strikers have gone back to work on the terms offered more than two weeks ago. Looking the whole field of this trouble over, it is not hard to reach the conclusion that the freight handlers' strike was one that did not pay anybody.

It will afford great relief to the anxiety of the country and it reflects credit on the good sense of the mine workers' union that there is to be no gigantic sympathetic strike of soft-coal miners in support of the anthracite strike. The country is spared great hardship and much disorder and the miners have given high proof that they understand and appreciate their obligations. The soft-coal miners cannot strike at this time without flagrantly violating their obligations to the operators, with whom they have contracts that will not expire until next year. Were these contracts to be ruthlessly broken the miners would forfeit practically all public sympathy and esteem, a very serious sacrifice, indeed, when it is remembered that in almost all cases of differences with the operators the miners have the moral support of the public. Moreover, if these contracts were to be repudiated now it is doubtful if the soft-coal miners would again be able to enter into and maintain the same satisfactory relations that now subsist between miners and operators. The Indianapolis convention takes the better course to aid the striking anthracite miners. Support during idleness entailed by the strike is a much more important factor to the strikers and a much more serious matter to the operators than a general suspension of mining throughout the country. To the wisdom and forcefulness of President Mitchell, of the mine workers' organization, the sensible course adopted is largely due. Such leadership is the kind that achieves results.

The frequent recurrence of mine disasters is calculated to impress on the general public that the miner is pretty nearly justified in wringing all he can from the mine-owners for his uninviting and perilous toil.

The Wisconsin republicans endorse United States Senator Spooner for reelection most heartily, but with a reservation. Mr. Spooner will subscribe to all the platform declares and to nothing that it does not declare. In other words, Mr. Spooner will be wholly the creature of the convention or he non est.

Ex-Senator William F. Vilas, of Wisconsin, one of the members of the first Cleveland cabinet, has written a letter on the desirability of harmony in the democratic party, the policies that ought to govern and the prospect of success. In due time Mr. Bryan will show Mr. Vilas just where he is at; likewise some whys and wherefores.

With the death of John W. Mackay the last of the great "bonanza kings" of the golden west passes from earth. Mackay was not only the last but the best of them. He amassed enormous wealth, and he worked hard for it. When he had become rich he turned his wealth to good account. He had business talents of the first order and he was the creative genius in vast enterprises that have wrought public good. His life was lived plainly, virtuously and industriously and he died having the respect of all who knew what his life had been. Of no other "bonanza king" can this be said.

While the United States is developing Porto Rico, civilizing the Philippines and starting Cuba in the way she should go, it might not prove a great addition to our white man's burden to undertake reduction of affairs in Hayti to a state of order. The different kinds of devilry that turbulent little republic can stir up and keep stirred up is more marvelous to behold than agreeable to endure. Hayti is quite within our "sphere of influence" and her bad behavior ought to appeal to our interest. Revolution as a pastime may be very well, but as a national vocation it is ultra-strenuous.

Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, has decided to decline the place offered him by the president on the bench of the court of claims. Senator McLaurin had in the first place given notice that he would accept the place, but the wide criticism aroused by publicity of his intention appears to have altered his mind. McLaurin entered the senate as a democrat, but for several years he has been in everything save name a republican. He voted with the republicans in the senate on every proposition that had political importance and took as his reward the distribution of much federal patronage in his state. He has been practically read out of the party in South Carolina. There is no further reason why he should continue to dissemble as to his political sympathies and conduct and probably none why he should not take the job a republican president tenders him.

We do not desire to prejudice the saloonkeepers arrested upon charges of having sold liquor to two boys who became intoxicated last Saturday. Whether these particular saloonkeepers be guilty or not in no wise affects the general and more important fact that a minor who wants to get drunk is not likely to find much difficulty in buying at saloon bars what drinks he feels he may need for the purpose. Among a certain class of saloons the practice of selling to boys ranging in age from sixteen to twenty years is altogether too common. No questions are asked; no secrecy is observed. The lads are served with what they call for. It is to be expected that the inquiry in the cases now before the court will be searching and vigorous and the penalty, if guilt be established, as heavy as the law prescribes. The deplorable truth of the whole matter is that if the county prosecutor were moved with a proper zeal for the performance of his duties he would bring this class of offenses to the attention of the grand jury. The truth could be got at and the penalty of guilt, where inflicted, would be a most salutary lesson to the offending saloonkeepers.

O'REILLY GETS IT

PRESIDENT NAMES A NEW SURGEON GENERAL.

HE SUCCEEDS GEN. FORWOOD

CENSUS BUREAU GIVES OUT SOME FARM STATISTICS.

RIVERS AND HARBORS REPORT

GENERAL NEWS FROM NATIONAL CAPIATAL TODAY.

Washington, July 21.—The president has designated Col. R. M. O'Reilly to be surgeon general of the army, to succeed General Forwood, who will retire on September 7 next. Colonel O'Reilly will have until January, 1903, to serve as surgeon general. He was appointed from Pennsylvania as the medical cadet in 1864. He is a graduate of the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania.

SOME FARM FIGURES.

Washington, July 21.—The census bureau today issued a bulletin giving the condition of agriculture in the United States for the year 1900. It shows that there were at that time 5,739,657 farms in the entire country, which were valued at $16,674,694,247. Of this amount $3,560,198,191, or over 21 per cent., represented the value of buildings, and $13,114,492,056, or over 78 per cent., represented the value of lands and improvements other than buildings. The value of farm implements and machinery was $761,261,550, and of live stock $3,078,050,041. These values, added to the value of the farms, gives a total value of farm property amounting to $20,514,001,838.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

Washington, July 21.—Lieut. Col. O. H. Ernst has made his annual report of the improvements of the rivers and harbors of the Chicago district. He makes the following estimates for the fiscal year 1904: Chicago harbor, $210,000; to complete the project, $457,965. Calumet harbor, $204,480, which will complete the project. Calumet river, $260,000; to complete the project, $423,822. No estimate is made for the Chicago river, there being now available $507,954.

Colonel Ernst, in discussing the effects of making the Chicago river a sewer for the city of Chicago, says that the slope of the river has been changed and this has reduced the depth, but the sanitary district has agreed to remedy this defect by dredging. Periodical dredging will be necessary to maintain the river as a navigable channel and a sewer. As it is a sewer of the city, the colonel thinks the city and not the general government should do the dredging and maintain the channel.

PORT IS BLOCKADED.

Washington, July 21.—A cablegram received at the state department today from United States Minister Bowen at Caracas states that the Venezuelan government has announced that the port of Carapano is blockaded. This port has been in possession of the government and of the revolutionists alternately during the past few months and at present the revolutionists hold the place, hence the attempt of the government to prevent ships entering there and paying customs dues to their enemies.

STRIKE FUND TO BE IMMENSE

MINE WORKERS WILL HAVE LARGEST IN HISTORY.

Likely to Approach Half Million Dollars Weekly and Will Be Handled From Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, July 21.—The great strike fund in the history of organized labor is to be handled in Indianapolis. The officers of the United Mine Workers are confident that there will be a ready response to the appeal made by the convention, and while half a million dollars a week may not be obtained, they believe the weekly receipts will not fall much short.

W. B. Wilson, national secretary and treasurer, to whom all subscriptions are payable and who will distribute the funds, said today that the office force will be increased immediately so there will be no delay in handling the money.

The defense fund is to be distributed among the three anthracite districts, according to their membership. Wilson says that district No. 1 will probably receive 53 per cent.; No. 2, 35 per cent., and No. 3, 12 per cent. District No. 1 has more members than both No. 2 and No. 3. The money will be sent from Indianapolis to the secretaries of the anthracite districts and distributed by them among the strikers.

The auditing committee, Michael McTaggart and Patrick Fitzsimmons, of Pennsylvania, and J. J. Mossop, of Ohio, are now going over the accounts of the organization for the last quarter.

RACES AGAIN POSTPONED.

Detroit, Mich., July 19.—Almost continuous rain since yesterday makes horse racing at the Grosse Pointe track out of the question again today. Yesterday's card of the Blue Ribbon races has been finally declared off except that the Merchants' and Manufacturers' consolation $2,000 stake will be run at some future time, possibly next week at Cleveland.

RIVER FALLING AT ST. LOUIS

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD HAS NOT REACHED CITY.

But Damage Through Iowa is Extensive — Eastern Country Storm Swept.

St. Louis, July 21.—The expected flood due to the heavy rains emptying into the Mississippi from its various tributaries above here, has not yet reached St. Louis and the water is falling, the government gauge today showing 26.1 feet, a decline of two feet since yesterday. At Hannibal, above here, the weather observer reports the water eight inches higher than Saturday morning, and rising at the rate of a quarter of an inch an hour.

Keokuk, Iowa, July 21.—The situation in the flooded districts of the Mississippi south of Keokuk grows more serious hourly. The almost measureless waste of madly rushing waters rose six inches higher yesterday. Towns on the Illinois side as well as in Missouri are in peril, for there is danger that the levees will not withstand the terrible pressure.

Between here and Hannibal a territory of 700 square miles is under water to such a depth that steamboats can navigate for miles where corn fields last week promised rich harvests to the hopeful farmers.

The damage done to crops and other property in this district already is estimated at $6,000,000 and it is feared these figures will be doubled before the waters recede.

SALOONKEEPERS TO BE TRIED

THREE CHARGED WITH SELLING TO MINERS.

The cases of Charles Hunt, on two affidavits, John Kennedy on two and Tom Clark on one, all charging the selling of liquor to miners were called at police court this morning. Attorney Thomas appeared for Clark and Hunt and Kennedy appeared for himself and on their representations the hearing was deferred until tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The court fixed the bond at $100 each, which the defendants forgot to furnish, but all promised to be on hand when the cases are next called. The affidavits were subscribed to by Officer Coling and were made at the suggestion of Mayor Berghoff, who drew them. Edward Blair, a lad of 16, and Earl Arnold, another youth of tender years, who got drunk on Saturday night, are the principal witnesses for the state.

SECOND HAND STORE CASES.

The city cases against Gust Schubert, Richard Hammond, Weil Bros. and Henry Goldstein, filed yesterday, for violating the ordinance governing the keeping of records in second hand stores and junk shops, were also continued until tomorrow morning. Goldstein was fined yesterday but was given additional time to find out whether he wanted to appeal or not. Detective Coling in speaking of the facts that led to the arrests, said that recently an overcoat was lost and he went to the second hand and pawn shops to see whether the garment had been sold or pawned. He found that with the exception of Marriotte and Libbing, none of the pawnbrokers and second hand dealers pretended to keep books according to the ordinance; those two, he said, had perfect books. He reported the fact at headquarters and was then instructed to notify all dealers governed by the ordinance that they should comply with the regulations. He did so and furnished each with a copy of the ordinance as printed in the official council proceedings. Later he made another round of the places and was politely told by the proprietors that the print was too fine and that they could not read it. The ordinance was then reprinted in larger type and a copy was furnished each dealer in slip form. Still there was no improvement. The detective went to Schubert, the clothing man, who told him that he didn't have to keep a book, that he didn't have a pawn shop. Then "Buggy"

Franz complained that Schubert had loaned him a dollar on a coat and refused to give it up; "Buggy" was advised to demand his coat again and file an affidavit against Schubert if refused; "Buggy" did so and was thrown into the street for his pains. The officer again went to Schubert and was again rebuffed; the officer reminded him that he had bought several suits of clothes from Murray Beach and that there was no record of the purchase. "Beach is a rich young fellow," said Schubert, "and I guess he can sell his clothes if he wants to," and still he refused to keep a book. Weil Bros. told the detective that they couldn't bother with keeping books—that they were too busy and did too big a business to bother with that kind of books. The officer told them that the ordinance did not contemplate shipments, but only stuff bought from individuals and "short junkers." He was told that they never bought that way. "Yes, I suppose not," said the detective, "but you bought a lot of lead pipe, cut in pieces from young Cox which he stole from his father's house, didn't you? You'd better keep a book." The firm promised, but there is no book. And so it went on down the line. Goldstein said that his old book was full and that he discarded it about three months ago; his new book has only three pages covered since, all written in pencil and evidently filled after the arrest was made. "It's like this," said Coling: "If I don't go after these fellows they pay no attention to you and the department gets the blame. If you go after them they blame you for meddling. I've made up my mind to file affidavits in all these cases and then if the court concludes that the ordinances should not be enforced it's up to the city and its court. I won't stand for the blame."

POLICE NOTES

Officer Cheviron picked up a stray horse last night and stabled it at Horstman's barn, on Main street.

Miss Emma Schnitz, of 905 Crescent avenue, reports the theft of a bicycle, taken from her home.

William Sagart, of Reading, Mich., arrived in the city last evening in search of his son, who came to town on Sunday on a Lake Shore excursion train. He failed to return and the father thought that perhaps some evil had befallen him. He accordingly came down to see whether he could find his missing son and heir, who is about sixteen years of age. He furnished an excellent description of the young man, but the officers know of no such person having been found lying around loose anywhere and he was certainly promiscuous enough to attract attention if he is in town. The police department is of the opinion that the young fellow thought he would just go a little farther and see whether he could find anything bigger anywhere than Fort Wayne.

LADRONE CHIEFS GET AWAY

BREAK THROUGH THE CORDON IN CAVITE.

Find Weak Place in the Constabulary—Fourteen of the Ladrone Were Killed.

Manila, July 22.—Montallon and Felizardo, the ladrone chiefs, have broken through the constabulary cordon in Cavite province and have escaped to the mountains. A number of ladrone were killed in earlier attempts to force the cordon.

The cordon encompassed the leaders and many of their followers. The latter when trapped made a series of breaks to escape. The constabulary withstood the first attacks, killing fourteen and capturing fifteen men. The ladrone finally massed together under cover of the darkness and forced their way through a weak spot in the cordon near Das Armas, killing one and wounding one of the constabulary. The latter captured the papers and effects of the leaders and destroyed quantities of supplies.

An extensive drive, with the object of capturing the ladrone chiefs Montallon and Felizardo and fifty of their followers, was organized in Cavite province. Twelve hundred constabulary, commanded by Captain Baker, moved last Thursday at daylight, forming a complete angle-shaped cordon covering sixty square miles. Patrol launches guarded the rivers and it was expected to close the cordon last Saturday. The entire male population of the towns and farms were to be included in the concentration movement. When complete the ladrone were to have been arrested and the others were to have been released.

OUTING AT THE BASH FARM.

The ladies of the Westminster Social circle will enjoy an outing at the Bash farm Thursday afternoon and evening, and the indications are that the attendance will be very large. The trip will be made over the interurban line, supper will be served at the farm and the return trip will be made by moonlight.

WEAPON IS CASH

SOFT COAL MINERS WILL NOT GO ON STRIKE.

WILL HELP ANTHRACITE MEN

MITCHELL'S RECOMMENDATIONS ARE ADOPTED.

ADDRESSED TO THE PUBLIC

ONE MILLION A MONTH NEEDED TO SUPPORT STRIKE.

Indianapolis, July 19.—There will be no sympathetic strike of the bituminous coal miners in aid of the striking anthracite workers.

The convention of the United Mine Workers of America in this city today adopted with some modifications the recommendations of President Mitchell that there be no sympathetic strike, but the members of the organization be subjected to an assessment to support the striking miners in the anthracite coal fields.

An address was adopted setting forth to the country the position of the miners and the causes of their action.

When the convention met this morning it was evident that all probability of a strike had vanished utterly. The anthracite men who have favored a strike were practically unanimous in believing that it would have been unwise to order a general strike. The chances are that the convention will finish its work today and it will be ended by the adoption of the recommendations of President Mitchell with the exception of amendments in the manner of bringing the assessments upon the members of the union.

"MOTHER" JONES TALKS.
At the opening of the convention this morning "Mother" Jones was given the floor. She made an address which was enthusiastically applauded by the delegates. She declared that before coming to Indianapolis she had favored a general strike, but since coming to the convention she had reached the opinion that the conclusion reached by the delegates to avoid such a movement was the wisest course. She urged the delegates to oppose at the congressional elections this fall every man who was favorable to "government by injunction."

REPORT CALLED FOR.
President Mitchell called for the report of the special committee. The committee was not ready to report and a number of addresses were made by delegates. A motion was made by Delegate Ryan, of Ill., that the convention endorse the meeting of employers and employees to be held in Minneapolis September 23 for the purpose of discussing the practicability of a universal eight-hour working day.

At 10:45 the convention took a recess of thirty minutes to await the report of the special committee.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.
At 11:55 the special committee was prepared to report. Its recommendations were as follows:

First, that the national secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers be authorized to appropriate $50,000 from the funds of the national treasury for the benefit of districts 1, 7 and 9. (These are the anthracite districts.)

Second, that all districts and sub-districts and local unions be asked to donate whatever they can afford for the support of the strike.

Third, that an assessment of 10 per cent be levied on the earnings of members of unions 6, 8, 12, 13, 19, 23 and 25, and that an assessment of 1 per cent per week be made of the members of districts 2, 5, 11, 14, 15, 16, 20 and 21. This assessment is not to be made against members of unions now on strike, but in such cases the assessment is to commence when the strikes are over, the manner of this being arranged by the unions.

Fourth. Assessments to be paid directly by the local unions to Secretary-Treasurer Wilson.

Fifth. That 25 per cent be deducted from the salaries of all national district officers and organizers.

Sixth. That the assessments begin July 16.

Seventh. That all contributions made by the national organization be distributed pro rata to the anthracite districts in the ratio shown by the last coal reports.

Eighth. That each local union be requested to aid as far as possible in securing work for the men now on strike. In this connection the good offices of the American Federation of Labor will be requested.

AN ADDRESS ISSUED.

Ninth. That an address be submitted to the American people. The salient points of this address as read by Secretary Wilson are as follows: "The convention of the United Mine Workers hereby state the line of action which its members are determined to pursue.

"The coal miners of the country recognize the marvelous industrial progress of the country during the last decade, but our labor has produced the foundation for most of this wealth by producing the coal which has made the progress possible. But when the miners examine the paltry pittance they receive as recompense for the labors and dangers they undergo, they feel that they are being dealt with unjustly in payment for so much labor and so many sacrifices.

"The combinations of capital are so powerful that individuals are helpless and the experience shows that when capital combines, labor must unite. The grievances of the miners have forced them to organize, not to take from the operators what belongs to them, but to receive better treatment and fair remuneration for their labor.

"For five years the miners have lived up to the letter and spirit of every contract into which they have entered and do not intend to violate them now.

"The miners believe that the best interests of the country are opposed to a general strike of the coal miners, and while they feel that in the present fight their union may be destroyed nothing can compel them to break their agreements. The miners request the American people to bring such pressure to bear upon the anthracite operators and anthracite railroads as will compel them to submit to arbitration.

"The expenses of the miners call for a contribution of $1,000,000 per month from sources outside the union and with this amount the miners are confident that they can win the anthracite strike."

A number of amendments were offered to the wording of several of the sections, but they were all voted down. The report of the committee was then adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

President Russell, of the Illinois miners, announced that the unions of that state would contribute $50,000 in cash for the anthracite strike. Ohio contributed $10,000 and Iowa and Illinois promised substantial contributions later.

President Mitchell made a short speech declaring that there was in the treasuries of the local unions throughout the country approximately $1,000,000 and that his opinion of what the unions could afford to contribute to the cause of the anthracite strike was one-half of this money. After the transaction of some routine business the convention adjourned at 1 o'clock by the singing of "America."

BABY WAS JUST BORROWED

KENDALLVILLE MAN'S MISSION WAS FRUITLESS.

John Kelly Went to Montpelier to Dispossess Some Tenants,

But Didn't Do So.

Mayor James Graves and John Kelly, of Kendallville, were in the city Saturday, en route home by automobile from Montpelier. Both gentlemen have many friends in Fort Wayne, and an interesting incident of their trip to Montpelier leaked out while they were in town that morning.

Mr. Kelly enjoys a joke, and he doesn't appreciate it less because it happened to be upon himself. Mr. Kelly has property at Montpelier, and he desired to dispossess some tenants who are now occupying it. Mayor Graves is his legal representative and they went to Montpelier fully determined to secure possession of the property.

Arriving at the residence they found the mother cooing over a wee infant. Mr. Kelly is tender-hearted, and he at once concluded to abandon the intention of ejecting the family while their infant was of so tender an age. Before leaving town, however, Mr. Kelly learned that the inmates of the house, expecting a demand to vacate from their landlord, had borrowed the baby from an accommodating neighbor for the purpose of playing upon Mr. Kelly's sympathies. The latter decided that a genius capable of successfully working a racket like that upon him ought to be properly recognized. The family is still occupying Mr. Kelly's house.

TWO A. O. H. DELEGATES INSANE

Denver, Col., July 19.—Two delegates to the A. O. H. convention are insane. Thursday night P. J. Enright, of Syracuse, ran into an office building, saying he was pursued by enemies, and jumped from a second story window, breaking a leg. Geo. W. Henderson, of Peoria, Ill., who also dictated letters under the name of A. J. Porter, was put under restraint yesterday. He had a fortune in ready cash yesterday and told acquaintances he was delegated by Mary Inglehart, of Peoria, to give it to the most deserving Denver orphanage. When he returned late Thursday night he was without money. At the two Roman Catholic orphanages the sisters said they had seen nothing of Henderson. Father McLaughlin, of Boston, put Henderson in care of physicians.

THE WASHINGTON VIEW.

Washington, July 19.—No matter how the negotiations at Rome end, even in the unlikely event that at the last moment the Vatican officials should accept the principal proposition advanced by Governor Taft, it is believed here that it will still be necessary for the apostolic delegate referred to in Cardinal Rampolla's notes to go forward to Manila in the capacity of an appraiser of the friars' properties. Monsignor Broderick, private secretary to Monsignor Sbarretti, called at the war department today and had a conference with Secretary Root, the substance of which has not been made public. Monsignor Broderick's principal, Monsignor Sbarretti, has been in Washington for many weeks. He started from Rome preceded by a declaration that he had been named as archbishop at Manila, but when he reached Washington on his way to the orient he was detained at the Catholic legation here. It was the original understanding that in his capacity of archbishop of Manila, if he was appointed to that post, he was to negotiate directly with Governor Taft respecting the church matters in the Philippines, including the friars' lands question. The outcome at Rome, taken in connection with Monsignor Broderick's call, has led to the belief that Monsignor Sbarretti is, after all, to be archbishop of Manila. At any rate, it is understood that he is to continue his journey to the Philippines, and if he does not fill the post mentioned, he may still be named as apostolic delegate there in view of the experience he has had in the same line in adjusting the status of the Catholic church properties in Cuba with Governor Wood while Monsignor Sbarretti was bishop of Cuba.

CASTRO COMES DOWN A HILL

Washington, July 19.—Minister Brown, at Caracas, has cabled the state department as follows:

"The president of Venezuela has abandoned the idea of attacking the enemy at Barcelona and is proposing to return to Caracas soon."

President Castro went to Barcelona, which was partially invested by the revolutionists about ten days ago, landing from a government warship and asserting that he would clear out the rebels within fifteen days. He had a considerable force of soldiers with him and the reason for his change of mind, in the absence of a decisive battle, can only be conjectured here. It is known that he is unable to regain Caracas by land owing to the presence between himself and the capital of revolutionary forces, and he must return by water, as he came.

POPE IS PLEASED

NOT DISPLEASED BY RESULT

THE WASHINGTON VIEW OF THE SITUATION.

Rome, July 19.—The dispatch from Rome published in the Daily Chronicle of London today, asserting that the pope is intensely displeased at the way in which the commission of cardinals has conducted the negotiations with Judge Taft in the matter of the friars in the Philippines, that he has annulled the procedure of the commission and has summarily dissolved it, expressing the view that the American demands were reasonable and signifying his readiness to treat with Judge Taft personally, is based on an entire misunderstanding of the situation. The commission of cardinals was not summarily dissolved. Its work ended with the acceptance of Cardinal Rampolla's proposition to defer further discussion of the negotiations to Manila. As all the parties agreed to this, it is absurd to say that the pope is desirous of personally treating with Judge Taft. On the contrary, the pope has expressed the highest satisfaction with the result of the negotiations. He said: "Having started direct relations with Washington is one of the happiest events of my pontificate."

Island Park assembly at Rome City, the pioneer western Chautauqua, will begin its twenty-fourth annual session on Wednesday of the coming week, July 23, to continue until August 14. Season after season, and not always with the encouragement of financial success, Island Park has for nearly a quarter of a century presented from its platform a uniformly excellent program.

When the Chautauqua idea was new to the west untold thousands flocked to Rome City to enjoy the intellectual feast prepared by its management. Later came a lowering of the attendance; other assemblies sprang up to divide the attendance with Island Park. During the past few years, however, the association has been upon a firm and conservative basis. It has sought to present the best attractions in its power and there has been an encouraging increase in the patronage for Island Park. The season of 1902 is confidently expected to show a much larger attendance than that of any recent year. A large number of excursions have been arranged for the special days, and the program for the entire season is one of interest and helpfulness.

The term of enlistment of two Fort Wayne soldiers, Sergeant "Bud" Carson and "Jack" Fromuth, who have seen three active years of service in the regular army, expires today, and the boys are expected to return home early in the present week. Carson is with the Ninth infantry at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., and Fromuth is with the Fourteenth infantry at Fort Snelling, Minn. MILK WAGON WRECKED.

A milk wagon belonging to Dairyman Peter Junk, living west of the city, was wrecked on DeWald street in a runaway Saturday morning. Mr. Junk's horse was frightened by a Belt line car near Calhoun street and covered the distance to Fairfield avenue in about a minute and a half.

DEWALD STREET WAS THOROUGHLY baptized with milk for the entire four squares, and when the horse was stopped what was left of the wagon wouldn't make a decent bonfire.

YOUNG HOUSE PROVED HERO

FORT WAYNE LAD'S DARING

RESCUE AT LAKE WAWASEE.

After Long Effort He Saves Four

People Whose Boat Had Capsized Far From Shore.

Leonard House, about fifteen years of age and the son of Mr. and Mrs.

John S. House, of 2131 Broadway, is receiving many congratulations for a heroic accomplishment at Lake

Wawasee on Tuesday, when he saved the lives of four young people whose boat had capsized far from shore.

Young House, who is spending the summer at the lake with the family, was seated in front of his cottage,

when he saw a small sailboat, in which three young ladies and a young man were riding, capsize in a squall which came upon the lake suddenly. House sprang into a row boat, and though the distance from the cottage to the scene of the accident is almost a mile, the lad covered the distance in surprisingly short time.

The unfortunate quartet were floundering about in the water, forty feet deep at that point, in an almost exhausted condition, and the young man reached them just in time. With the assistance of a young lady who is an expert swimmer and had reached the party from the nearer shore on the opposite side of the lake, House succeeded in rescuing the four and bringing them safely to land.

CAUSED MUCH EXCITEMENT

A RUNAWAY HORSE DASHED

DOWN CALHOUN STREET.

Collided With Electric Wire Pole

and Wrecked Buggy—Driver

Slightly Injured.

Dozens of people on Calhoun street between the Wabash depot and Berry street had narrow escapes from injury

just after 11 o'clock Saturday morning, when a horse attached to Bishop Aldering's carriage came dashing down the thoroughfare, resisting all efforts of the driver to control him, and causing consternation among the drivers of other vehicles as well as pedestrians, who scurried in all directions to escape the runaway.

Bishop Aldering had just been driven to the station to take a west bound train, and his coachman, William Laux, was preparing to return to the residence when his horse became frightened at a street car and dashed northward at a frightful pace. In a moment the horse was beyond control, and the race was a mad one until between Wayne and Berry streets he took to the sidewalk, colliding with one of the iron posts of the street railway company in front of Sievert's jewelry store. The front portion of the carriage was pretty badly wrecked, and the horse which tore itself loose was captured around the corner on Berry street.

Laux, the driver, stuck to the carriage, and was slightly injured in trying to stop the frightened animal.

When the frantic animal dashed upon the sidewalk in front of the Sievert store it appeared as though a large amount of plate glass must be wrecked, and pedestrians hurried ly sought places of safety. One lady in her hurry to get away stepped through a sidewalk showcase in front of Wolf & Dessauer's.

HE WAS ALSO A SURETY.

John Tritch, a farmer residing near

Pleasant Lake, Steuben county, today filed in the federal court a petition in bankruptcy, asking to be relieved from indebtedness aggregating $1,- 443.35. The debts are judgments obtained against Mr. Tritch as surety for Monroe Wright, the defaulting ex-trustee of Salem township, Steuben county. Mr. Tritch figures up assets amounting to a total of $60.

His attorney is Cyrus Cline, of Angola. Some days ago another of the sureties for Wright also filed a bank-rupt's petition.

KEPT WEDDING A SECRET.

Miss Selma Gross and John W.

Copper were quietly married on Sunday morning, and the matter was kept secret from their friends until today when an announcement of the wedding was made. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jay C. Dor-win, pastor of Simpson M. E. church, at his residence. The many friends of the young people extend congratulations. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Copper will reside with the bride's mother at 137 Masterson av-

NEW ARCHBISHOP

POPE TO APPOINT PRELATE FOR MANILA.

BISHOP MESSNER IS SLATED

PROFESSOR OF CANON LAW IN WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY.

LEO'S GIFTS TO GOV. TAFT

PHILIPPINE EXECUTIVE MAY RETAIN THEM.

Rome, July 22.—Besides an apostolic delegate for the Philippine islands the Vatican is preparing to appoint an archbishop of Manila, who will probably be Bishop Sebastian Gebhard Messner, (a Swiss) professor of canon law at the Catholic university in Washington since 1890. Three new Philippine dioceses will also be created. Governor Taft before starting for Naples to visit Pompeii and Mount Vesuvius, expressed a desire that the bishop of one of the new dioceses be a native Filipino. Major Porter has started for Paris, to spend a few days there before returning to Washington.

TAFT MAY KEEP PRESENTS.

Washington, July 22.—Governor Taft has acquainted Secretary Root with the fact reported in the news dispatches from Rome that the pope had tendered several pretty and appropriate gifts to himself and the members of his party and he has asked whether these can lawfully be accepted. It was at once recognized that the question thus presented involved some very delicate and interesting points, principal among them being a possible decision, expressly to be avoided at this stage in the opinion of the officials, as to the temporal powers of the pope. If these were decorations or gifts of large value, then under the constitutional inhibition, they might not be received without authority of congress if the pope is regarded as having temporal power—as being a prince, a potentate or a sovereign. Secretary Root has, however, avoided an unpleasant decision of this question by informing Governor Taft that if these gifts are not of considerable intrinsic value, and are personal in character, they may be accepted as mere souvenirs, in which case the personality of the giver need not be a matter of official inquiry. On the other hand, if the gifts are of exceptional value, which is not believed to be the case from the newspaper reports, then they may be deposited in the Smithsonian institute in this city.

A MYSTERIOUS CRIME.

Helen, Mont., July 22.—Mrs. D. M. Durfee, wife of County Attorney Durfee, of Phillipsburg, was shot and probably fatally wounded in a mysterious manner in Missoula last night. Mrs. Durfee was returning home from her dressmaker's when shot. She did not see anyone and but for the position of the wound could not tell the direction from which the pistol was fired. Mrs. Durfee is a most estimable woman and the shooting has created a great sensation. There is absolutely no clue nor can any valid reason be assigned for the act.

HAS DETACHABLE TAIL

Species of California Lizard Which Unjoins Its Caudal Annex in Time of Danger.

Certain species of lizards have the remarkable and convenient faculty of dispensing with their tails in times of danger, those of California being especially gifted by nature with detachable appendages.

Summer campers in the mountains have excellent opportunities for studying this characteristic of the lizard tribe, and many strange anecdotes are carried from forested wilderness to city homes.

The lizard loses his tail as a miser love of his money, but sometimes it seems detrimental to his safety, and as it is connected to his body with a sort of patent fastener arrangement that becomes loosened with the slightest muscular twitch, it frequently drops off, leaving the reptile in a painful state of terminal decollete. When once off the tail can not be readjusted, but nature is kind, and in course of time a new growth takes its place, and the lizard is made as good as new.

Mr. Sturtevant, who lives in Sierra Madre, Cal., at the foot of the Mount Wilson trail, was camping in the mountains a short time ago, and tells the following story of a progressive tragedy which he witnessed in nature's auditorium, the actors being a lizard, some flies, a cat and a coyote.

"I was sitting on a rock eating my camp dinner, and after finishing my coffee I tossed the sweetened grounds on the grass at my feet. I then lit my pipe, settled myself as comfortably as my bowdler chair would permit, and proceeded to enjoy the beauty and fragrance of the great nature garden, and listen to the choral concert of stream and pines. No animate creatures were in evidence, and I seemed to be the only living thing in the wilderness.

"Before long, however, a prosperous looking lizard crawled into the arena, and for some time circled about with indefinite intent. At last scenting the sugared coffee grounds, he darted to the banquet board and began to eat. Every once in a while, by way of variety, he took in a fly by suction.

"While the lizard was gorging on flies and coffee, happily ignorant of impending danger, I saw my old cat creeping up, her tail nervously twitching back and forth, and her mouth quivering in anticipation of a feast. At last she gave a swift spring, but in doing so she made a slight noise that warned the lizard, and quick as a flash, while the cat was yet in mid-air, the lizard shuddered convulsively, dropped its tail as a startled thief would drop his booty, and scurried for the underbrush. The cat lit, and clutched the abandoned tail, and the look of astonishment and awe that swept over her physiognomy when she discovered how she had been outwitted was enough to make a stone laugh. She finally ate the tail with apparent relish, and then went off a short distance, where she sat contentedly washing her face.

"In a very short time the lizard came from its hiding place and glided all about, as if hunting for its lost appendage. Every once in awhile it hesitated, and blinked its eyes as if to keep back the tears, then continued the search.

"About this time pussy had finished her ablutions, and discovering the return of her victim, she pounced upon the lizard, this time without ceremonious preparation, and ate it up. Then I thought how strange was the power that had combined the lizard, the flies and the cat.

"Not long afterwards I heard the brush crackling and a series of distressed meows down the canyon. I picked up my gun and followed the sounds, and when I arrived on the scene I found a great sneaking coyote just finishing my cat. Taking careful aim I finished the coyote, and for the first time in my life I obtained several species of game—lizard, flies, cat and coyote—all with one shot.

WHAT A BARBER SEES.

"In the good old days," said a west end barber to P. W. the other day, "nobody was in a hurry. A man took all day for a bath and a hair-cut, and expected entertainment thrown in with the towels and the lather. In those days the barber talked to kill time, but nowadays time kills all talk.

"Smooth faces are on the increase. A man cannot keep his secrets behind a smooth face, and it is a mystery to me, therefore, why nearly everybody is shaving, seeing that half the world is laying itself out to cheat the other half. A beard covers unpleasant looking facial lines, an agreeable fact which ought to fit in with the tastes of the majority of business men, but it doesn't, somehow.

"A clean shaven man is usually good and handsome. That has always been my experience. But the man who has the right to a smooth face is he with a fine, strong chin and clean cut lips and good teeth and honest eyes; on the other hand, men with receding chins and weak upper lips and projecting teeth and ugly lines at the corner of the mouth ought to be required by law to grow either a moustache or beard, or both. A few years ago it was only actors and waiters, coachmen and footmen who affected the shaven face, but the present universal fashion no doubt took root some years ago when barristers first commenced to shave."

LIBELED FUNSTON.

Now when a man lies he might as well do it well, and this is what W. T. Furgeson, of Knoxville, did, says the Manila American. He says he served with the Kansans in the Philippines, but that doesn't seem to have made him either truthful or honest, when he says:

"From a private's point of view, General Funston was not so warm, and his capture of Aguinaldo was given the wink by the boys in the ranks. It was simply a joke and nine-tenths of the privates looked upon it as a farce. I speak but the views of a large majority of my comrades when I say I have not the slightest doubt that Aguinaldo knew the very day he was to be captured, and that he was given money and promised protection if he would become a party to the plan to throw a little cheap glory on General Funston.

"This was tipped off to the boys in the ranks. I believe firmly that Aguinaldo was in the plan. I think General Funston was selected to do the job because he was perhaps the only officer in the army who was hungry enough for cheap glory to lend himself to such a scheme."

Funston must have done something awful to Private Furgeson during his enlistment to have so embittered him. But Furgeson writes himself down an ass of the first magnitude. The tips to the boys in the ranks don't come that way and then none of "the boys" went out with General Funston, you know, but poor Furgeson over there in Tennessee didn't know that—and how was he to know it? Of course, General MacArthur and General Wheaton put up a job on the government and just presented Funston with a star. The foolkiller is not attending to his duty in Tennessee.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

The problem of how to keep young, or to keep from looking old, has engaged the thoughts of both men and women ever since the world began. Women especially have shown a deep interest in the vexatious matter, for their influence with men has always depended much on physical freshness and beauty. Numerous writers have contributed their views as to defying the riddle of the ravages of time. The latest well-known writer to discourse on the familiar theme is Max O'Rell. Without giving a recipe for the preservation of beauty, M. Blouet drops many useful hints as to the causes which lead to the unnaturally early disappearance of youth in some people. Bad temper and a lack of humor are, in his opinion, the two greatest enemies of youth and beauty. Max O'Rell thinks that with the aid of a sense of humor and good temper a woman can be young and beautiful until 50. After 50 he can offer no advice on the subject.

GAVE THE NOTICE.

What seems to be a new story of the beloved McGosh, of Princeton, has it that, as he was about to begin the morning prayer in the chapel, following the announcements and notices for the day, a student came with a request from the professor of French that the latter's class assemble at 9 o'clock, instead of 9:30 o'clock, the usual hour. The good old doctor protested that the notice came too late; but the student said the matter was so important to the professor that it ought to be read.

"Very well," said the doctor—"I'll announce it after prayer."

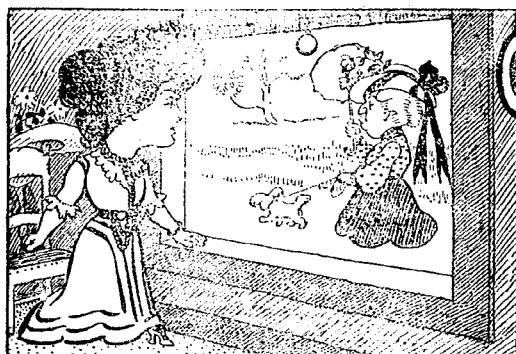

He then began to pray. He prayed for everybody of note, running down through the list from president of the United States to the members of the New Jersey's house of representatives, and finally switched into the local officials, ending with the instructors in the college, says the Philadelphia Times. Then the benighted notice came to his mind; and here was the final invocation:

"God bless the faculty of Princeton, and especially Professor Karge, whose French class will be held this morning at 9 o'clock, instead of 9:30 o'clock, as usual!"

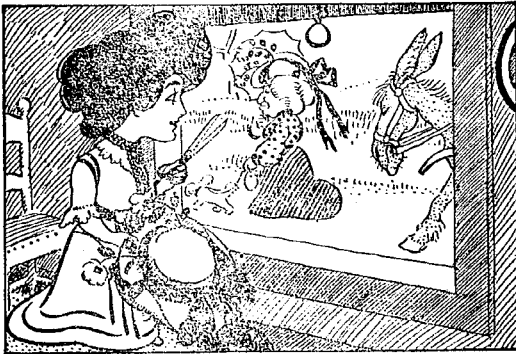

REVERIE OF A FALLING MAN.

John Anderson, the former naval jackie, who, while painting iron work beneath the high bridge a month ago, was severely injured by a fall, is rapidly recovering at the city hospital. Both his thigh bones were broken, his left leg was fractured near the ankle, a portion of bone was torn from his right hip, and he was wounded about the crown of his head. But he will not be permanently maimed or disfigured. On the afternoon of May 20 he was swinging happily, like a bird on a twig, within a "sling" six feet below

A MIDSUMMER REVENGE.

Mrs. Nuwed—There's that ugly old Mrs. Gotrox gone and got a hat exactly like mine. Oh! I'll get even with that old vixen!

"I have an idea. She'll be back this way soon. I'll just cut a couple holes in my hat!"

"Here, Uncle Mose, is a nice sunshade for that poor old mule of yours. You can have it if you'll keep on this street for ten minutes."

the roadway of the high bridge and about 100 feet above the Mississippi river. The seat of a swing is a short piece of plank. It is attached at each end to ropes, which, passing through a block, return to the sling as a signal rope. By lengthening or shortening this rope the man in the sling can lower or elevate himself.

"I was hanging close to one of the steel rods," said he yesterday, "a rod that I was painting. My rope was good and fast. I had no warning of any danger, when the sky and the clouds, and the bottom of the big bridge in the middle of it all, dashed past my eyes and the air whistled in my ears like a typhoon on the China seas. I knew I was going down head first. No, I wasn't frightened. I said to myself, 'Now I'll strike the river before long, and if I keep going this way I'll hit the water head first, which will be just as good as diving; and being a good swimmer, I can easily get ashore.' I wondered, too, if I'd beat my paint brush down. Funny what little things a fellow will think about at these times instead of worrying about his own neck.

"But about 60 feet down—I didn't measure the distance then—I struck one of the cross rods a slanting blow with my head. But my legs, sort o' huddled up as I fell probably, came down full force against the rod. I could hear the bones crack. They made quite a loud noise like a percussion cap. Still, it was the blow on the head that hurt the most. Then, though not before, I thought to myself, 'Well, it's your last cruise for sure, and things got black before me. I guess I fainted.

"But the cold water brought me to. I bobbed up as natural as a harbor buoy. I soon opened my eyes and I suppose I smiled. I thought, just as if I was somebody else, 'Say, mate, you didn't die this awful, did you?' I know I felt awful good about it. But soon as I made my first kick, or, rather, tried to make it, I found that both my legs were hanging as heavy and dead as shot in a canvas bag. They didn't pain me, though. And when I found I couldn't swim I felt my gun was spiked for sure. But just then I heard the crew up aloft on the bridge hollering 'Good boy. Sailor! You're all right! Keep it up! Boat's coming! Keep a paddling, Jackie.' It did sound fine and hearty, let me tell you. And so I kept a paddling until a man reached me in a boat fifteen minutes after I dropped down. "I was pretty nearly done up. I knew how my legs would hurt if he tried to pull me over the gunwale of the boat, and I tried to make him tow me alongside. But he couldn't manage that and he did haul me in, though it was a mighty tough experience. I didn't faint again, and after I was once in the hospital began to feel quite comfortable. I've had very little pain, they take such fine care of patients here."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

INCREASES CAPITAL STOCK.

Indianapolis, July 22.—(Special.)—The Muncie, Hartford City and Fort Wayne Railway company today notified the secretary of state that it has increased its capital stock from $100,000 to $1,000,000.

THE COURT NEWS.

Maggie Britton has commenced divorce proceedings against Cornelius Britton. The complaint is devoid of any unusual features.

Persons suffering from nervous prostration or in need of absolute quiet should arrange to spend their summer vacation in the Allen county court house. The catcombs are like dens of revelry compared to the sepulchral stillness which pervades every nook of the county building. Neither of the courts is in session, the commissioners have retired to their individual fig trees and other cool spots, the most of the clerks are on vacation, and nobody is working hard except Deputies Eicks and Ryan. They take it turn about keeping each other awake. Not a new case was filed Thursday and the only thing that happened about the building all day was when Deputy Clerk Berot was awakened by a man who, in a deep bass voice, demanded the privilege of buying himself a marriage license. In the sheriff's office there was just a show of activity.

Deputy Huguenard was sent to the Godfrey reservation shortly before noon to arrest John Godfrey on a charge of assault and battery on a man named Wellbaum. Godfrey had a gang of thrashers at his place Wednesday, and according to the terms of a contract provided for in the apportionment of the products of the reservation, Godfrey was to have surrendered several one-tenth parts of the crop to other heirs, and Wellbaum was the selected title-master. When he demanded the several tenths yesterday after the thrashing was concluded he got nothing except an invitation to leave the premises before trouble set in. There was an argument and other diversions and the result was the filing of an affidavit before Justice France. The warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Huguenard.

Elated by recollections of their success last year, the court house clerks are getting swelled on themselves again and have challenged the lawyers to play a game of base ball at any time of the day or night and at any place on or off the map. The proceeds are to be devoted to buying oil for the court house clock.

Elizabeth McClaren and others have commenced suit against Aaron Shives and Joseph Mason in an action for rent. The parties are involved in other litigations and this particular cause relates to entailments provided for in the Godfrey reservation contracts, governing proceeds and profits. Another direct suit in relation to the same contracts is pending in Justice France's court, where John Godfrey is charged with assault and battery against one Wellbaum on account of Shives and Martin.

There are at present only about sixteen prisoners in the county jail, the smallest number incarcerated for nearly a year.

Johanna Tigges has commenced divorce proceedings against George R. Tigges. The allegations are of the statutory kind and are not sensational.

The county commissioners are endeavoring to solve the spit nuisance problem so far as it relates to the county building. The interior of the building is absolutely clean and no violations of the anti-spit regulations and orders have yet had to be seriously dealt with and not a single affidavit has yet been found necessary. The custodian said that visitors are frequently observed locating spittoons and that there has never been any offensive violation of the prohibitory rules. Outside it is different. Men congregate on corners and in doorways and in groups, and their manifest ambition is to squirt puncheons of tobacco juice over the sidewalks. The commissioners have had placed signs forbidding the practice, but as they were placed only today, there has been no noticeable result. If the sidewalks about the court house can not be kept clean by request, a city ordinance will be asked for and a few fines may convince the offensive spitter that it is cheaper to spit on the ceiling than on the floors or sidewalks.

Both the sheriff and the superintendent of police have been notified of the raid of a gang of horse thieves through counties south of here. Cards from officers at Piqua, Ohio, Winchester, Ind., and Marion, Ind., have been received notifying the officers here of thefts of horses.

Sheriff Stout went to Woodburn Friday morning on a business errand and while there will select and appoint a deputy to be located there. Since Bert Smith was promoted to the turnkeyship at the jail Woodburn has had no deputy.

Henry Evers sues Michael Kinder et al. on a mechanic's lien for $203. Mary Glenn on Friday filed an application for divorce from Robert W. Glenn.

The will of the late J. T. Phillips was filed for probate on Friday. It is a rather voluminous but very exact document and provides for the relief of the deceased and a zealously equitable division of his property among his surviving children.

In the foreclosure suit brought by Henry Evers against Michael Kinder, Tobie Schnoor, et al., Mr. Kinder, the well known contractor, is interested only as security for the original contractor and is not personally involved, as the title of the case might make it appear. In any event, the matter has been settled out of court and will never come to trial.

Frank Berot, of the county clerk's office, has returned from a week's outing at Lake George, where he accompanied his family.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

Henry Schroeder, living on East Wayne street, between Grant and Walton avenues, filed an affidavit in Tancey's court charging Daniel Wolf, who also lives on East Wayne street, with assault and battery. Both men are over sixty years of age. Schroeder claims that Wolf hit him with a stone, but this is not credited by any one who knows Wolf, who is regarded as a very mild-mannered and peaceable man, while Schroeder is regarded as a crank and is not on good terms with many of his neighbors.

The charge against Frank Craig, preferred by Melissa Hiser, alleging illegitimate parentage, will be tried next Monday. Meanwhile Craig has been remanded to jail in default of bail.

John Godfrey, arrested Thursday for assault and battery on a man named Wellbaum, was released on his own recognizance and the hearing of the case was continued until tomorrow afternoon at France's court.

Daniel Wolf was fined $1 and costs by Justice Tancey that morning, being charged with assault and battery on Henry Schroeder. The defendant pleaded not guilty and there was no evidence introduced to show that he was guilty, but he evinced a disposition to pay a fine and let the matter drop and his disposition was humored.

Part of the aftermath of the Schroeder-Wolf assault and battery case tried before Tancey is apparent in the affidavit filed by Daniel Wolf against Henry Schroeder, charging assault and battery upon Cecil Koder, a grandson of Wolf.

Daniel Wolf, who was fined Friday for assault and battery on Henry Schroeder, appealed the case to this circuit court and filed his bond.

Albert Waters, the Wallen school teacher, has filed his appeal from a finding in Tancey's court mulcting him for assault and battery upon his wife, who has since commenced divorce proceedings.

In France's court Christian Boghm, of Leo, who has alternated between several courts in answer to a charge in which he is charged by Julia Fink with embezzlement and other things, will answer for trial and has a pocketful of documents to show that he is not guilty. He is a man of means and says that he is tired of "monkeying." What he wants is a trial.

A sequel to the trouble in the Godfrey reservation, paraded in the minor courts last week, came in an affidavit filed by John Godfrey, jr., charging Charles Strack with selling liquor to minors. He charges that the liquor was sold to him and that he is a minor, and that the defendant knows it. They are all related. This case, too, was set for hearing at France's.

Bert Johnson on a plea of guilty to assault and battery was sent to jail this afternoon by Justice France to serve a penalty of $1 and costs.

NEW MOVEMENT AT WINONA.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 22.—A new movement was started at Winona yesterday which, it is expected, will rival the great Bible conference in rapidity of growth and importance. It is a summer training school for Sunday school workers. This year the work consists of a four weeks' course of instructions, and next year it is proposed to follow this course with a national conference for Sunday school workers, which will follow along the same lines as the Bible conference, which is primarily for the benefit of ministers. It is the plan of the Winona management to make this the center of Sunday school work in this country. The leadership of this movement has been intrusted to Professor H. M. Hamill, D. D., superintendent of training work of southern Methodism, and formerly international field secretary. He is assisted this year by Marion Lawrence, international general secretary, and Miss Eleanor Kirby, primary specialist.

"The organization of this school," said Professor Hamill, "is the beginning of a great movement for the education of Sunday school teachers. Sunday school teachers must be taught as other teachers are. In some cities superintendents and teachers in the primary departments of Sunday schools are paid large salaries, and although I do not think the great body of Sunday school workers will ever become paid teachers, the tendency is in that direction. W. C. Hall, of Indianapolis, is taking an active interest in the movement and has secured enough money by subscription to pay almost the entire expenses for this year. As a result no charges are to be made for instruction this year."

TOUR OF THE TELEPHONE MEN

ENDED WITH BANQUET AT MUNCIE THURSDAY.

Fort Wayne Stockholders With Interurban Party Inspect Plants in Four Cities.

Officials and stockholders of the Delaware and Madison Counties Telephone company combined business and pleasure Thursday, and visited the company's plants in Elwood, Alexandria, Anderson and Muncie, says the Muncie Star.

The trip was for the purpose of giving the stockholders an opportunity to become acquainted with each other and also to inspect the progress of their interests in Madison and Delaware counties.

The Muncie party left in a special car at 7:45 o'clock. A short stop was made in Anderson to pick up the Anderson delegation. At Alexandria the first inspection of the company's property was made. There the party was joined by eight stockholders of the company from Fort Wayne.

ALEXANDRIA AND ELWOOD. The Alexandria telephone system is just now being started. The first poles were raised Wednesday, but it is expected to have them all up within two weeks. The switch board will arrive August 1 and be installed in the company's exchange in the Stilwell block. The Alexandria system will start September 1 with 250 subscribers.

Elwood was reached at noon. The cables and wires of the Elwood plant are up and the switchboard is now on the way. The exchange will occupy four rooms in the Gillespie block. It is expected to have the system in operation by another month. Half the phones for the 800 subscribers are now set.

SAW ANDERSON SYSTEM.

The return to Anderson was made direct. After visiting the exchange in the Decker block the party was driven over the city in carriages to inspect the lines. The Anderson system is now operated with about 700 subscribers and a new switch board is at present being installed that will increase the number 900. The company has spent $12,000 for cables and wires for the Anderson plant since March 1. The manager of the system is C. D. McDonough.

BANQUET IN MUNCIE.

The party reached Muncie at 3 o'clock and visited first the company's new three-story building in East Jackson street. The roof is now on and the building is ready for the fire-proofs to begin the floors. The stockholders were much pleased with the appearance of the building.

A drive was also made about the city here. The aerial lines of the Muncie system are about done and the cables are now being received for the conduit lines. The system will be ready for operation sometime during the fall.

Much of the success of the trip was due to the excellent management of George F. Trier, secretary of the Gas Belt Construction company, who had the party in charge and was assisted by Arthur J. Curran, the company's engineer. J. Rhine Hummel, the caterer, accompanied the party with an ample supply of refreshments, which were depleted at frequent intervals to meet the strenuous demand. The entire party dined at the Kirby house at 6 o'clock.

The members of the party were: Theodore F. Rose, J. C. Johnson, A. L. Johnson, W. E. Hitchcock, G. F. Trier and Arthur J. Curran, of Muncie; Geo. Hoover, Eaton; George F. Almy, D. Phelps, O.; George F. Quick, W. H. H. Quick, Daniel Rosenbaum, J. J. Netterville and C. D. McDonough, of Anderson; Dr. A. E. Harlan, Charles F. Bard and J. E. Marker, of Alexandria; Joseph A. DeHority, Thomas DeHority and Wayne Leason, of Elwood; S. M. Foster, John Morris, jr., John Ferguson, S. M. Fisher, George P. Evans, F. V. Culbertson and George Beers, of Fort Wayne. Representatives of the press from Muncie, Anderson, Alexandria and Elwood also enjoyed the hospitality of the company.

INDEPENDENT COMPANY.

The Delaware and Madison Counties Telephone company was organized last January to operate an independent telephone system in Delaware and Madison counties. The officers are: President, W. E. Hitchcock, Muncie; vice president, A. L. Johnson, Muncie; secretary, G. F. Quick, Anderson; treasurer, J. C. Johnson, Muncie.

The Gas Belt Construction company is an allied organization which was formed to construct the various systems of the telephone company. The construction company does all of the work. The officers are: President, S. M. Foster, Fort Wayne; vice president, A. L. Johnson, Muncie; treasurer, J. C. Johnson, Muncie; secretary, G. F. Trier, Fort Wayne.

THEY PLEAD FOR LOW RATES

RAILROADS SAY THEY ARE ASSESSED TOO HIGH.

C. D. Law Appears Before the State Tax Board in Behalf of the Pennsylvania Lines.

Indianapolis, July 19.—The state tax board spent the day yesterday in listening to the claims of railroads, and will go into executive session again at 10 o'clock this morning.

One after another the different roads were disposed of yesterday. The Big Four representatives, John T. Dye, Joseph Moses, tax agent, and John N. Wheatly, assistant tax agent, were heard in the afternoon.

They thought any increase over last year would be an injustice. "While there has been some increase in our earnings," said Mr. Dye, "yet for years past the road has been taxed on a very great excess of valuation." He said that during hard times the Big Four had paid taxes far exceeding those of other roads. The board was reminded that its duty was not only to assess, but to equalize as well. The value of real estate has increased this year, it was argued, and as real estate cannot be changed, being assessed only once in four years, it was only just not to add to the tax.

ARGUMENTS ARE SIMILAR.

This was substantially the argument put forward by all the roads appearing yesterday. The board listened with patience to all the "pros" and supplied the "cons" from its own deductions.

The Kokomo Railway and Light company presented its statement through Judge L. J. Kirtpatrick, counsel, and T. J. McReynolds, general manager. "Too high" was its claim. Mr. McReynolds said the board had evidently based the assessment on the combined valuation of the lighting plant and the railway. This was not just, he declared. According to his statement the street railway had never made a cent. The company depended on the light plant for its earnings, he said.

S. O. Pickens, attorney, and C. D. Law, of Pittsburgh, real estate agent, appeared for the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh. They thought there should be no increase in assessment or valuation. The board was asked not to allow the local authorities in Adams township, Allen county, to assess a strip of land 400 feet by 1,000 feet occupied by the company's tracks. Mr. Law wanted the assessment made by the state board. Mr. Law asked also that the valuation returns be corrected so as to admit of a lower assessment on the Pennsylvania buildings in Allen county. The local assessor valued the buildings at $40,000 less than was shown by the company's own returns.

The Vandavia was represented by John G. Williams and Volney T. Malott. The Vandavia had always been assessed too high, asserted Mr. Malott. In 1898, he said, the Terre Haute and Logansport division was assessed for $100,000 more than the property sold for. The El River or Logansport and Toledo, which is no longer operated by the Wabash, ought not to be assessed for more than $8,000 a mile, said Mr. Malott. It was still of more value to the Wabash than to his own company, he thought. Last year, under the Wabash management, it was assessed $13,000 a mile.

Governor Durbin pled the railroad representatives with innumerable questions.

NINETY-SIX MISSING.

Hamburg, July 22.—The survivors of the steamship Primus, of Hamburg, which, with 185 passengers on board, was cut in two and sunk by the tug Hansa yesterday, say that ninety-six of those who were on board that vessel at the time of the disaster are missing.

FAIR ASSOCIATION FORMED

PROMOTERS MEET AND PERFECT ORGANIZATION.

Association Will Take Over Driving Park and Will Hold Annual County Fairs.

A meeting of the stockholders in the county fair association was held Friday afternoon in the rooms of the Commercial club and a permanent organization was effected, to be known as the Fort Wayne Fair association.

Col. D. N. Foster, one of the gentlemen who has been most active in the project, called the meeting to order and nominated Charles McCulloch for chairman, Tom Bresnahan being appointed secretary. Col. Foster outlined the plans of the association and read the articles of incorporation which provide that the organization be known as the Fort Wayne Fair association and that the capital stock shall be $15,000. The articles also provide that there shall be fifteen directors to be elected at the annual meeting of stockholders, to be held the third Friday in March.

Chairman McCulloch appointed a committee to select directors for the first year, consisting of Messrs. Charles McCulloch, John Peters, L. A. Centlivre, S. B. Fleming, Alexander Johnson, Henry Bendall, James Gillie, George V. Kell, George Thumm, Charles S. Bash, Charles Wolff, Fred J. Hayden, Herman W. Tapp, H. A. Wiebke and O. Bird.

The association proposes to take over the Driving park, where all subsequent fairs will be held. A large sum will be expended on improvements and the grounds will be put in first class shape at once.

The proposed date of the fair is October 9 to 13. A few of the stockholders are opposed to giving a fair this year, owing to the limited time in which to make arrangements, and a meeting will be held in the Commercial club rooms next Monday morning at 10 o'clock to make a definite decision. It is believed that a fair will be held this year, however, as those who oppose the plan are in the minority. Allen county farmers are taking a great interest in the event, and have been making preparations for the fair for some time, and it is not thought advisable to disappoint them.

They are now going over the route from New Paris to Fort Wayne, traveling by easy stages and camping in a tent. It is believed five weeks will be required to complete the work.

Fifteen negroes, employed on the construction gang of the interurban line and quartered at Andrews, precipitated a small riot Friday evening when an itinerant scissor grinder delivered some slighting remarks concerning the colored men. Marshal Brewer tried to arrest them, but they drew knives and revolvers and drove him home. Then he sent to Huntington for assistance, but before the officials arrived the negroes had left town.

Ullery, who died at South Bend, have filed suit to break his will, in which some $50,000 was bequeathed to the Brethren church which he had built, to the poor and to an orphan's home. Nicholas Rice, 79 years of age, an eccentric and wealthy hermit who had lived for fifty years near Valparaiso, died Sunday morning without having revealed the secret of his seclusion. He directed that no minister be allowed to attend his funeral; that no woman be permitted to enter his room until his burial, and left his money to a man practically unknown to him, but who had befriended him. Nothing was left by the old man to reveal the whereabouts of relatives.

JOSEPH WALL DIES IN PRISON

OLD MURDER IN FORT WAYNE IS RECALLED.

Aged Colored Man, Sentenced for Life for Killing Cronkhite

Twenty-six Years Ago.

Joseph Wall, colored, sentenced to imprisonment for life for murder of a man named Cronkhite in this city twenty-six years ago, died Monday night in the state penitentiary at Michigan City. Wall was the oldest inmate of the prison, said to be 72 years of age at the time of his conviction, and according to the prison records his age at death was 102. People in this city, however, believe him to be about 90.

Older inhabitants of Fort Wayne will remember the murder which occurred on Maumee avenue in 1876. The aged negro occupied an upper room of the dwelling in which Cronkhite lived with his wife and two little daughters. The white man became jealous of Wall's attentions to his wife, and quarrels ensued. Returning from the city one evening Cronkhite found Walls in conversation with his wife and ordered him from the room.

The negro went to his room, secured a knife, returned and attacked Cronkhite, inflicting injuries from which the victim died shortly after. Judge James W. Borden presided at the trial of Walls, the principal witnesses being Mrs. Cronkhite and the two little daughters. The prosecution was conducted by Judge Hensch and Judge Cserick, and J. Q. Stratton defended the accused man. Walls was found guilty and was sentenced for life, but on appeal to the supreme court the case was sent back for retrial on erroneous instructions given the jury. When arraigned for the second trial Walls entered a plea of guilty.

DOSWELL.

Mrs. John Doswell, for more than forty years a resident of Fort Wayne and very widely known, died Monday at the home of her sister in Almond, Wis., where she went upon a visit some weeks ago. Mrs. Doswell was seventy-seven years of age.

While the aged woman has been in poor health for some time, relatives in this city were totally unprepared for the news of her death, as her condition was not believed to be immediately dangerous. Her son, Harry Doswell, accompanied his mother to Wisconsin, the trip being made in the hope that a change of air and scene would be beneficial to her.

Mrs. Doswell was the widow of the late John Doswell, for many years superintendent of Lindenwood cemetery, whose death occurred about two years ago. She was born in England in 1825 and at the age of twenty-seven years came to America and lived for a time at Madison, then removing to Almond, Wis., where she was united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Doswell came to Fort Wayne in 1890, and the deceased was widely and favorably known. Surviving relatives include four sons and three daughters—George W., Alfred E., Harry J. and Arthur C. Doswell, Mrs. J. H. Houck, Mrs. W. H. Brady and Mrs. Israel Adams, all of this city—in addition to the sister residing in Wisconsin.

The remains will be brought to Fort Wayne for interment, and announcement of the funeral will be made later.

THOMPSON.

Anna, infant daughter of Mrs. Mary Thompson, died Monday evening at the residence on the Piqua road from cholera infantum, at the age of six months and three days. The father of the little one, William F. Thompson, died a short time before the birth of the daughter, and the present death is the third in the family in the past nine months.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2 o'clock from St. John's Lutheran church, of which the deceased was a member.

CAUSED A SENSATION.

Huntington newspapers say that something of a sensation was created at the Wabash depot there Sunday evening in which Fort Wayne people were the central figures. It appears that a young girl from this city went to Huntington Sunday evening, was met by a woman of questionable reputation, and the two went to a hotel, where, it is understood, they were to be met by a young man. Early in the evening, however, the young lady's parents had received a tip and they followed her to Huntington. She was found at the hotel, and after a wordy argument was persuaded to return home with them, after the mother had applied a little needed corporal punishment.

THINK FRETZ IS LOCATED

HIS BICYCLE IS ORDERED TO BEDFORD, IND.

"F. B. Lewis" Writes a Letter in a Chirography Quite Like That of Lewis B. Fretz.

Lewis B. Fretz, the Waterloo author who created a little commotion last Saturday, and on several following days, by doing a dramatic, mysterious disappearance act, has been heard from. Fretz, it will be remembered left his boarding house at 1324 McClellan street on Saturday last, leaving also a note to his stenographer couched in beautiful language, but conveying the gruesome prediction that before the note would be found, the author of it would be in some kind of an unknown, and practically unexplored hence. A number of creditors thought perhaps it was a case of whence as well as hence, and after the first flurry was over, little stock was taken in Fretz's story and letter. His father, who came down from Waterloo in a rather disturbed state of mind on Monday last, returned to his home on the following day and was not particularly overwhelmed with grief. Friday the agent of the Lake Shore road at this point was in receipt of a letter from Bedford, Ind., signed by F. B. Lewis, and enclosing a check for a bicycle left at the local depot at Auburn and recognized as the property of Fretz. The letter requested that the bicycle be sent to Bedford, and a very little investigation made by Superintendent Gorsline and Judge Alden, the latter being Fretz's attorney, convinced both gentlemen that the letter was written by Fretz, the chirography corresponding in every detail to that in letters in Judge Alden's possession and known to have been written by Fretz. It did not take a very strong stretch of imagination to conceive that Lewis B. Fretz could easily be F. B. Lewis and accordingly, Fretz's father at Waterloo was notified of the receipt of the letter and condolences surrounding and marking the affair. The old gentleman arrived in the city and identified the bicycle, ordered it shipped as directed and will accompany it on its journey until it reaches somebody, which somebody he is confident, will prove to be his son.

The young sergeant, by the way, has been discharged from the service and is expected home on any train from the east. His father says that it is doubtful whether he will re-enlist, as he proposes to establish him in business here as soon as he gets ready to settle down.

Sunday afternoon an unknown man, presumably an excursionist, while out driving, picked up two little children of Dondero, the peanut merchant, and one of Moritz, also a fruit peddler, and took them away in his vehicle. He found the children at Lawton park and as he disappeared the parents were greatly alarmed and notified the police of the abduction. There was considerable surrying until by and bye the stranger returned and deposited the little ones at their respective homes. He was slightly under the influence of liquor and said he had just wanted to give the children a little ride. He had bought them candy and according to their statement had simply given them a good time.

The case of William Oetting, a milkman, charged with peddling milk of inferior grade, was called Saturday. Mr. Oetting was present, but the city was not represented. Judge Dreibeiss took the defendant's plea and continued the case until Monday morning at 8 o'clock. "At which time," he said, "I want the witnesses here or I shall dismiss the case." A minute of two later Health Commissioner Macbeth stepped into the room and was considerably chagrined to learn that the case had been continued inasmuch as he was in the city building all the time and was waiting only to be informed that the case was ready for trial. Oetting pleaded not guilty and was released on his own recognizance. He says he did nothing to the milk and delivered it to his customers exactly as his cows delivered it to him.

LONG WARFARE LIKELY.

Cockrell was preparing to leave Jackson to get out of a feud in which he was involved when the fatal shots were fired. He was the town marshal of Jackson.

TWO FATALITIES

JOHN HOSKINS AND YOUNG BURNS KILLED.

BIG EXCURSION BUSINESS

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HANDS OUT THE PRIZES.

Some Grand Rapids and Indiana trainmen made a ghastly find at Kendallville at 1:50 o'clock Sunday morning when they discovered the dead body of a man fastened in the braces beneath a passenger car which stood on the siding at that place. The body was identified by the depot attaches at that place as that of John Hoskins, a laborer on the Lake Shore road. Hoskins was last seen near the Grand Rapids depot at 12 o'clock Saturday night and he was then supposed to be slightly under the influence of liquor. The position of the body and the marks upon it indicate that Hoskins stumbled and plunged headlong under the car, and that death was due to strangulation. His head was firmly wedged between the under side of the body of the car and the truss rod. The remains were turned over to the coroner of Noble county, who will probably render a decision in accordance with the foregoing statement.

Another fatality occurred at Forty-third street, Chicago, at 5:40 o'clock Saturday evening, when the second section of Pennsylvania train No. 39, which left this city at 12:15, struck and killed a 12-year-old lad named Burns. The little fellow was walking on the rail, holding to the hand of a playmate, and when the latter heard the warning whistle of the engineer he broke loose and ran, leaving his comrade to his fate. The pilot beam struck the lad on the side of the head, killing him almost instantly. Patrolman Peter Spanley and others, who were on the train, ran to the lad and endeavored to resuscitate him, but in vain. He lived only a moment after they reached his side. No blame can attach to the engineer.

RESULT OF CONTESTS.

The second annual field and track tournament of the Pennsylvania Employees' Athletic association, has come and gone and until the employees give another next year the one of last Saturday will be the comparative standard for measuring the attendance and excellence of all outdoor events in this part of the country. The meet was a success financially, numerically, socially and in every other sense of the word. No similar event was ever better handled and its wonderful success during a period of very uncertain and unfavorable weather attests the excellence of the program and the interest the management had succeeded in creating in the public mind.

Although it rained all the previous day and night and a good portion of Saturday morning, there were 2,000 people in the grand stand and on the grounds when the first event was called. As the afternoon advanced, with more favorable weather conditions, the crowd received additions from time to time until every inch of space in the grand stand was occupied and hundreds were scattered about the grounds in the vicinity of the tracks. A conservative estimate of the number of people on the grounds at 4:30, when the races and athletic events were in progress, is 3,500.

Early in the afternoon pools of water were seen here and there in the big enclosure and mud abounded on the track and everywhere that the earth was not covered with grass. Under these conditions it was impossible to make extraordinary speed in the first races, but they were interesting and apparently as satisfactory to the spectators as they would have been had each been a record-breaker. All the events came in for a share of interest, of course, but those most enjoyed were the horse races, in which the contestants were the best local trotters. In the sprinting, cycling and athletic events generally the Fort Wayne boys shared the honors with the visiting athletes, the prizes being about equally distributed between the home and the foreign contestants. The result of the various contests is told in the following lines, prizes being awarded in the order named:

One mile trot, best two out of three—Wayne Chief, John N. and Harry C. Ten mile bicycle—Nelson Bucher, Henry J. Saylor, E. J. Nies, H. Roemer; time, 32 minutes.

Five mile bike—Henry J. Snyder, J. Richard, F. J. Ryan, G. Metcalf; time, 16:32½.

Two mile bike—C. Habel, G. Metcalf, H. C. Szink; time, 6:02.

One mile bike—T. W. Hall, H. J. Snyder, Theodore Coppeck, Harry Weers.

Motorcycle—J. I. Brown. Automobile—L. A. Randall.

220 yard dash—C. M. Foster, C. D. Coleman, W. A. Carraher, D. B. Sampson.

Six and a half mile relay—C. M. Foster.

A. Barbier, John Rost, George Null, M. J. Maloney.

100 yard dash, men over 50—James Cairnes, J. T. Leach, sr., Hugh Welch, J. Weldon, J. H. Cody, F. Starke, John Rost, sr., Dennis O'Connor.

Sack race—George Null, A. M. Ringle.

Running high jump—A. W. Grosvenor, C. D. Coleman, M. L. Fansler, C. M. Foster; five feet, eight inches.

Running broad jump—A. W. Grosvenor, C. M. Foster, Henry Starks, John Rost; eighteen feet, one inch.

Standing broad jump—W. Y. Cherry, A. W. Grosvenor, C. A. Riddle, George Null; nine feet, five and a half inches.

Tug-of-war—East car shop team, composed of John A. Schultz, John Seiboldt, H. Westerman and L. Ballard.

Sixteen pound shot—J. Seiboldt, W. Grosvenor, John Rost, M. H. Hobbins; twenty-eight feet, one-half inch.

Throwing twelve-pound hammer—C. D. Coleman, W. Y. Cherry, C. A. Riddle, J. Seiboldt; ninety-six feet, nine inches.

At the close of this event, John Eggemann, who attained fame in an athletic way while a student at Notre Dame, threw the hammer 126 feet and nine inches.

The announcement of each event was met by cheers from the spectators and congratulations from those contestants who were defeated in part or in whole, and good humor and kindly feeling prevailed throughout. Nor were there any very serious accidents to mar the pleasure of contestants and spectators. A cyclist was thrown in the ten mile race and had a leg cut by his peddles, but the fact that he successfully completed for another prize proves that his injuries were not severe.

All the visiting athletes have returned to their homes.

The executive committee meets this evening to settle up the financial matters and to attend to any other business that may need attention. They will also award the gold medal for the best all-round athlete to A. W. Grosvenor. Mr. Grosvenor, as will be seen by referring to the foregoing list of events, took first prize in many of them. This medal was donated by W. S. Wells. The other prizes were awarded Saturday night and the winners, with one or two exceptions, have already been presented with them.

BROKE HIS COLLAR BONE.

While at play Sunday evening Theophile Prosch, a fourteen-year-old lad residing on Wells street, tripped upon a piece of board, and in falling fractured his right collar bone. D. A. H. Duemling gave him surgical attention.

Edward White left last Sunday for New York city. On Wednesday he will sail on the liner St. Louis for England, where he will join Mrs. White, who has been abroad several weeks.

TORNADO VISITS BALTIMORE

THIRTEEN LIVES LOST IN AND NEAR THAT CITY.

Nine Were Drowned in the Harbor

by the Capsizing of Boats—

The Damage is Heavy.

Baltimore, July 21.—A fierce tornado characterized by a windstorm of extraordinary fury, thunder, vivid lightning and a heavy rain, burst upon Baltimore at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, coming from the southwest, with the net result that thirteen persons lost their lives, hundreds of houses were unroofed, trees in the public parks and streets were torn up by the roots, many buildings damaged and several people injured. The storm exhausted its fury in less than fifteen minutes. The damage done in the business part of the city was comparatively slight, being confined to the blowing down of signs and injuries to roofs. It was in the residence portions of the city and along the river front and in the harbor where the wind spent its violence.

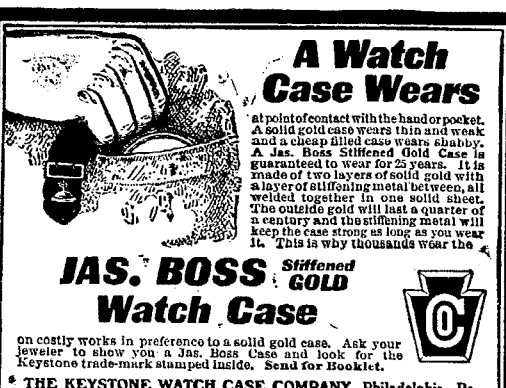

Of those who perished nine were drowned in the harbor from open boats, two were drowned by the overturning of a boat at Tolchester, one was killed by a falling tree and one by a live wire. The following is a list of the dead:

Drowned in the harbor: Roy Bateman, 12 years old. Joseph Cain, 10 years old. John Cain, 6 years old. Thomas Carroll, 21 years old. Harry McCormick, 19 years old. Mrs. Mary Schuler, 28 years old. Harry S. Schuler, 10 months old. Oliver Schuler, 4 years old. Charles Schuler, 7 years old. Killed by falling tree: William Cornish, colored. Killed by live wire: Charles Schaefer. Drowned at Tolchester: James B. Post, aged 20. Theodore Parker, aged 21.

A colored camp meeting was in progress in Paradise grove, near Powhatan, on the Liberty road. The congregation had just been dismissed when the storm broke. A huge oak tree fell upon the tent in which the services had been held. Several of the worshippers were caught beneath it as it fell. The tree had to be saved into pieces before the imprisoned men and women could be released. William Cornish was crushed to death by the falling tree. The others were not seriously injured.

A hole several feet in diameter was blown in the wall of St. Mary's Star of the Sea Catholic church in South Baltimore. A portion of the stone cornice weighing more than a ton fell to the street. Fortunately no one was injured. While the storm was at its height a boat's crew from the German steamer Breslau, at anchor in the harbor, picked up, two men from a boat which had been capsized off Wolf street.

BIG RUN ON DEPOSIT VAULTS

PATRONS OF CHICAGO CONCERN IN A PANIC.

Precipitated by News That $30,000 is Missing from Masonic Temple Institution.

Chicago, July 21.—News of the disappearance of nearly $30,000 from the vaults of the Masonic Temple Safety Deposit company, last Saturday, had spread to such an extent today that it caused a "run" on the vaults. When the day vaults were opened for business there was a struggling crowd of men and women depositors in waiting who feared for moneys and valuables that they had deposited in the company's strong boxes. For a time there was almost a panic in the crowd. The office force of the deposit company was unable to cope with the great demand for verification of signatures and in the vaults the turnkeys for several hours were unable to open boxes fast enough to keep down the crowd.

The police have secured no clues as yet to the disappearance of the currency belonging to the Ray trackmen. The management still scoffs at the idea that the money has been stolen, but the police take the book-makers' statement as the truth. They said today that it would have been a very easy matter to secure duplicate keys and to have pilfered the boxes.

AN INSANE MOTHER'S DEED.

Madisonville, Ky., July 22.—Mrs. Ellen Turley today shot and killed her four-year-old child, attempted to kill two other children, and, failing, turned her pistol upon herself and fired a bullet into her brain, dying instantly. The tragedy occurred at Depoy, seven miles from here. The woman was temporarily insane from long illness. Her husband was absent, having gone to secure medicine.

PRINCE DESIRES A DUEL.

Paris, July 19.—The personal encounter between Prince De Sagan and Maitre Barbox, the well known lawyer, is the leading topic of the day here. Prince De Sagan is Heli De Talleyrand-Perigord, whose brother, Boson, married Miss Helen Morton, of New York. He declares he only struck Maitre Barbox lightly in order to provoke a duel, because he is Mme. De Gast's fiancé. He was summoned before a magistrate yesterday to explain his conduct and probably will be punished for assaulting Maitre Barbox. The lawyer says Prince De Sagan punched him severely in the face and he asked the court to take action. Two detectives were detailed to protect him from further aggression. Mme. De Gast, with whom the press and public generally sympathize, says she carried a horsewhip hidden in her sunshade yesterday and intended to whip Maitre Barbox, but that the latter left the court by a side door.

NO TRACE OF STRONG.

New York, July 22.—Captain Titus, of the detective bureau, said today several detectives had been at work all night looking for ex-Captain Putnam Bradley Strong, against whom a warrant charging theft was sworn out by May Yohe, but that his men had found no trace of Strong. Captain Titus said that Miss Yohe had come to New York today from Hastings-on-the-Hudson and with several detectives was making a tour of the pawnshops for the purpose of identifying, if possible, some of the jewels supposed to have been pawned by Strong.

OPPOSE A STRIKE

THAT IS THE SENTIMENT OF THE COAL MINERS.

IS NOT LIKELY TO CHANGE RESPECT FOR CONTRACT THE DOMINATING NOTE.

BIG CONVENTION IS BEGUN MITCHELL OPPOSES STRIKE AND PRESENTS PLAN.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—At the meeting of the United Mine Workers today President John J. Mitchell strongly opposed the ordering of a sympathetic strike and advocated in its place the following policy:

1. That the treasurer of the order be directed to appropriate $50,000 for the relief of the anthracite miners.
 2. That the unions appropriate for the same purpose as large a sum as they can afford.
 3. That an assessment of $1.00 per week be levied on all members of unions.
 4. That all officers of the National districts drawing a salary of $60 a month or over contribute 25 per cent of their salaries.
 5. That an appeal be made to all trade unions and citizens generally to aid the cause of the miners.
 6. That an address to the American people be issued appealing to the American people to bring such pressure to bear as will compel the operators to submit to arbitration.
- At the conclusion of the president's address a motion was made by W. D. Ryan, of Illinois, that the suggestions of Mr. Mitchell be adopted. A long and animated discussion followed.

THE DOMINANT FEELING.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—With all the delegates who are to take part in the convention of the United Mine Workers on the ground, there is no more sentiment in favor of a strike than there was last night.

The opinion is steadily gaining ground among the delegates that a strike would lessen the chances of the anthracite miners to win their fight, for the reason that it would take from them all the support that the soft coal men will be able to extend if they continue at work. Then, too, there is a genuine dislike among the soft coal men to take action that will place them in the position of violating their contracts with the mine-owners. While it is impossible to predict what any body of the men will do with a given question when there is a chance that the gathering may be swept from its feet by a few impassioned speeches, the aspect of the convention when it opened this morning was adverse to a strike.

FIRST SESSION OPEN.

The convention began in Tomlinson hall, with an attendance of about 900 delegates. Nearly every man on the floor was the possessor of several proxies, some holding as high as five and others from four to two.

The first session was not of an executive character and there were many spectators present anxious to witness the proceedings, of what has been heralded as one of the most important gatherings of laboring men held in recent years. The first part of the session was devoted to addresses of welcome from municipal officers of Indianapolis and responses in behalf of the union.

CHEERS GREET MITCHELL.

President Mitchell was greeted with cheers when he appeared on the platform. Secretary Wilson, following close after, shared the applause. Prompt to the second President Mitchell brought down his gavel, saying: "The hour of 10 having arrived, the convention will be in order." Secretary Wilson then read the call for the convention and President Mitchell called for the report of the committee on credentials. The reading of this by Michael McTaggart, of the committee, consumed much time, as the report contained the name of every delegate, with a statement of the number of votes possessed by each man.

Delegate Campbell, a colored man from Kentucky, moved the acceptance of the report and the continuation of the committee. This was done and the convention adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

BROCKERMANN-STANDARD.

Miss Anna E. Standard and William C. Brockermann were married on Thursday at 2 o'clock at the Wayne Street M. E. parsonage by Rev. Asher S. Preston. Mr. and Mrs. Brockermann will reside on Eagle avenue.

EASTERN MEN COMING.

S. B. Fleming and his associates, who are to construct an electric railway between Fort Wayne and New Haven, are at work upon details for the organization of the company. It is announced that a number of eastern capitalists who are interested in the proposition will be in the city within a few days and it is probable the organization will be completed at that time. Work will then begin immediately.

MISHAP BLOCKED TRAFFIC.

Wednesday afternoon an immense load of hay was accidentally overturned at the intersection of Fulton and Sturgis streets, blocking traffic for a time on the Southwestern. When the interurban car reached the obstruction, employees and passengers alighted and assisted the unfortunate farmer in getting his hay off the tracks.

AN ORGANIZATION EFFECTED

FALL FESTIVAL ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS.

Festival Will Be the Biggest Gala Event Since the Centennial—Opens August 25.

The promoters of the fall festival met last week at the Commercial club and organized, electing the following officers:

President and Director General—L. C. Hunter.
Vice President—L. A. Centivire.
Secretary—J. B. Monning.
Treasurer—Henry A. Wiebke.
Executive Board—Ora Seaney, Frank Falter, Frank Edmunds, John Lassus, C. B. Woodworth, August Jackson, Dr. J. A. Williams, Charles Bryson and William Mulla.
Committee on Selection of Grounds—L. C. Hunter, Ed Kleindinst and Bert Lichtenwalter.

Another meeting of the association will be held in the Commercial club rooms on Friday evening, when the committee on grounds for the Gaskill-Mundy attractions will report. A number of sub-committees will be appointed at this meeting.

The fall festival will be held during the week beginning Monday, August 25, and the promoters say it will be a gala affair, surpassing anything ever attempted in Fort Wayne, with the probable exception of the centennial. A different program will be given every day and there will be mairi gras, industrial and other parades, and attractions of every kind such as band contests, games, fireworks, etc.

The association has closed a contract with the Gaskill-Mundy company, which controls fifteen shows of the highest class. This company has been exhibiting its attractions in many of the towns and cities in Indiana and Ohio and the shows are most highly spoken of.

The week selected in which to hold the festival is at a time when Fort Wayne merchants are least busy and when farmers have most leisure to come to the city. That there will be many thousands of visitors in Fort Wayne during the festival is an assured fact, the Central Traffic association having granted a rate of a fare and a third in the district within a radius of 100 miles of Fort Wayne. The association will open an office in a few days and will begin advertising the festival extensively. Every town within fifty miles will be billed, and it is probable that envelopes similar to those used during the street fair will be issued.

JUDGE AIKEN IS AT ITS HEAD

FORT WAYNE COAL COMPANY IS ORGANIZED.

Will Be Incorporated and Establish Extensive Fuel Yards in Bloomingdale.

Judge John H. Aiken, of the superior court, is at the head of a new organization to be known as the Fort Wayne Coal company, and the articles of incorporation, which only await the signature of a member of the company who is out of the city, will be filed within a few days.

Other members of the company are H. C. Underwood, the attorney, and P. F. Dixon, a traveling salesman, also of this city. The company will begin business very shortly. It has leased from the Lake Shore railroad a tract of ground in Bloomingdale, west of Wells street and along the railroad tracks, where yards will be established for handling coal, coke and wood.

Ernest Heuer, Well Known Wabash Shopman, No More—Other Deaths and Funerals.

Mrs. Elizabeth Failleur, 75 years of age, and for more than half a century a resident of Allen county, died at 9 o'clock Thursday at her home on the Decatur road, two miles south of the city. Death was due to a complication of diseases, and the deceased had been in frail health for more than a year.

Mrs. Failleur was the widow of Jacob Failleur, who died about twenty years ago. She was born in Ohio, but came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keffer, to Fort Wayne when she was but ten years of age. For a short time they resided at Kendallville, but soon returned to Fort Wayne and later purchased a small farm south of the city.

Mrs. Failleur was a most estimable woman, and a devoted member of St. Patrick's Catholic church. Surviving are three children—Wilson and Jacob Failleur and Mrs. J. Trempe. The funeral services were held Monday morning at 8 o'clock from the residence and at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church.

HEUER.

Ernest Heuer, assistant foreman at the Wabash shops, died at 3 o'clock Wednesday evening from stomach trouble at his home, 1209 Summit street. Mr. Heuer was 50 years of age and widely known among the shopmen of the city.

He was born in Germany in 1850, came to Fort Wayne thirty years ago, and within a short time obtained a position in the Wabash shops. Here he rose by industry and merit to the position held at the time of his death. Though in impaired health for a long period of time, he had been confined to the bed but six weeks.

Mr. Heuer is survived by the widow and a son, Ernest, Jr. The deceased was a prominent member of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from St. Paul's Lutheran church.

WILLIAMS.

Mrs. Emma Williams, wife of George Williams, died Wednesday night at the family home, 2538 Walton avenue, from tuberculosis. The family removed to Fort Wayne about two years ago from Lima, O.

Surviving are the husband and five children—Mrs. Steger, of Lima, and George, Charles, Raymond and Martha Williams, of this city. The remains were taken to Lima.

SULLIVAN.

Stephen Clement Sullivan, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Sullivan, of 817 Cottage avenue, died Wednesday night from bowel trouble at the age of two years.

MENNEWISCH.

Henry A. Mennewisch, 38 years of age, died early last Wednesday morning at his home, 2102 Oliver street, after an illness of about six weeks from stomach and bowel trouble.

Mr. Mennewisch was formerly employed as a machinist at the works of the Western Gas Construction company, and was quite well known. Surviving are the widow and four children, besides the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mennewisch, a brother, Fred Mennewisch, and two sisters, Mrs. Lenz and Mrs. Benecke.

DESTRUCTION OF HAI CHEE.

Victoria, B. C., July 18.—News was received by the steamer Empress of India of the destruction of the Chinese cruiser Hai Chee, at Nanjing, by an explosion. The Japanese cruiser Atago arrived at Hsia Kuam on June 21 and the magazine of the Hai Chee was opened to salute her. Then came the explosion. Of the crew of 200 to 250 but two escaped. The cruiser went up like a flash, the explosion being heard for five miles and showers of debris were scattered far and wide. Three small boats lying alongside were destroyed with their occupants. The United States cruiser Helene, which was in the vicinity, picked up the two survivors from the wreckage.

COX-STANGER.

Miss Catherine Stanger and Frank Cox were united in marriage last Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sarah Stanger, of 1340 Buchanan street. Rev. J. W. Lake, of Calvary U. B. church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends of the couple. Refreshments were served after the ceremony. The groom is a resident of Peru, but is in the city for a time in the employ of Contractor Moellerling.

Searchlight Gives Him Fierce Brush in First Heat—Maj. Delmar and Louise Jefferson.

Detroit, Mich., July 18.—Eight complete races gave the 5,000 people who attended the Detroit Driving club's blue ribbon meet at Grose Pointe track yesterday afternoon excellent sport. The features of the card were the 2:04 pace, left over from yesterday, and the 2:07 trot. Dan Patch was an almost prohibitive favorite in the 2:04 pace and captured the event in straight heats, with Searchlight second both times. In the first heat Searchlight led to the stretch, with Patch trailing second. There M'Henry led Dan Patch cut and he rapidly overhauled Searchlight. He won the second heat by two lengths, after trailing second three-quarters of the way. Summary:

Garrett and Auburn citizens are organizing a company to install an automobile line between the two cities, which are but five miles apart. The autos will run at hourly intervals and carry passengers at a low rate of fare. For many years an electric line has been talked of, but it never materialized.

BOILER EXPLODES

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT ON THE CLOVER LEAF ROAD.

CAB OCCUPANTS ARE KILLED

ONE OF THE VICTIMS FORMER FORT WAYNE RESIDENT.

THE BRAKEMAN IS MISSING

SUPPOSED TO BE BENEATH THE PILE OF WRECKED CARS.

By an explosion of the boiler of a Clover Leaf engine at Continental, Ohio, at 9 p. m. last Thursday Chas. Mathers, engineer, and James Smith, fireman, were instantly killed. Mrs. Ladd, a resident of Continental, was seriously injured by being blown through a window of her home, and a brakeman, whose name could not be learned, is missing and his body is supposed to be under the pile of wreckage. The engine, No. 58, was hauling eastbound freight train No. 42, which had taken a siding to allow a passenger train to pass, and was in the act of pulling out on the main line when the explosion occurred. The force of the explosion was terrific and the engine and several cars were literally torn into pieces. The tracks of both the main line and siding were also torn up for a distance of about seventy-five feet. The scene of the accident is about 150 feet from the Nickel Plate crossing and near the central part of the little village. On either side of the track are houses, including a hotel, and Mrs. Ladd was sitting on the porch of one of these when the explosion occurred. The force of it carried her through the window. The telegraph wires of the Clover Leaf were also torn down by the explosion and for several hours communication along the line was made in a round about way and over other wires. The wreck crew from Frankfort was hastened to the scene and is now there clearing the tracks of the wreckage and making repairs to track and telegraph line. The dead engineers are pretty well known to railway men on the Pittsburgh and the Nickel Plate roads, which cross the Clover Leaf, the former at Delphos and the latter at Continental. Fireman Smith is particularly well known here, for he once lived in Fort Wayne and worked in the Wabash shops awhile. Later he took a position as fireman on that road, but lost his job during the American Railway union strike in 1894. He married Miss Maude McClure, daughter of the late Engineer J. H. McClure, several years ago and since the beginning of his service on the Clover Leaf Mr. and Mrs. Smith have resided in Delphos. The deceased has some relatives residing at Mahon, a little village in Huntington county, where he was born and reared, and will probably be taken there for interment.

BRAKEMAN BADLY PINCHED.

Mr. Ledgerwood, of 1701 Calhoun street, was summoned to Valparaiso last week by a telegram informing him that his nephew, C. Williams, was badly injured at that place. The young man is a brakeman on the Pittsburgh road and was caught between the cars in a manner that resulted in breaking several ribs and otherwise injuring him.

Another Pittsburgh brakeman to meet with misfortune last week was W. J. Bennett, who stepped upon a loose stone as he was running to throw a switch, and severely sprained his ankle.

MAY HAVE A LAUNCH RACE.

There is some rivalry among the launch owners at Rome City as to who owns the speediest craft, and many impromptu races are held every week. There are several very fast boats on the lake and some of the races are decidedly interesting. A number of the cottagers propose holding a launch race some time in the near future, or during the Venetian night festivities. The race will be open to all and the winner would be recognized as the flag-ship of the fleet and receive a suitable cup, to be raced for every season. The leading builders of launches are represented on Sylvan lake, the boat built by the Kehoe company of this city and belonging to Landlord Mills, of the Wayne hotel, being the largest owned by private parties.

SLAYS SISTER'S SWEETHEART.

Danville, Ind., July 18.—During a fight with Peter Davis, Samuel Fletcher, who had been paying attention to his sister's sweetheart, was stabbed to death by Davis yesterday near the Hendricks-Morgan county line. Davis took exception to Fletcher's attentions to Davis' sister. The two met on a country road and quarreled. Fletcher struck Davis with a buggy whip, when Davis drew a knife and cut Fletcher a dozen times, three wounds being fatal. Fletcher lived but a few minutes.

utes. Threats were made against Davis' life. He came to Danville and gave himself up. Davis protests he did the stabbing in self-defense. He

When somebody moved that the livered by Fletcher and claims that he struck blindly with the knife he used in fighting Fletcher.

WOMAN FIGHTS BIG SNAKE.

Kokomo, Ind., July 18.—Mrs. Asa Jones, living seven miles west of here, had a thrilling battle with a snake yesterday. While in her garden a six-foot blacksnake coiled its tail around her ankle and raised up to bite her face. Mrs. Jones had a butcher knife in her hand, with which she was cutting beets, and she defended herself with the blade. The snake made several darts at her face, but she wielded the knife energetically and after a desperate struggle had the reptile dead at her feet. She cut it into several pieces.

PUT UP A TOWNSHIP TICKET

REPUBLICANS NAME LIST OF CANDIDATES.

B. W. Skelton Has Walk-Away for Justice—Lively Tilt Over Selection of Names by Committee.

Republicans of Wayne township, meeting at the court house assembly room Thursday evening, nominated the following ticket:

For Justices of the Peace—Benjamin W. Skelton and Emanuel Strass.

For Constables—Harvey Hite and John Heffelfinger.

Candidates for three places on the advisory board and four road supervisors are to be named by the township central committee.

PLENTY OF BALLOTING.

T. D. DeVilbiss presided as chairman of the convention, with John T. Douglass as secretary, and T. J. Logan and F. D. Hoham as tellers. Fifty-two delegates, as well as a fair sized crowd of spectators, were in their seats when the convention was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock.

For justices of the peace the names of B. W. Skelton, Joseph Lombard, Louis P. Huser, C. G. Casterline, John B. Kelly, Emanuel Strass and J. S. Batchelor were announced. For the first place on the ticket B. W. Skelton had a walk-away on the first ballot, the vote being as follows: Skelton, 45; Lombard, 1; Huser, 2; Casterline, 5; Strass, 1.

Four additional ballots were necessary before anybody could land the 27 votes necessary to nominate the second candidate for justice. The first ballot was: Batchelor, 8; Huser, 15; Kelly, 1; Strass, 10; Casterline, 15, and Lombard, 4. Mr. Lombard withdrew. Second ballot: Batchelor, 6; Kelly, 1; Strass, 18; Casterline, 15. Third ballot: Batchelor, 1; Huser, 13; Strass, 24; Casterline, 15. Strass' gain forecasted his nomination, which occurred on the next ballot, as follows: Huser, 12; Strass, 31; Casterline, 10.

THE CONSTABLES.

Three names were announced for the two places as constable: Harvey Hite, John Heffelfinger and William Raudebush. Hite was chosen on the first ballot, the vote being: Hite, 49; Heffelfinger, 4. On the second ballot Heffelfinger was the winner by a vote of 37 to 16 for Raudebush.

B. W. Skelton and Mr. Hite were called forward, expressed their thanks for the nominations and expressed a belief that they had a chance of election.

HAD A LIVELY TILT.

When somebody moved that the naming of candidates for the advisory board be delegated to the township committee there was a lively protest from various parts of the house, and the eye and no vote was so nearly equal that a delegate demanded a roll call on the motion. It was carried by the narrowest sort of a margin, 29 voting "aye" as against 24 "noes."

The "noes" were clearly dissatisfied with the plan, and when a similar motion was made to dispose of the road supervisors in the same manner a storm of protest arose. Several delegates spoke against delegating to any committee the work for which the convention had assembled, namely, the nomination of a ticket. There was some confusion and Chairman Harris secured the floor. He expressed a doubt as to whether the delegates, nearly all of whom were from the city, were sufficiently familiar with the road districts to make a selection of the supervisors and said it was a matter that concerned the people outside the city only. One outside delegate protested against placing the matter in the hands of the committee, as he favored meetings of the farmers themselves to make their selections. When he was assured that the committee would receive suggestions from the farmers, he subsided, and on a vote the motion was declared carried. Adjournment of the convention at once followed.

Kendallville people are suffering from frequent burglaries.

KING FIXES DATE

COMMANDS CORONATION FOR AUGUST 9.

OFFICIAL NOTICE ISSUED

CORONATION PROCESSION IS AGAIN REHEARSED.

EDWARD GETS ALONG WELL

FINDS GREAT BENEFIT IN RECENT CHANGE.

London, July 18.—An official notification was issued this morning that by the king's command the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place August 9. Rehearsals of the procession from Buckingham palace to Westminster Abbey took place this morning, and the officials of the various state departments concerned in the ceremony are again busy with preparations for the crowning.

THE KING'S CONDITION.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 18.—A bulletin issued this morning by the king's physicians says:

"The king continues to make satisfactory progress. He is benefitting in every way from the change. His majesty sleeps well and is able to have a couch placed upon the open deck during the greater part of the day."

The next bulletin will be issued July 21.

WILL LOOK AFTER ORPHANS

FORT WAYNE LUTHERANS FORM A SOCIETY.

Evangelical Lutheran Kinderfreund Society Has Just Been Incorporated—Its Objects.

Prominent members of the German Lutheran church in Fort Wayne have just organized a society having a most beneficent purpose. It will exercise a care over unprotected orphans and lend its aid in securing Christian homes for the helpless ones.

The organization has just been legally incorporated as the Evangelical Lutheran Kinderfreund society for the states of Indiana and Ohio. Its headquarters are to be in Fort Wayne, and its directors are Philip Wambagans, August Lange, E. F. Niemeyer, H. C. Luehr, H. C. Jans, Louis Bender, Paul Stoepelwerth, C. A. Kampe, Edmund Schroeder, F. C. Spiegel, Fred H. Fehling and J. W. Miller.

It will be seen that nearly every German Lutheran minister in the city, together with other well known citizens, are included in the directorate, and aside from these many prominent Lutherans are associated with the new movement. Rev. Wambagans is president and Rev. Lange is secretary.

It is not the intention of the society to establish an orphan's home, but merely to assist in placing homeless children in desirable Christian homes, where they may be reared under proper influences that will make them useful citizens. The church already has an institution for orphans at Indianapolis.

AFTER ELECTRIC LINE.

Sol. A. Wood, of the law firm of Gilbert, Berghoff & Wood, left last week for New York on a business trip. Mr. Wood is interested in the project to build an electric railroad from Angola to Goslen, touching some of the numerous lakes in Steuben county and his trip east is in the interest of the movement.

FORT WAYNE THE BEST CITY.

Road Foreman C. R. Colmey, whose return from an extensive eastern tour was mentioned a few days ago, is more fully impressed than ever with the beauty and worth of Fort Wayne. "During my travels," he said, "I did not see a city the size of Fort Wayne that was so well provided with manufacturing establishments and other labor employing sources, nor with as good business houses, private residences, city and county buildings as this one. Nor did I see a country where the agricultural prospects were as good as they are today in Indiana and Ohio. Fort Wayne is the banner city of its size in the United States and I am proud to claim citizenship in it." Mr. Colmey's sentiments are those of many others who have the opportunity to make comparisons.

Clarence Ketting, 20 years old, at Sparsburg, Blackfoot county, tried to remove the belt from a traction engine Friday and was thrown into the rapidly revolving fly-wheel. His skull was crushed and he was otherwise mangled, dying instantly.

SMITH IS RETIRED

AUTHOR OF "KILL AND BURN" ORDER IN DISGRACE.

PRESIDENT REVIEWS CASE APPROVES FINDING OF THE COURT MARTIAL.

AMERICAN NAME IS SULLIED

GEN. JACOB H. SMITH GOES TO RETIRED LIST.

Washington, July 16.—Secretary Root brought from Oyster Bay the case of Gen. Jacob H. Smith, tried by court martial at Manila on account of orders issued by Major Waller. General Smith was found guilty of the charges by the court and sentenced to be admonished by the reviewing authority. The president has so admonished General Smith and retired him under the law which provides that officers having reached the age of 62 years may be retired at will by the president. Secretary Root supplements the reprimand of President Roosevelt in a long circular, in which he explains the conditions which resulted in the court martial of General Smith, and shows that although Smith issued the "kill and burn" order, as a matter of fact very few persons were killed as a result of that order, the casualties being confined almost wholly to the eleven natives killed under Major Waller's direction.

TEXT OF THE REVIEW.

Following is the text of the president's review of the case:

"White House, Washington, July 14, 1902. By the president: The findings and sentence of the court are approved. I am well aware of the danger and great difficulty of the task our army has had in the Philippine islands and of the well nigh intolerable provocations it has received from the cruelty, treachery and total disregard of the rules and customs of civilized warfare on the part of its foes. I also heartily approve the employment of the sternest measures necessary to put a stop to such atrocities and to bring this war to a close. It would be culpable to show weakness in dealing with such foes or to fail to use all legitimate and honorable methods to overcome them. But the very fact that warfare is of such character as to afford infinite provocation for the commission of acts of cruelty by junior officers and the enlisted men, must make the officers in high and responsible positions peculiarly careful in their bearing and conduct as to keep a moral check over any acts of an improper character by their subordinates. Almost universally the higher officers have so borne themselves as to supply this necessary check; and with but few exceptions the officers and soldiers of the army have shown wonderful kindness and forbearance in dealing with their foes. But there have been exceptions; there have been instances of the use of torture and of improper heartlessness in warfare on the part of individuals or small detachments.

SULLIED AMERICAN NAME.

"In the recent campaign ordered by General Smith, the shooting of the native bearers by the orders of Major Waller was an act which sullied the American name and can be but partly excused because of Major Waller's mental condition at the time; this mental condition being due to the fearful hardship and suffering which he had undergone in his campaign. It is impossible to tell exactly how much influence language like that used by General Smith may have had in preparing the minds of those under him for the commission of the deeds which we regret. Loose and violent talk by an officer of high rank is always likely to excite to wrong-doing those among his subordinates whose wills are weak or whose passions are strong.

ORDERS SMITH'S RETIREMENT.

"General Smith has behind him a long career distinguished for gallantry and on the whole for good conduct. Taken in the full, his work has been such as to reflect credit upon the nation; and it is deeply to be regretted that he should have so acted in this instance as to interfere with his further usefulness in the army. I hereby direct that he be retired from the active list.

(Signed.)

"Theodore Roosevelt."

MEETING OF CATHOLIC BOARD.

Those in attendance at the meeting of the Catholic school board of the diocese of Fort Wayne, held at the episcopal residence last week, were: Bishop Alender, Rev. A. E. Lafontaine, school examiner; Very Rev. John R. Dinnen, of Lafayette; Revs. A. Kroeger, of Tipton; Charles Cuendling, of Lafayette; E. Wrobel, of Mishawaka; L. A. Oechtering, of Mishawaka; L. E. Moench, of Valparaiso; J. H. Oechtering and F. Koerd, of this city.

Rev. Lafontaine presented his annual report, showing the condition of the schools to be most satisfactory.

It was decided to have uniform books used in all the schools throughout the diocese.

GETTING RIGHT-OF-WAY.

Less than two miles of the right-of-way remains to be secured for the new electric line to be constructed between Huntington and Warren by S. J. Nelson, of this city. It is only a matter of a few days when the work will be completed, and the actual work of construction will begin very shortly.

RHYTHMIC LANDS BIG STAKE

WINS THE $10,000 M. & M. EVENT AT DETROIT.

Takes the Great Harness Classic in Straight Heats—Winner Not Pressed to Win.

Detroit, July 16.—Rhythmic, a blind horse, won the Merchants and Manufacturers' $10,000 stake for 2:24 trotters at the Grosjean track yesterday in straight heats. He won it easily and at all times had the field smothered with his speed. Rhythmic's best time was 2:11½, which is two and one-quarter seconds slower than the record set by Eleata last year.

When the time came to call the race Starter Hoyt announced that Zephyr had been drawn, veterinarians pronouncing her unfit to race. Stories began to circulate as to the real cause of the withdrawal, and one that got the most believers was that the Zephyr people "chucked it up" because they were afraid of the blind horse.

Direct Hal took the third heat in the Chamber of Commerce pace, postponed from Monday, turning the course in 2:07½. Elderson being again the contender. The Denver horse Silver Sign took the postponed 2:15 trot. General Johnson won the third heat, but Silver Sign took the fourth and fifth, the latter in a nose-to-nose finish with Pug, who took a heat yesterday.

The 2:07 pace had a bunch of good ones in, but the Hamblins tucked the purse away with Shadow Chimes, Fannie Dillard and Riley B. being the only ones to take a strong bid for first honors. Shadow Chimes finished easy in 2:05 and 2:05½.

RETURN TO WORK

FREIGHT HANDLERS' STRIKE IS AT AN END.

ACCEPT TERMS OF JULY 1

RAILROADS MAKE NO OTHER AGREEMENT.

MEN VOTE TO RESUME WORK

TEAMSTERS ALSO GO BACK AND ACTIVITY REIGNS.

Chicago, July 16.—The Association of Railway General Managers, embracing every road which enters Chicago, have issued the following signed statement:

"All of our old men, not before on hand for work, reported at the freight houses at noon today and were put to work. No conference was held with any committee or otherwise since Tuesday, and no agreement was made with the union or with any committee. The men simply reported for work and they doubtless expect and will receive the pay offered July 1, and which the railroad companies have been willing all along to pay."

VOTED TO RESUME WORK.

Chicago, July 16.—After two days of strife the Chicago freight handlers' strike terminated today in an unqualified victory for the railroads. A meeting of the strikers, presided over by President Curran, resulted in an almost unanimous vote to return to work, leaving the wage scale and other questions for settlement between the men and their respective roads.

At the conclusion of the meeting the strikers went by hundreds to the warehouses to apply for their old positions, and the teamsters who have remained out in sympathy again took up their reins. By noon immense quantities of freight which had been held back for days were being rushed to the railroads, or taken from warehouses and cars. Where stagnation had ruled commercial activity again reigned. Chicago merchants expressed unbounded relief at the termination of hostilities, but they were scarcely less happy than the men themselves, although the strike is estimated to have cost them $10,000,000, to say nothing of the trade that has been permanently lost to them.

The little hall where the meeting of strikers took place was jammed to suffocation, and thousands were unable to obtain entrance. It was a brief meeting, only long enough for an angry speech by Curran and the vote which followed.

CURRAN'S ANGRY WORDS.

"Men," said Curran, "we came out like men; we have acted like men, and we should not go back like sheep, and there has been treachery in our camp. Yesterday, when I was about to use the telephone, the wire got crossed and I heard one of the members of our executive committee talking with a railroad manager. He was encouraging the manager to hold out, for he told him that the strike was almost broken. 'That is a sample of the faith that has been kept with me. The officials of the truck drivers' union have not kept faith, either, and it seems useless to continue the fight any longer. Shall we go back and ask for our old jobs?'"

In this simple form the matter was put to a vote and almost immediately a great chorus of ayes had brought to a peaceful end one of Chicago's most serious and threatening labor situations. It is believed the roads generally will allow the truckers seven cents an hour and minor concessions granted by the proposition of July 1. The proposition accepted by the men was in effect the one given to President Curran by the state board of arbitration earlier in the day, although the proposition in its proper form was not placed before the men.

WILL TAKE OLD MEN BACK.

The railroad managers, when told of the vote to return to work, said that wherever possible the old men would be taken back. A small percentage of the new men, however, will be retained for a time at least. Nowhere was the news of the settlement received with more pleasure than the warehouses where thousands of men, gathered from other points of the various roads to take the places of the strikers, were longing to return to their homes. They had been well fed and given good sleeping quarters, but the big majority of them, being accustomed to the comfort of their homes, were tired of being "herded."

WERE WEDDED AT NOON.

William Earl Flowers, of Sturgis, Mich., and Miss Effie M. Ressler, of Huntington, were united in marriage last Wednesday, the ceremony being performed at the parsonage of the Wayne street M. E. church, by Rev. A. S. Preston. Accompanying the bride party were the bride's mother and Harry O. Dungan and Miss Maud Murray, of Huntington. Fort Wayne is becoming quite a Greta Green for Huntington bridal couples. This is the fourth Huntington couple wedded by Rev. Preston within the past few weeks.

CAME NEAR COSTING HER LIFE

HOBSON RESCUES GIRL WHO TESTS HIS DARING.

Hero of the Merrimac Jumps Into the River After Girl Who Leaped
Into the Water.

St. Louis, July 17.—A girl's folly came near costing her her life at the Piazza Chautauqua, near East St. Louis, yesterday afternoon. But for the strong arms of Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, the Cuban war hero, Miss May Cerf, of 1807 LaSalle street, East St. Louis, would have drowned. She was standing on the deck of a river yacht when she passed the naval officer swimming in the water. She had met him before, and as he smiled at her the girl called out banteringly:

"If I should fall in, Captain Hobson, would you rescue me?"

"I most certainly would," replied the lieutenant.

The words had hardly left his mouth when there was a splash, and the girl sank in the waters of the Mississippi. For a second only her skirts buoyed her up. As the white sailor hat worn by the girl went under the water the crowds on the banks of the river screamed with fright.

Captain Hobson realized the danger. He saw the joke had been carried dangerously far, and he started with long, strong strokes for the spot where the girl had sunk. Albro Giberson, of Elsa, Ill., his companion, swam with him.

To the terrified men and women on the deck of the yacht it seemed an age before Hobson reached the spot where the white sailor hat was seen last. He seemed to find no trace of the girl there, but shouts and gestures from the boat informed him that she had drifted a few yards down stream before sinking. Captain Hobson turned with the tide and floated, while he peered in the depths of the yellow water for the form of the girl.

Suddenly he dived and after a few minutes he reappeared on the surface with his arm grasping the shoulders of the struggling girl.

Probably Captain Hobson would not have been able to save the young woman without his friend's assistance. Although he is a fine swimmer, the current was strong, the girl's garments were very heavy and her struggling made it almost impossible for him to make any headway against the river.

It was all the two men could do to keep the girl's head above water until the yacht was finally brought so close that those on board could assist in the rescue.

Miss Cerf was too weak to speak or stand when eager hands grasped her. Both Captain Hobson and his companion were exhausted.

After a vigorous pounding and the administration of restoratives Miss Cerf revived, very limp, but smiling. To one of her girl friends she said:

"I know it was very foolish, but I knew I should be rescued."

Then she looked at Captain Hobson, who smiled rather grimly as he leaned against the deck rail. He congratulated her on her narrow escape from death and went into the cabin to put on his flannels.

Tuesday afternoon Captain Hobson delivered a lecture at the Piazza Chautauqua on a naval subject, and at its conclusion Dr. Jay A. Ford, in charge of the platform, delicately referred to the kissing privileges of the hero of the Merrimac. He said:

"I now extend the invitation to the audience to come up and shake hands with Captain Hobson—shake hands, that's all."

A broad smile and some tittering passed over the assembly, and Captain Hobson good-naturedly joined in the smile. Afterward a party of young ladies who were invited, with the captain on the yacht "Camilla" discussed the remark.

"Well, you can't get him to kiss you," said some one to Miss Cerf, while the officer and Mr. Giberson were in swimming. That banter came near costing two lives.

TWO SCORE LIVES LOST IN THE BIG DALY-WEST.

POWDER MAGAZINES EXPLODE

TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE NEAR PARK CITY, UTAH.

MANY OF DEAD TAKEN OUT

FUMES OF EXPLOSION CAUSED
MOST OF DEATHS.

Park City, Utah, July 16.—Two powder magazines at the 1,200-foot level of the Daly-West mine exploded about 1 o'clock this morning, causing a loss of life variously estimated at from thirty-six to fifty.

The latest message from the mine by telephone says that up to 10 o'clock thirty-three bodies had been recovered.

THE DEAD.

The following is a list of the dead:

At the Ontario—
Geo. Garvin.
William Swevel.
Chris. Saderrup.
Steve Baratti.
Charles Neime.
W. F. Thomas.
At the Daly West—
Thomas A. Kelly.
R. Jackman.
J. B. Kindall.
John Featherstone.
John Gill.
William Lane.
C. E. Nelson.
John Gablin.
Harry Gablin.
Wm. Sims.

Ike Crowley.
John McLaughlin.
John Lively.
John McGurvin.
Chris. Colten.
John Burgoyne.
W. A. Wigland.

Thomas McKean.
Mike Conlon.
John Extrum.
John McKeaglin.

MORE BODIES IN THE MINE.

Officials of the Daly-West state that only three more bodies are in the mine. Miners, however, assert that there are twelve or fifteen still unaccounted for.

The fumes from the explosion were overpowering and caused most of the deaths. Several miners were recovered in a half-dazed condition. These were all brought out through the Ontario mine shaft, which is a mile distant from the Daly-West, in which the explosion occurred. The 1,200 level of the Daly-West corresponds to and is connected by tunnel with the 600 level of the Ontario.

In the Daly-West mine between 100 and 150 men were at work. In the Ontario were nearly 100, it is believed.

TWO POWDER MAGAZINES.

There are two powder magazines at the 1,200 level of the Daly-West, one at each side of the shaft, with a capacity of from one to two cars of powder each. A car of powder was added to the supply within the past few days.

The explosion, which occurred at 1 o'clock, was so tremendous that it awakened everyone within a radius of miles. As an example of its awful force, it is said that two horses in the ore tunnel one and a half miles away were killed by it.

Women and children are thronging to the Ontario shaft house, which is midway between Park City and the Daly-West. Nearly all of them have husbands or fathers in the mines and their grief is pitiable. All of the doctors in town are at the mines.

They are doing what they can to resuscitate the unconscious men as they are taken out, but it is difficult to obtain information down town, as the telephone to the mine has failed.

A RESCUER DIES.

Members of the relief party who went into the Ontario mine shortly after the explosion occurred have not yet returned and fears are entertained for their safety.

McKeaglin was one of the rescuers who went down the second time to help and died on being brought to the surface. He was asphyxiated.

Eight miners escaped through the Anchor tunnel unhurt.

SLEMP OF DALY-WEST.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 16.—On the local mining stock exchange this morning Daly-West dropped from $54 to $48 a share, a loss of over $1,000,000 on the entire capital stock.

Mr. Ross played three very difficult numbers: Spohr's Eighth Concerto, Chopin's "Remeniz," nocturne in B flat, and Ernst's "Elegie." Mr. Ross sails on August 20th for Europe, where he will study under the leading masters of the violin.

Valentine Fox, a gardener living southwest of the city, while driving homeward Thursday on West Main street was asked by a pedestrian whether he hadn't lost his coat on the bridge. He understood the questioner to say "cold" and answered saying that he had not had a cold with him. After driving about a mile he missed his coat and then realized what the man had asked him. He drove back to hunt his garment, but has heard nothing of it since.

Mrs. Sargent, who lives near the cemetery, complained to the police of the extravagant education of a dog who lives out her way. This particular dog gets into the confidence of chickens who are often total strangers to him, and by taking them by the neck entices them to accompany him to his master, who makes a practice of stuffing a bag with them. Eventually the chickens get to market and by a well known process of evolution in the sweet bye and bye resolve themselves into potpie and things. The superintendent of police says he knows the party who owns the dog, that he is now out of the city, but that on his return to this bailiwick something will be done to head off the mortuary list in the poultry kingdom.

Invitations will be sent out to several former pastors of Berry street church, and a number of them will be present. It is probable that a temporary floor will be laid to accommodate the congregation and visitors.

ARE NOT IN THE NEW COMBINE

LOCAL WHOLESALE GROCERS DISCREDIT A STORY.

Fort Wayne Firms Believe Reported Organization Is Very Largely Fiction.

So far as can be learned none of the wholesale grocery houses in Fort Wayne are in any way connected with the proposed combination of big wholesale grocery dealers, said to have been organized by Chicago capitalists, with Harlow N. Higginbotham at its head. More than this the Fort Wayne institutions doubt very much whether any such merger has been accomplished.

The new combination, capitalized at $5,000,000 and known as the National Grocer company, was presumed to include all the prominent firms in Illinois, Ohio, Missouri and Michigan. The Fort Wayne wholesale houses questioned today disclaimed any knowledge of the merger and all asserted that they were in no way connected with any such project.

It is learned, however, that several months ago a representative of the plan visited Fort Wayne and endeavored to enlist the sympathy of wholesalers here with the organization and at its earnest solicitation one of the local wholesale houses, A. H. Perfect & Co., sent a representative to New York to attend a preliminary meeting. The result was that the firm decided there was nothing in the proposition and dropped the matter.

CAUSE OF PARKER'S DEATH.

Concerning the case, the Grand Rapids Evening Post says: "The coroner's jury sitting in the case of Edward E. Parker, of Fort Wayne, the spiritualist medium who died at the American hotel Sunday, returned a verdict this morning that the man 'came to his death from an overdose of morphine, accidentally taken for relief of stomach trouble.' George Jones, clerk at the hotel, testified that when he awoke the man, the latter said he was addicted to the morphine habit and that he had taken some. Jones, thinking that the man was perhaps under the influence of liquor, took him to a room as he requested. The chemist who analyzed the contents of the stomach testified that he found a large quantity of the drug still unabsorbed."

NEW CARS ON THE WAY.

Four handsome new cars just purchased by the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company are en route from the factory, and it is hoped to complete their equipment and place them in service on the line within the next few weeks. The cars are combination cars, sixty feet in length, and as those now in service are but forty-eight feet, the difference will be quite noticeable. One section of the cars is partitioned off and will be devoted to express and light freight business. Instead of bearing the names of states, as do the cars now in use, the combination cars are designated by number, starting with "301."

WILL DRAIN EEL RIVER.

(Columbia City Post.) A number of Allen county property owners and Joseph Long, of Smith township, this county, have petitioned the commissioners of the two counties to drain Eel river. The petition prays that the work be begun at the Grand Rapids railroad in Perry township, Allen county, and end in the Chappine reservation, in Union township. Should the work be ordered done, it will cause quite a bill of expense.

The two couples were married at the same time, making the responses together. After the wedding, supper was served, and the wedding festivities continued until a late hour. Mr. Revert is a carpenter and Mr. Lesh is a driver for the Geller bakery.

CITY REPEALS FRANCHISE.

When a woman is nervous her imagination gives her fantastic and threatening shapes to the most familiar objects. By day she starts in fear at every sudden or unfamiliar sound. By night the furniture of her room takes on affrighting forms of ghost or goblin. You can't reason with the nerves. Neither logic nor love can quiet them. They must be nourished and then the outcry of the nerves will cease as naturally as a hungry child ceases to cry when fed. For nervous women there is no better tonic and nerve than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the diseases which produce nervousness in women, irregularity, debilitating drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, and induces refreshing sleep.

"When I began taking your medicine I was not able to stand on my feet ten minutes at a time," writes Mrs. Hattie Bormadale, of 113 Spring Street, Nashville, Tenn. "Had falling of uterus, and kidney and liver disease, and was so weak and nervous I could not keep anything. Would take nervous spells and almost die at times. I had several different doctors attend to me, but they could not do me any good. The last one I had said I would never get up again. Told him that I was taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and he said, 'Might just as well take that much water each day.' But I thought I would give the medicine a fair trial. Before I had finished the first two bottles I was able to get outside the house and walk around the yard. I kept on taking the medicines and they cured me."

pany to remove the tracks, which have been abandoned on Gallatin street. The Union Traction company is given thirty days to take up the tracks, poles and wires and repair the streets. The council holds that the Union Traction company has violated the contract made with the city by Ethan A. Huffman when the franchise under which the Marion Transit company operated was granted, and that the Union Traction company is trespassing on public property in running cars over portions of the Marion Transit lines. If the track is not removed within thirty days the city will ask for an injunction to restrain the Union Traction company from operating cars on the streets covered by the Huffman franchise.

RUN OVER BY A SEPARATOR

Joshua Wheeler, a well known farmer residing in Wayne township, fell beneath the wheels of a separator Thursday afternoon about 5 o'clock and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and his left foot was so badly crushed that amputation may be necessary. Wheeler had a narrow escape from death and had he not had sufficient presence of mind to roll slightly to one side the ponderous machine would have crushed his life out.

Mr. Wheeler was endeavoring to control a fractious horse, when the animal swerved suddenly and threw him directly in front of the wheel of the big machine. Mr. Wheeler tried to roll out of harm's way, but the wheel passed over him before he could do so. He was carried into his home and Drs. W. H. Myers, H. V. Swering and Culp were called to attend him.

Mr. Wheeler's injuries are of a very serious nature and he will probably lose the injured foot.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SENATOR HANNA AT WINONA

WILL LECTURE THERE MONDAY, JULY 28.

He Will Discuss the Problem of the Relations of Capital and Labor on That Day.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 17.—For the past month the republican state committee has been making an effort to get Senator Hanna to come to Indiana this fall to help out in the state and the congressional campaigns by a series of speeches. Word has been received through Senator Beveridge that the Ohio senator would come to Indiana for a few days. His dates have not yet been made. The people of this section of the state, however, will have their opportunity of hearing Senator Hanna speak at Winona Lake the latter part of this month, but not along political lines. Senator Hanna has of late attracted world-wide attention by his attitude and by his suggestions how capital and labor can best work to their mutual interests. It is on this theme that he is to speak before the Winona assembly Monday, July 28, and to many it will be more interesting than a talk along political lines.

Additional interest will be given to the event by the presence of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who will speak, following Senator Hanna. In his line, Gompers is quite as much of a giant as is Senator Hanna, and under certain conditions probably yields greater national influence and power, as he has all the great union bodies of the country at his command. Gompers is as interesting as a talker as is Senator Hanna and is one of the most accomplished men before the American people today. He is able to address his tradesmen fluently in six different languages and can hold conversation in a half dozen more. This is of incalculable value to a man in his position, and this statement gives some idea of the ability of the man who wields the scepter of labor.

The people of this section of the state have not had an opportunity to hear Senator Hanna in the role of speaker and lecturer, and those who have always considered him a silent factor, whose most effective methods are in directing affairs instead of preaching them, will have a most delightful surprise. He is one of the most forceful speakers before the public today. He does not rely on set oratorical rules of gesture and expression so much as in making clear, hard statements and driving them home with the force of a sledge hammer. This is Mr. Hanna's first talk on the labor problem in Indiana.

REPLY FAVORABLE

A PROMISING OUTLOOK FOR PRESIDENT'S COMING.

TO COURT HOUSE DEDICATION

SECRETARY CORTELYOU RESPONDS TO INVITATION.

ROOSEVELT HOPES TO COME

SCHEDULE OF NORTHWESTERN TRIP IS GIVEN OUT.

Present indications are regarded as very favorable for the coming of President Roosevelt to Fort Wayne to participate in the dedication of the Allen county court house in September.

Information received today from the president's home at Oyster Bay make it evident that the itinerary for the executive's western trip has not yet been made up, and that the invitation extended by the county commissioners a few days ago reached President Roosevelt in ample time to be taken into consideration in making up the schedule for the western tour, which has been contemplated by the president for some time.

IT IS ACKNOWLEDGED. Acknowledgment of the invitation forwarded on Friday was received at noon today by President Orr, of the board of county commissioners, in the form of a letter from the president's secretary. The letter follows: "Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 14, 1902. My Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, with enclosures, and to state that the matter of which you write will be given the fullest consideration when the plans for the trip to which you refer are taken up for action.

Very truly yours, "Geo. B. Cortelyou, "Secretary to the President. "Mr. Chas. E. Orr, Fort Wayne, Ind."

Lieutenant Governor Gilbert is also in receipt of advices from another source indicating that the president very much desires to accept the Fort Wayne invitation, and will make an earnest effort to do so.

MAY BE SEPTEMBER 23.

The Sentinel's dispatches this afternoon announce that President Roosevelt will be in Detroit September 22 to attend a meeting of Spanish-American war veterans, and the schedule provides that he is to be in Indianapolis on the day following—Tuesday, Sept. 23. It is not impossible that the president may arrange to stop in Fort Wayne en route, reaching this city during the morning hours, spend a short time here and then proceed to the state capital. However, nothing more definite will be known until further advices are received from Washington.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE HEARS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 16.—(Special.)—Senator Beveridge today received a letter from Secretary Cortelyou stating that the invitation to President Roosevelt to attend the dedication of the court house at Fort Wayne had been received by the president, and that the latter hopes to be able to consider it favorably.

ARRANGING FOR THE TRIP.

Washington, July 16.—Secretary Cortelyou was at his desk in the temporary white house today. Mr. Cortelyou will remain here several days and will then take his family away for a vacation. The vacation will be the first of any length Mr. Cortelyou has taken in several years.

Mr. Cortelyou's principal business in returning to Washington is to submit to Secretary Shaw a schedule of payments to be made on account of the illness and death of President McKinley.

Secretary Cortelyou has completed the itinerary of two trips to be made by President Roosevelt, one to the New England states in August and the other to the northwest in September. The president will leave Oyster Bay August 22 and will visit all of the New England states on that journey. The New England trip will take about ten days and the president will be back in Oyster Bay about the first of September. He will remain at his home until September 19, when he will leave on his northwestern trip.

The trip will last two weeks and four days and will take in many places in the northwest. The president will stop first at Cincinnati on his way out and then his next important stop will be Detroit, to which place he goes to attend the annual convention of the Spanish war veterans on September 22. From Detroit the president will go to Indianapolis to attend the meeting in that city of the other organization of the Spanish war veterans. This will be on the day following his visit to Detroit.

WALTER FULTON NOT DEAD.

(Bluffton Banner.) Mrs. John Ulmer is in receipt of a letter from Walter B. Fulton, dated Ego Cebu, P. I., May 25, 1902. For some time the impression has been current that Fulton was dead, and even his father, who lives in Fort Wayne, held to this belief. However, his letter, written three months ago, sets all doubts at rest and accounts for his whereabouts. He states that he is located about 400 miles south of Manila and is so well pleased with the country that he intends locating there permanently after the war.

MRS. EDITH SPRADO DIES IN CHICAGO.

Will Be Remembered as Miss Edith Fairman Frankenstein, Formerly of Fort Wayne.

From Chicago comes the sad news of the death of Mrs. Edith Sprado, wife of Ralph Sprado, a prominent mechanical engineer in that city to whom she was wedded about two years ago. Mrs. Sprado was but twenty-one years of age.

Mrs. Sprado was at one time a resident of Fort Wayne, and will be remembered by many friends here as Miss Edith Fairman Frankenstein. She was the daughter of Mrs. M. L. Frankenstein by a previous marriage to the late Hon. J. K. Fairman, of Elmira, N. Y. Mrs. Frankenstein is now the widow of the late Dr. Frankenstein, formerly of Fort Wayne. Upon her father's side the daughter was a descendant of some of the earliest families in America, and upon her mother's side from the Earl of Rochester.

In her girlhood the young lady attended the old Clay school, going from there to Westminster seminary. In Chicago she had developed the vocal and dramatic talents which she possessed to a marked degree. The deceased will be recalled as an unusually beautiful young woman, of brilliant ability and charming attributes. Since her marriage she had made her home with her mother at 807 Washington boulevard, Chicago. The bereaved husband is at present in Australia on a business trip. Other surviving relatives include the mother and two sisters, the Misses Beatrice M., and Virginia G. B. Frankenstein.

HAS NEVER BEEN EXCELLED

WHEAT YIELD CONTINUES ITS GRATIFYING SHOWING.

C. S. Bash Says Allen County Crop Is Most Satisfactory in the County's History.

Charles S. Bash, who is recognized as excellent authority in the grain business in all its phases, has expressed the opinion that the wheat crop now being harvested will prove the most satisfactory in the history of Allen county.

The yield is furnishing some large surprises. From the very first the crop showing has been much in advance of previous estimates based upon the outlook, and Mr. Bash says that the earlier good showing is being fully sustained as the harvest progresses. He believes that upon an average of the entire county no previous year can be cited in which the wheat crop was more gratifying to the farmers.

The yield is showing from thirty to thirty-five bushels to the acre, and occasional pieces turn up with thirty-eight bushels. The berry is large and plump, and the quality is excellent.

SAVES A WOMAN'S LIFE.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Dreier & Bro. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

The reunion of the old Thirtieth Indiana regiment will be held this year in September at Leesburg, Kosciusko county.

NO FALSE CLAIMS.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced stages, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. Sold by Dreier & Bro. and Pellens & Polster.

FREED OF CHARGE

HORACE MARIOTTE EXONERATED AT HEARING.

EVIDENCE FAILED TO SHOW

RECEPTION AND CONCEALMENT OF STOLEN GOODS.

MRS. DAVIS IS UNDER BOND

BANKRUPTCY PETITIONS IN FEDERAL COURT.

Horace Mariotte, the pawnbroker, arrested on an affidavit made by postoffice inspectors last week, charging him with having received, secreted and concealed goods which he knew to have been stolen from the United States mails, was discharged after a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Logan Wednesday last. The government officials utterly failed to bring evidence to substantiate their charge against Mr. Mariotte.

The case was one which grew out of the action against Harvey Davis and Earl Reed, now in jail to await the action of the federal grand jury on a charge of having stolen merchandise from the sacks at the Fort Wayne postoffice. Davis was a mail wagon driver and Reed was his chum. Both have made confessions. Reed asserts that he sold to Mr. Mariotte a new razor which had been stolen from the mails and given him by Davis. He identified Mr. Mariotte as the man who purchased the razor, giving him 25 cents for it. Postoffice inspectors Kile and Foster, in looking up the case against the boys, found the razor in the window of Mariotte's establishment, which they asserted was the one sold by Reed. The latter also identified the razor.

Mr. Mariotte, on the other hand, contended that the razor found in his place had been in stock before the robbery of the mails occurred, and neither he nor his employees had any recollection of ever having bought a razor from Reed. The evidence was gone into at much length in the hearing today, among the witnesses examined being Inspectors Kile and Foster, Col. John A. Scott, Mr. Dygert, an employee of Mariotte's and Ben Mariotte, also a clerk at that establishment. Assistant District Attorney LaFollette represented the government, while Attorney A. H. Bittinger defended Mr. Mariotte.

Commissioner Logan, in his decision discharging Mr. Mariotte, held that the identification of the razor had been established, but that there was no evidence to show that Mr. Mariotte knew the razor had been stolen at the time of his purchase, and that the charge of "secreting and concealing" stolen goods, which constituted the strongest portion of the offense charged, was effectually disproved in the fact that the razor in question was on prominent display in Mr. Mariotte's window.

MRS. DAVIS IS HELD.

Mrs. Harriet S. Davis, mother of the young man charged with having stolen from the mails, was held to await the action of the federal grand jury, on a charge of secreting stolen property, but she was given her liberty upon her own recognizance in the sum of $500. Mrs. Davis admitted to the commissioner that at the request of her son she had taken a box containing the stolen plunder from an outbuilding and secreted it beneath her house on Chicago street, where it was later found by Inspector Kile.

BANKRUPTCY BUSINESS.

Nicholas Saceroty and Louis Papapichios, two Greeks who have been in partnership in the manufacture of candies, have filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. The firm's liabilities are placed at $807.86, with no assets. The members of the firm also filed individual petitions. Papapichios' liabilities being $10. and Saceroty's $103. Neither has any assets. John W. Eggemann is their attorney.

George W. Pask, a traveling salesman residing in Fort Wayne, filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition. His liabilities are $1,505.25, and assets $190. His attorney is H. I. Smith.

A LUNATIC'S DEED.

New York, July 17.—An insane man, whose name is thought to be Henry E. Kane, entered the New York Foundling Asylum today and shot Sister Serella in the left breast and Sister Angela in the fleshy part of the right arm.

Kane then ran into the grounds of the asylum and shot himself in the breast, making a flesh wound. Sister Serella is not expected to live.

SNATCHED PURSE AND RAN.

Jennie Walker, a domestic, met a male friend by appointment last week and after strolling about the city for awhile, the young fellow became enamored of Jennie's pocket-book, which he snatched and safely got away with. The purse contained between $6 and $7 and a few trinkets. The girl says the robbery was committed on Brackenridge street and admits that she does not know the correct name of the young fellow with whom she was walking. She gave a fair description of the fellow, however, together with the name which he gave, and the police are pretty well satisfied that they can locate the lad.

OSMOND-RAUNER.

Miss Frances Rauner and Frank Osmond were quietly married last Wednesday at the residence of Rev. Roche, at 8 o'clock. The young people had intended that the affair should be very quiet, but their friends accidentally heard of the event and arranged a pleasant surprise. When Mr. and Mrs. Osmond went to their new home, 825 West D-Wald street, they found a large number of friends awaiting them and an impromptu reception was held. The guests brought many handsome gifts, together with refreshments, and the festivities continued until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Osmond have gone east on a wedding trip and will be at home after August 15. The groom is a machinist at the Bass works.

FRETZ WAS AT INDIANAPOLIS

MISSING MAN WAS SEEN THERE ON SATURDAY.

An Auburn Acquaintance Talked With Him—Fort Wayne Friends Have No News.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., July 17.—Yesterday Capt. Moses B. Willis, of this city, received a letter from his son, Lew Willis, who resides at Indianapolis, stating that he saw Lewis B. Fretz in Indianapolis on Saturday afternoon and had a talk with him. Mr. Willis does not indicate where Fretz may be at the present time.

Fort Wayne friends of the missing man have had no trace of him since he left the Davis home, on McGlellan street, very early on Saturday morning, and when a reporter for The Sentinel gave members of the family the contents of the above dispatch this afternoon it was the first news they had received. The fact that Fretz was seen in Indianapolis at the time indicated would tend to show that fears of his suicide are groundless.

WARRANT IS ISSUED.

A warrant was issued by Judge Dreihelb on Thursday for the arrest of William Oetting, a dairyman residing on Walton avenue, on a charge of selling impure milk, preferred by Health Commissioner Macbeth. A sample of the milk sold by Oetting, which was tested by Dr. Macbeth, is alleged to have shown that it had been skimmed and that water had been added. Oetting will have a hearing before Judge Dreihelb.

DR. MERZ IMPROVING.

Dr. H. G. Merz, who is enjoying a stay at Denver, Col., for the purpose of rest and recreation, writes The Sentinel as follows: "I am enjoying a good rest, and am benefited by Colorado climate most wonderfully. I expect to be in better shape to take care of my practice when I come back, which will be the end of the present month. Although Denver is a fine city and the climate most invigorating, Fort Wayne home, sweet home, is best."

SWITCHMAN MARRIED.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Fletcher arrived in the city last evening and will soon be comfortably domiciled at 210 West Butler street. They were married last Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, in Canal Fulton, Ohio. The bride's name was Miss Ada Kauffman and she was one of the leading young ladies of her home city. Mr. Fletcher is a switchman in the employ of the Pennsylvania company and he will probably resume his duties tomorrow.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. my8-eod-w

KINGMORE GOT THIRD MONEY.

Frank Pearce returned at noon today from Lima, O., where he was in attendance upon the harness races. Kingmore, now in charge of Pearce Brothers, started in the 2-25 class there yesterday and came second twice and fourth once, getting away with third money.

A. R. Bass, of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night and had severe backache and pains in the kidneys. Was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by Dreier & Bro. and Pellens & Polster.

FALSE FILIPINOS

CATHOLIC PROVINCIAL SAYS THEY HATE AMERICA.

PEACE ONLY A PRETENSE

BUT A FRACTION OF THE PEOPLE OPPOSED TO FRIARS.

BIG LADRONE DRIVE IS ON

ROUNDING UP BAD NATIVES IN CAVITE PROVINCE.

Rome, July 17.—Father Santiago Paya, provincial of the dominicans in the Philippines, who is staying here, when informed by the correspondent of the Associated Press of the result of Governor Taft's negotiations with the vatican on the subject of the friars and their land, expressed satisfaction at the acceptance of the first proposal of Cardinal Kampolla, the papal secretary of state, that the matter be discussed at Manila between an apostolic delegate and the governor in Manila. When asked what was likely to be the outcome, Father Paya replied: "It is more important to know what will be the outcome of the matters between the Americans and Filipinos. Although the war is almost over, and the Filipinos now protest friendship for the Americans, they in reality dislike them just as they disliked the Spaniards. The Filipinos say they did not struggle against Spain to calmly surrender their independence."

Father Paya concluded with declaring that it was not true that the people were against the friars. The latter, he further asserted, were hated only by the native clergy, and a fraction of the people.

BIG LADRONE DRIVE.

Manila, July 17.—An extensive drive, with the object of capturing the Ladrones chiefs, Montallon and Felizardo, and fifty of their followers, is progressing in Cavite province. Twelve hundred constabulary, commanded by Captain Baker, moved today at daylight, forming a complete angle-shaped cordon, covering sixty square miles. Patrol launches are guarding the rivers. It is expected to close the cordon Saturday. The entire male population of the towns and farms will be included in the concentration movement. When it is completed the ladrones will be arrested and the others will be released.

SHE SHOT TO KILL.

Michigan City, Ind., July 18.—Mrs. Herman Schultz fired six shots at her husband last evening in an attempt to kill him. One shot took effect in the left breast near the shoulder. The doctors probed for the bullet, but could not locate it. Six months ago Schultz and his wife separated, and have since lived apart. Mrs. Schultz filed a complaint for divorce and alimony, claiming that Schultz was cruel. She says Schultz has been in the habit of calling at her home and terrorizing her, and, fearing that he would take her life, as he had threatened to do, she armed herself with a revolver.

When Schultz called at her home Mrs. Schultz ordered him to stay off the premises. He forced his way into the doorway and Mrs. Schultz shot him at the threshold. Mrs. Schultz was arrested, but released under bond.

A. W. HUFFMAN.

Editor of The Sentinel: I noticed in a recent number of the Peru Republican the death of A. W. Huffman. This event called to mind the fact that Huffman was at one time a contributor to the Fort Wayne Gazette, while published by the Kei Bros.

The publishers, by some means, discovered Huffman's peculiar facility in writing stories, when the imagination had to be called upon for the material needed, in working up stories to strike the imagination of the reader.

Some of the most remarkable stories produced by writers within the state came out in the Gazette from the pen of A. W. Huffman.

Among them were the exploration of a remarkable cave in his locality and divers snake stories that equaled the stories of the famous sea serpents.

These stories were so graphic and related with such naturalness that the public was inclined to accept the same as actualities. The same struck the imagination of a number of Fort Wayne boys, that they actually proceeded to effect an organization to proceed and explore the cave and see with their own eyes the extraordinary freaks of nature therein displayed. It was considerable of a task to convince the boys that the account was imaginary and not a reality.

effects there is no doubting the question that he has the needed faculty to make a noted writer.

Had Huffman directed his full attention to literary work he would have developed into a noted Hoosier fiction writer. His powers in that line were not wholly acquired by study and application, but nature had gifted him in that line in a way that few others could lay claim to. The Gazette, at the time, made the effort to interest and have him enter the literary field, but he was disinclined to make the venture. His business affairs claimed too much attention. Kai Gar.

STEEL COMPANY ORGANIZED

OFFICERS ELECTED WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

G. Max Hofmann Is President—Company Capitalized at $200,000 and Will Employ 200 Men.

A meeting of the stockholders of the new Fort Wayne Steel Foundry company was held Wednesday afternoon in the offices of the Fort Wayne Trust company, and an organization was perfected. The following officers were elected:

President—Max Hofmann. Vice President—Louis Fox. Secretary—P. E. W. Scheimann. Treasurer—Charles S. Bash.

The board of directors consists of the above mentioned officers and Messrs. William Stephan, J. R. Sinclair, E. H. Coombs, J. B. Reuss, J. W. White and Charles McCulloch. A call for the first payment of stock was made at the meeting and a levy of 20 per cent will be made, payable August 1.

The steel company is the first concern to locate on the ground recently purchased from the Rockhill estate by the Commercial Land company and it will erect its plant at the juncture of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie tracks. The plant will require fifteen acres of ground, and it is believed that at least 200 men will be employed from the start.

The Fort Wayne Steel Foundry company is strictly a Fort Wayne concern, backed by Fort Wayne capital and having as stockholders the leading business men of Fort Wayne. The Montpelier steel plant, of which Mr. Hofmann is head, will be merged with the Fort Wayne company.

TRAMPLED BY A COW.

(New Haven News.)

Mrs. Streetmatt met with a serious accident yesterday. They are living on one of the Hartzell farms south of town. A cow with a young calf was tethered in the yard and the cow attacked one of the children, a boy about 10 years old. The rope with which she was tied kept her from hurting him. His mother went to his rescue, when the cow turned upon her, knocked her down and jumped upon her. The boy, with a club, beat the cow off and rescued his mother, but she had received several bruises and required the attention of a doctor.

JOINS NEWSPAPER GANG.

Rud H. Dieterich, a gifted young Cincinnati newspaper man, has arrived in the city and today began work in Fort Wayne as a reporter on the Journal-Gazette. Mr. Dieterich has been for several years on the staff of the Cincinnati Times-Star. He was presented a handsome loving cup by his newspaper associates on the occasion of his leaving Cincinnati.

REMMEL'S GOOD RECORD.

Many Fort Wayne people will remember Hon. H. L. Remmel, formerly a well known citizen of this city, and now a leading citizen of Arkansas. Concerning him the Little Rock Democrat says:

After five years of most acceptable service to the treasury department, Hon. H. L. Remmel, collector of internal revenue for the district of Arkansas, retires from this most important branch of the public service, after having collected over a million of dollars, and, after having had his office inspected about twenty different times, he has had the satisfaction of receiving the highest encomiums that could be given a public official, from the fact that his office has stood as a model on every occasion when the accounts had been audited, with one or two exceptions, when the showing has been from 1/2 per cent to 1 per cent below the highest rating. On each occasion during his incumbency his office was rated, in its financial standing and management, among the first ten in the United States, with the one or two exceptions above.

This magnificent record must be gratifying to him, after his five years of service in this most responsible position under the government. official position Mr. Remmel has the confidence and esteem of the head of the treasury department, as well as the commissioner of internal revenue, and all of those with whom he had business relations connected

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

WILL OFTEN HELP YOU GREATLY—READ WHAT A FORT WAYNE CITIZEN SAYS.

You may hesitate to listen to the advice of strangers, but the testimony of friends or residents of Fort Wayne is worth your most careful attention. It is an easy matter to investigate such proof as this. Then the evidence must be conclusive. Read the following:

Mrs. John Falcones, of 71 West Williams street, says: "I gave Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at Meyer & Co.'s drug store, a good trial and I can honestly say that I believe them to be the most worthy remedy and one that can be depended upon in any case where it is possible for medicine to cure. Kidney complaint seems to run in our family and I suffered from it for a long time. Before I began to take Doan's Kidney Pills I had terrible pains across the small of my back, and it was so lame that I could hardly stoop or move about to attend to my household work. After I finished the second box of this valuable remedy all the symptoms of my former trouble passed away."

TELLS OF TELEPHONE GROWTH

G. W. BEERS SAYS DECATUR, IND., WAS ONE OF VERY FIRST CITIES TO HAVE INDEPENDENT SYSTEM.

George W. Beers, of Fort Wayne, one of the most prominent independent telephone men in America, recently prepared, at the request of the editor of Finance, a Cleveland publication, an article reviewing the independent long distance telephone situation of the central west. It is doubtful if any man is better qualified than Mr. Beers to speak upon this subject, and few men are better known in the telephone world than he. The Sentinel takes great pleasure in reprinting from Finance the article by Mr. Beers.

"In the fall of 1894 the first independent telephone exchange in this state, and, so far as I know, the first in the United States, was put in operation at Decatur, the capital of Adams county, about twenty miles south of this city. The success of that exchange was immediate and in rapid succession exchanges were constructed in the county seats surrounding this city, both in this state and in the western edge of Ohio, so that by the end of 1895 exchanges were in operation in all of northeastern Indiana and the adjacent counties of Ohio, including the cities of Lima and Fort Wayne.

"A demand sprang up for toll service between the various exchanges, which we were forced to meet in order to hold our patrons. A little company was organized with a capital of $25,000, called the Western Telephone and Telegraph company. We entered upon the construction of the connecting toll lines in the belief that the capital so invested would impose an additional burden upon our exchange earnings and were without hope that the receipts from toll service would bring sufficient returns to pay the cost of operation. The first experimental line was about ten miles in length, connecting two exchanges of about 100 subscribers each. We were surprised to find the income from these lines not only rendered them self-sustaining, but that there remained a profit equal to that earned on the capital invested in exchanges, and in addition to this extended service created a new demand for exchange service, which we believe amounted to an increase of 20 per cent. of the number of subscribers during the first year, and their influence has been continuous, so that exchanges originally intended for one or two hundred 'phones have grown in seven years to five and even seven hundred regular paying subscribers, with like proportionate increase in the larger exchanges.

"More money being necessary, our little company was at once reorganized under the name of the National Telephone and Telegraph company, with a capital of one million dollars, and all of the exchanges in and about northeastern Indiana and northwestern Ohio were connected by toll lines. Other toll line companies followed in rapid succession, such as the new Long Distance Telephone company of Indianapolis and the United States Telephone company of Ohio, so that now the subscribers of practically all of the independent exchanges in Indiana, Ohio and lower Michigan are in touch with each other over a system of toll lines extensive enough to answer the demands of the average patron of the telephone, and all indications point to the early connection with the remainder of the large cities of the country. An extension from Erie, Pa., but a few miles in length will give connection with the new exchange now building in the city of Buffalo, and on to Albany through the chain of exchanges in central New York, including the cities of Rochester, Syracuse and Utica. The Kinloch Telephone company of St. Louis is building its lines across Illinois to meet the new Long Distance Telephone company's lines in this state at the city of Terre Haute.

"Connections have recently been made by the United States Telephone company with the Pennsylvania lines reaching Pittsburgh and it is understood that the gaps in Pennsylvania will soon be closed through lines now being constructed by the Consolidated Telephone company and the United Telephone company, of that state, so as to reach the independent exchanges at Philadelphia and Baltimore, and thus we shall have lines from the Atlantic seaboard through to the Mississippi river and within that district a more complete service than that of our competitor, as our lines will not only reach a majority of the larger cities, but also many more of the smaller points than are served by any other wire service company.

"A few months ago I was called in to investigate the property of the United States Telephone company, of Cleveland, the largest of the independent long distance plants, comprising the principal lines in Ohio and Michigan, with extensions into Indiana and Pennsylvania. Their construction is first class and permanent in character, on comprehensive sive plans, intelligently laid out to take care of the growth of the business as it develops at a very nominal outlay as compared with the original cost. They have ninety-nine year contracts with their exchange connections, now serving more than 70,000 subscribers in the state of Ohio, and I found by comparison that their earnings had increased from 20 per cent. to 500 per cent. over the same months of last year, the average being 100 per cent. over their entire system.

"Therefore, the long distance companies are becoming the more important factor in the operation of exchanges each day and the long distance service is essential to the successful operation of the exchange; they increase the exchange business by reason of the extended service and the increased exchange service in turn increases the long distance business, so that they have now become a better investment in many localities than the exchange properties and are capable of further increases at comparatively a small outlay by reason of the fact that additional wires may be carried on the long distance pole lines already up."

MANY WITNESSES WANTED

RILEY AND JULIAN WILL PUT UP A STIFF FIGHT.

Extradition Case Likely to be an Extensive Affair—Attorney Colerick is Out of It.

That John Julian, arrested as William Acker, and Benjamin Riley, who say his name is John, under detention and suspected of being guilty of robbery in Canada, will make a stiff fight against extradition was made more evident this afternoon when their attorneys filed in the federal courts affidavits asking the government to summon a large number of witnesses in their behalf.

Under the statutes a federal prisoner who is unable to defray the expense of securing witnesses to his defense, may file affidavit setting out this fact, together with a list of the witnesses desired and the facts he expects to prove by their testimony. The affidavits of both Julian and Acker demand the presence of about fifteen witnesses, whom they say will effectually establish the fact that they were in Bluffton at the time the crime charged was committed in Canada.

RESULTS IN PALEONTOLOGY.

The exploring party from the University of California, which has been spending some time in the Humboldt mountains, between Lovelocks and Mill City, Nev., has been remarkably successful. Ten large boxes of limestone block have been received at the university, which represents more specimens of the Nevada ichthyosaurus than are to be found altogether in the museums of the world. The fossils have been sent to the university imbedded in the stone, and it will take from six months to a year to chisel them out of their matrix and prepare them for further study. The men who made the collection were Vance C. Osmond, instructor in crystallography, and Chungyu Wang, a Chinese post-graduate student in geology. The two left Berkeley a short time ago, and joined a party from Leland Stanford university, which was in charge of Prof. James Perrin Smith, in search of ammonites of the triassic period. The University of California men found their specimens in the middle triassic. The university has sent another expedition to Shasta county to continue the search for other saurian remains which was begun last year. Prof. Merriam, V. C. Osmond, W. T. Shaller and Eustace Furlong composed the party, and they will return about Aug. 1, bringing, it is hoped, material which will connect the Nevada saurian remains which was begun last year, vertebrates of an earlier formation. The money for the present expedition has been supplied by a woman from Oakland, who is interested in paleontological research.

HOW CYCLONES START

Prof. Cleveland Abbe treats thus of the origin of cyclones in the Monthly Weather Review: "We object to the expression, 'When winds are blowing in opposite directions, near the place where the volume of air rises, we may have whirlwind or cyclone.' It was an old observation that eddies of water are formed between currents moving in opposite directions or between a swift current and a body of quiet water. Having once been formed the eddies move away and are soon broken up by friction and irregular motions. Analogous to these are the eddies of wind and dust blowing around the corner of a building; but the whirlwinds of meteorology, viz., the water-spouts, tornadoes, hurricanes and typhoons involve a different principle. These may form between winds blowing in opposite directions, but the logical mechanics is, first, an indraught of air toward the center, producing gentle winds, then the deflection of the winds by the rotation of the earth, producing strong whirls. So far as the direct indraught is concerned it can only produce winds blowing from all sides straight to the center, where they might possibly rise up and flow back upon themselves so that each particle of air might move in a nearly vertical plane. The irregularities of the earth's surface, or inequalities of friction, or temperature, or moisture, may induce horizontal whirls in connection with the vertical motion, but they will be as often to the right as to the left. It is to the credit of Ferrel that he demonstrated that our whirlwinds are formed as a consequence of or between winds blowing in opposite directions. It is perfectly true that when we have a whirlwind the air is moving in nearly opposite directions on opposite sides of the storm center; therefore, when the weather map shows us spirally curving winds on the opposite sides of an area of low pressure, we may think of these opposing winds as constituting a cyclonic whirl or a whirlwind, but not causing it. About 1890 Prof. Hann showed that in some storms there is often an absence of buoyancy in the cloud region, and that, therefore, we must look elsewhere for the force that maintains the whirlwinds. There is, therefore, a tendency to allow that the general currents of the atmosphere must contribute their surplus energy to the maintenance of hurricanes and cyclones. However this may be, the initial whirl is, we suppose, always due to the systematic deflection of inflowing winds by the diurnal rotation of the earth."

Only a small percentage of those who nowadays see automobiles speeding along the streets and boulevards are aware that the first automobile considered in the sense of a vehicle containing within itself powers of locomotion of which there is any authentic account was a self-moving shrine of Bacchus. This was the invention of Heron, of Alexandria, who describes it in his work on automatic mechanism. The shrine in question was mounted upon two supporting and two driving wheels. On the axle of the driving wheels was a drum, about which was wound a rope which passed upward through the space on one side of the shrine over pulleys and was fastened to the ring of a ponderous lead weight, which rested upon a quantity of fine, dry sand. The escape of this sand through a small hole in the middle of the floor of the compartment containing it allowed the lead weight gradually to descend and by pulling upon the cord caused the shrine to move slowly forward in a straight line. Heron describes the method of arranging and proportioning the wheels in case it was desired that the shrine move in a circular path. He also shows how the shrine can be constructed to move in a straight line at right angles to each other.

FIRST AUTOMOBILE OF ALL.

Officials of the patent office overlooked the device of Heron when they granted patents on machines, notwithstanding that previously Thos. Eubank, commissioner of patents in 1850, illustrated and described Heron's invention. The mechanism of the latter is almost identical with that in the modern device and simply serves as another proof of the saying, "There is nothing new under the sun."

GUARD WILD FLOWERS

A Lesson That the West May Learn from the Experience of the East.

Considering that the American people spend over $18,000,000 a year on roses, violets and other household products raised by 6,000 florists of this country, irrespective of the probably larger sums that are paid to seedsmen and plant growers for public and private gardens, it is evident that an interest is felt in flowers, says the Brooklyn Eagle. Whether it is interest or the lack of it that leads vandals to destroy them whenever they find them is open to argument. A fondness for these pretty nectaries that leads to the snipping of blossoms from the plant is comprehensible enough, but in their eagerness or indifference many tear the whole plant out of the earth.

The result of this has been to almost exterminate certain of the wild flowers that used to make the upper end of Manhattan gay and that were not unknown on the edge of Brooklyn. The Dutchman's breeches, that served as reminders of the original settlers hereabouts, are now conspicuously absent; wild roses no longer perfume the air; the indestructible daisy is passing under legal ban, along with the thistle; the buttercup has been plowed out and hacked and broken; even the dandelion has to lie low. Where flowers and fragrance once made the spring day glad there now are barrenness and ragweed.

These facts have prompted the Misses Phelps-Stokes to give $3,000 to the New York botanical garden for investigation and the preservation of native plants. The interest on this fund will be paid out in prizes for essays and studies relating to the subject, which shall be expanded to mean not merely herbaceous plants, but vegetation of all sorts, including trees. These essays are to be not over 3,000 words long, and must naturally have some practical consequences.

While this is very well and will do its part in educating the public to a more sensible enjoyment of nature and its advantages, and may restrain our barbarians in the practice of smashing, tearing and destroying what they care little for themselves, and will prevent others from enjoying at all, it would seem as though a small sum might be used to advantage in the cultivation of wild flowers and the dissemination of their seed, bulbs or cuttings in such secluded parts of the city as would insure a chance of their survival. The habitat of various species is known. Seed thrown into congenial soil would be almost certain to spring into plant and flower and the arbutus, the lady's slipper and many other delightful companions of one's field and woodland walks may be familiar once more. The age is not so wholly hard and void of sentiment and the sense of beauty as to make this impossible.

RAPID FLIGHT OF DREAMS.

An eminent public man of England, whose mental faculties had been subjected to too great a strain and who suffered greatly from mental depression that amounted almost to the disease of melancholia, was told by his physician that he must rest his brain. He was a very busy man and scoffed at his doctor's prescription of a nap in the middle of the day.

Finally, after much persuasion, he agreed to this experiment: He would sit in his easy chair every afternoon with his hands on his knees, holding a dinner bell in his hands. If he lost consciousness and went to sleep he would be willing to sleep for the period that it took for the dinner bell to fall to the floor and wake him.

The doctor who suggested this arrangement declared that the mere mental relaxation of going to sleep, if only for a few seconds, would suffice to save him. He invited his patient to study the activity of the brain by noticing how many things he could dream while the dinner bell was falling to the floor.

POOR LO AS HOUSE SERVANT.

Indian schools all over the southwest have recently adjourned for the summer, and the students are being employed very rapidly by those who keep servants. The Indian boys make excellent cooks, while an Indian girl, once trained, is a fine maid of all work, a modish hairdresser and endowed with an inborn taste which becomes picturesque when combined with a few civilized touches. The system of training now bestowed upon the red children at school teaches them to become servile to their superior—the paleface, and the present generation in training have become so accustomed to serving their paleface teachers that they are more than willing to enter the household as servants. Herein may lie the solution of the servant girl question—for a time, at least.

Indian youths are strong, agile, and if brought up by the right kind of methods are perfectly willing to work. They are healthy and quick of limb. This makes an excellent combination for a servant. Statistics of the Indian taken recently show that of the 45,000 workers among the various tribes 3,000 of them are employed as helpers in the houses of palefaces. You never see the Indian servant at his or her best until you visit the home of an Indian agent on one of the reservations.

THE AUTHOR-PRESIDENT

Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, has been a prolific writer, and on the occasion of his visit to the city last week, his books were prominently displayed in the bookshop windows. It may not be generally known, but Roosevelt is an author that is in pretty steady demand, and his works are usually carried in stock by the dealers the year around. While none of his works have ever found themselves listed among the best sellers, they are running into high figures on the publishers' reports.

"The Strenuous Life" is the most popular of all his works in Pittsburgh. Whether it is because we are a strenuous people, or because it is thought that more of the personality of the author will be found among these essays than in his other writings, who shall say? But the fact remains that this volume is much read.

Of course the visit of the president stimulated the demand for his books. All the stores report good sales, but Weldins, where a show window was filled with various editions of the president's works, and with his portraits, were fairly surprised at the number sold. Not only were single volumes asked for, but sets of fifteen volumes were disposed of in numbers, while the big and expensive six-volume sets of "The Winning of the West" were also favorites.

President Roosevelt's works are all on serious topics, unless we except his stories of hunting and camp life. Even here he is strenuous and determined, never wasting his time on jokes or trivialities, but plunging after the grizzly or the mountain lion with his pen as vigorously as he does with his rifle.

Never in the history of the United States has there been a president who could go into a city of the land which he ruled and see a shop window filled with books written by himself. John Quincy Adams enjoyed considerable fame as a literary president, because of the sweet and clever verses he wrote, but he will have to yield the palm to the Rough Rider president, whose score is something like seventeen works, in addition to two more in which he collaborated with others.

TAUGHT IT

A former Philadelphia newspaper man who has become very successful on 'change had a hard tussle before the tide turned in his direction. He gave up journalism for a business venture that left him not only penniless, but without the ambition to go out and hustle for news in the old way. His friends reluctantly reached the conclusion that he was going to the dogs, when he suddenly burst out in satorial splendor and pecuniary plenty. None of them knew exactly how he managed to do it; but he did it, and continued to do it until a lucky chance landed him in Third street in the days when that thoroughfare was the local Rialto. He kept the secret of that puzzling showing until recently, when he yielded to the entreaties of a tableful of friends that he explain.

"Well, boys," he said, "I taught Italian."

"Taught Italian?" they exclaimed. "We didn't know you knew the language!"

"I didn't. But I bought some textbooks, hung out a sign and soon assembled a class of pupils. I devoted the afternoons to getting up in a single lesson, which I'd impart in the evening. In that way I carried my pupils through the tongue. And, strangely enough, they were all able at the end of each term to speak the language with some fluency and sense, while what I learned never remained in my memory more than twelve hours."—Philadelphia Times.

BROWN COUNTY GOLD FIELDS

HOW THE INDIANA PLACER DIGGINGS ARE SALTED WITH WEALTH PRODUCING SANDS.

For the past two years a "bunch" of gamblers, after the true western style, and dating back to '49 for its inception, has been practicing in Brown county, Indiana, says the Indianapolis Sentinel. Some time ago a little gold was found among the hills of the southern part of the state. Immediately all the farmers in the surrounding country were wild at the thoughts of what their land might contain. Crops were neglected, the markets were forgotten—everybody turned prospector.

About this time the "graffers" made their appearance. Aided and abetted by some of the more unscrupulous land owners, they "salted" the supposed "leads," and then disposed of the "doctored" ground to the victim who had the most money. This practice has been going on for the past two years unchecked. Like hungry fish have the farmers of the district gobbled at the golden bait, and have every time lost heavily.

But the farmers have not been the only losers. Eastern capitalists, who, through the misrepresentations of the manipulators and smooth dealing with the experts, have likewise been taken into the net.

Notwithstanding all this fraud, there have been a number of really good deposits located in the Brown county hills. The gold taken from these veins has assayed at a high standard, and by the location seems to point to a genuine lode.

T. W. Smith, the well known Indianapolis chemist, has done the greater part of the assay work for the local and state prospectors. Most of the Brown county gold output has gone through his hands—and at the same time has he passed judgment on that which the old 49-ers termed "fool's gold."

The collections of "pay dirt" do not begin to compare with those of "common dirt." In this line of his profession Mr. Smith is in position to judge regarding the nefarious practice of "salting" the Indiana farms. By his experience and the testimony of others and the records of the county offices these are a few of the obtaining conditions:

Southern Indiana is a prototype of early California. In places deposits of gold are being found. Generally, where the "fever" is raging, lands are being "salted." A band of sharpers is working on the cupidity of the unsophisticated farmers.

In the embryo gold fields black-mail and fraud reign supreme. Wildcat lands are at a premium. These conditions can easily be attested. The most remarkable case coming under Mr. Smith's notice is that of J. T. McClellan. His is the most recent example of fraudulency to come to light.

McClellan, at present owner of a large tract of land in the southern part of Brown county, to use a slang expression, "pulled the cork clear under" when he bit.

One day last year a neighbor of his discovered traces of a little gold on his (the neighbor's) land. This deposit succeeded only in awakening the greatest excitement throughout the township—it failed miserably in regard to productivity.

For a time every farmer neglected his accustomed routine to prospect for gold. In almost every valley, on the slopes of the hills and along the banks of streams men, and sometimes women, could be seen "washing" for "pay dirt." But, alas! for the golden dreams, Brown county failed to take upon itself a Cripple Creek or Klondike resemblance.

However, in places, few and far between, a little gold was found. On the land of McClellan's neighbor—whose name is withheld pending further investigation—no more deposits were found.

In time the temporary "boom" died a natural death, excitement subsided and the gold fever became another name for "foolishness." One day a man giving the name of Thomas B. Chauzy called upon Mr. McClellan.

He represented himself to be a geologist sent out by the United States government for the purpose of examining that section of Brown county for traces of gold quartz.

He came to McClellan to enlist his aid in prospecting over the country. He had heard of McClellan's interest in the late excitement, knew he was a representative citizen, etc., etc. McClellan said "of course."

The two went prospecting. For several days they tramped up and down over "hill and dale"—and Brown county hills are not to be laughed at with a little or no success. But that did not effect the disposition of the "atrepid" "geologist." His spirit was not in the least damped by "hard luck," which from time to time he qualified by "encouraging indications."

At last, and exceedingly strange to say, they discovered a rich lead on the farm of McClellan's neighbor. At least, the erudite stranger so nominated the yellow shining particles they washed from the creek. McClellan was satisfied if it was yellow; and it would be putting it mildly to say that he was excited.

Then Mr. Chauzy made a proposition to his host—for, of course, he had been "putting up" at the McClellan residence.

It was to this effect: "The mine, which is one of the best I have ever seen, will be worth no less than $500,000 to you (Mr. McClellan)."

"Therefore, make Mr. (the neighbor) a proposition of $8,000 for his sixty acres. You can doubtless get it for much less."

"Give me $1,000 for my work, which is worth a hundred times that amount to you, as I not only found the deposit, but will keep the secret to myself and aid you in disposing of it to some eastern capitalists—friends of mine."

"Also give me a one-tenth interest in the mine."

After mature deliberation McClellan came to the conclusion that Chauzy's proposition was very wise and at the same time liberal.

Without delay he approached Farmer (the owner of the coveted sixty acres, with a really exorbitant offer for his land. He was immediately accepted.

Then $1,000 in cash was handed over to "Geologist" Chauzy.

Now for that $500,000, thought McClellan.

Chauzy left for the east to interest his capitalist friends.

McClellan settled down to pleasant anticipations.

One day a friend to whom the "lucky" man had confided his secret, suggested that he have his ore assayed. Somehow McClellan was impressed with the suggestion. He collected a satchel full of the glittering dirt and came to Indianapolis.

Chemist Smith made the assay. Fool's gold—pyrites of iron, a few bits of mica and an infinitesimal amount of genuine gold.

That is what Mr. Smith found. McClellan was dumfounded. He brought to the city another satchel of "blue clay and sand."

More fool's gold!

Since that time nothing has been heard of Thomas B. Chauzy, United States "geologist." Even the neighbor who so lucratively disposed of his sixty acres has moved to parts unknown.

McClellan consoles himself with the thought that he is not the only "easy mark" in the country. Many others have had their land "salted"—some with the genuine article, others with the baser imitations which with most people are as good as anything.

Mr. McClellan is merely an example. Such cases as his are what impede the actual progress of the gold mining industry in Indiana. Bona fide experts have not only declared that the land formations in Brown and other counties were gold-bearing, but have demonstrated the presence of the precious metal. In places mining is indeed carried on with a certain degree of success, the men washing out a considerable living, to say the least.

Some of the stories that have been going the rounds among the Brown county farmers, who it seems have believed them all, are remarkable for their falseness.

Many of the citizens are owners of mystic iron rods with which they are continually locating rich deposits. One man sold his farm for several times its worth merely by declaring that by means of his magic rod he had located mines of great wealth. He did not even have to prove his possessions. The public in general was credulous enough to trust to the rod.

Another man located a rich pocket by means of a heated stove poker, by which at the same time he melted the ore, which flowed in a stream from its virginal hiding place. He caught the melted gold in a large tin bucket.

Still another possessed a dog whose only ability lay in nosing out gold-producing localities.

One woman, with a large magnet, spends her time in extracting from the sands the glistening pyrites of iron, which she stores up for future use, as she expresses it. Poor woman!

These and many others are stories which have gone the rounds among the gold hunters of Brown county. For the most part they are credited, and many have gone so far as to endeavor to follow the examples of their luckier neighbors. "Lucky" rods have been disposed of by the dozens, and mediums and fortune tellers have reaped a rich harvest.

VENETIAN NIGHT AUGUST 19

DATE CHOSEN FOR ROME CITY WATER CARNIVAL.

M. L. Jones is Elected Admiral at Meeting Last Night—Village Will Participate.

Tuesday, August 19, has been selected as the date for the annual Venetian night water carnival to be given at Sylvan lake under the auspices of the Cottagers' association. The date was chosen at a largely attended meeting held in the auditorium upon the island last evening, but it was also decided that should the weather be unpropitious at that time, no effort would be made to give the carnival until a week later—August 25. Those who purchase tickets or make other preparations to participate in the spectacle may be governed by this understanding. If the weather is bad on August 19, there will be no show on that date.

There was a very large attendance of the cottagers last evening when E. H. McDonald, who officiated as admiral last year, called the meeting to order last evening.

M. L. JONES ADMIRAL.
M. L. Jones, who has been from the first one of the most tireless workers in the interest of the cottagers' association, was elected admiral for the carnival of 1902, and the association then took up the work of naming committees to carry forward the work of preparation. F. P. Wilt was chosen secretary.

Various committees were named as follows:

On Fireworks and Transportation—Louis Fox, chairman; James McKay, F. P. Wilt.

On Music—John Mohr, chairman; J. M. Landenberg, Louis F. Curdes.

On Decorations—C. W. Orr, chairman; J. F. Wing, J. M. Henry.

On Program—J. E. K. France, chairman; W. H. Dreier, Kenneth Laerli.

J. F. Wing was also delegated a special committee to provide accommodations for representatives of the press.

ROME CITY TO JOIN.

Hitherto the Venetian night celebration has been carried on exclusively by the cottagers, with some assistance from the Grand Rapids railroad. This year, however, the village of Rome City will join in the spectacle, and simultaneously with the meeting of the cottagers last evening, people of the village held a meeting, appointed committees and began preparations for participating in the festivities. The entire town will be illuminated this year.

J. B. Merriweather was present and spoke for the Grand Rapids company, assuring the cottagers that the railroad could be depended upon to assist liberally in giving the celebration, providing music and fireworks, and stated that the train service to and from Rome City on that evening would be all that could possibly be desired.

Thousands of Fort Wayne people have attended the Venetian night celebrations on each occasion since they were instituted some years ago at the suggestion of John Mohr, Jr., of this city. The coming event promises to attract one of the largest crowds ever seen at Sylvan lake.

CALLED BACK FROM GRAVE.

Washington, D. C., July 19.—Superintendent Kimball, of the life-saving service, has received a report from Captain Ludlam of the Hereford Inlet life-saving station, at Anglessea, N. J., of the remarkable resuscitation of Stanley S. Holmes, a five-year old boy, after he had been under water twenty-five minutes. Captain Ludlam reported that July 5, during a squall in the harbor, William B. Holmes and his child were overturned in the water and that the little son sank, remaining under water not less than twenty-five minutes before the life-saving crew of the Hereford station were able to secure the apparently dead body. Within four hours after the body was removed from the water the child regained consciousness. Superintendent Kimball received affidavits from the father of the child, from Miss Margaret Mace, a medical student and Mary J. Hock, a trained nurse, substantiating to the fullest degree the statement of Captain Ludlam. The opinion of most of these people is that the child had been under water fully thirty minutes when taken out, and all are certain that the time was not less than twenty-five minutes.

TIDAL WAVE FROM ALASKA.

New York, July 18.—William A. Eddy, of Bayonne, N. J., says the lake tidal wave at Chicago was probably due to an earthquake emanating from the region of the Aleutian islands, off the coast of Alaska, which is the great source of earthquake disturbances in the northwestern United States. He says that during the last forty-eight hours slight tremors have affected three of his most sensitive cellar seismographs, and that the Japanese rolling sphere seismograph recorded some time between 7:08 o'clock last night and 7:42 this morning a vibration of nearly half an inch from the north-west. Two of the other pendulum instruments were also slightly affected. Mr. Eddy says the vibrations were slight and probably not perceptible without the most delicate instruments. He thinks it probable that the seismic lake tidal wave at Chicago slightly affected his seismographs, but he has suspended his decision pending the report of an earthquake nearer at hand. The earthquake causing the lake tidal wave may have been so distant and local, he thinks, that it would not be perceptible at Chicago without delicate apparatus. Mr. Eddy is building four additional seismographs, which will be used to check each other.

IS MARRIED AND REMARRIED

WARSAW WOMAN MADE WIFE
BY DOUBLE CEREMONY.

Mrs. Halderman Elopes With Archie Crinns, But Is Married Again by the Rabbi.

Warsaw, Ind., July 19.—A romance of unusual interest has caused a stir in society here. The culmination of the affair was the marriage of Archie L. Crinns, a Gentle, of Cleveland, O., to Mrs. Gusta Halderman, the pretty daughter of Marcus Phillipson, a wealthy Hebrew clothing dealer here.

A number of years ago Mrs. Halderman surprised friends and relatives by eloping with and marrying Hay Halderman. When her husband died she returned to her parents, and had since been employed in her father's store.

Six weeks ago Archie Crinns, of Cleveland, accepted a position in the Phillipson store, and fell in love with Mrs. Halderman. Knowing the objections of her parents, Mrs. Halderman and her lover were secretly married at St. Joseph, Mich., and kept the wedding secret until last Saturday, when they told Mr. Phillipson, who at once discharged Crinns. Later, he relented, and Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock they were remarried at the home of the bride by Rabbi Shanfarber, of Chicago, according to the Jewish custom. They left yesterday for Cleveland, where they will make their home.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson for Sunday, July 27, 1902.
Topic—Worshiping the Golden Calf.

Text—Exodus xxxii, 1-6, 30-35.
Golden Text—"Thou shalt have no other gods before me."—Ex. xx, 3.

THE LESSON ILLUSTRATED.

While we condemn the people who thus turn to idolatry let us ask ourselves the questions—"Are we always ready to walk by faith? When God seems to withdraw the light of His countenance are we not ready to put our trust in human help?"

Specify modern forms of idolatry. Many a young woman's ideal life is a full wardrobe, captivating jewelry, an abundance of invitations to select social gatherings and a host of male worshippers. Many a young man's ideal life is fashionable clothing, cigars, wine, women. In the superficial enjoyment of these they live, and cursing these they die.

Many in our land are guilty of a more silly idolatry than the worship of sun or moon or rivers or beasts. Said a mother, "My daughter is wild over dancing. As soon as one party is over she sits and dreams of the next one to which she is invited." "I can't go without this," said a gentleman, picking up a package of cigars from the table as he was about to leave home for a week's trip. At the same time he drew from his pocket a Testament, threw it upon the table and thrust the cigars in its place.

The modern idol of the frivolous person may not be fashioned like some beast, but it is often the skin of a seal or the hair of a camel or the feathers of an ostrich. God looking down upon this giddy age often sees such a sight as greeted Moses—crowds of his professing people in the midst of a half-naked dance around some idolized theatrical or operatic "star."

In the eyes of the people this was an event of great joy. They were having a feast with all the attendant amusements. But God said to Moses, "thy people have corrupted themselves." We should ask concerning all our deeds: "Is this pleasant to God?" A young man who grew to manhood peculiarly free from bad habits and entirely apart from evil companions, was asked how he had escaped these things. His answer was, "I always made it a point to say to myself, wherever I went, 'Would mother like me to go?' or 'would mother like to see me with these fellows?' We cannot go very far astray if we test every enterprise of life by the question, "How does this appear in God's eyes?"

The decisive action of the sons of Levi (verse 26) should be emphasized. Remember the converted woman who came home and taking up the whiskey jug which had been her great enemy, said, "Now jug, you and I have lived together for a great many years but the Lord Jesus Christ is coming to live with me now and you and he cannot get along together, so one must go, and it must be you."

"The dearest idol I have known, Whate'er that idol be, Help me to tear it from the throne, And worship only Thee."

The latter part of the lesson deals with the topic—how to treat sin. The natural tendency of humanity is to pass it over lightly and to excuse upon some ground of ignorance or human weakness. Just as the murderer tries to conceal the body of his victim, so the sinner is apt to try to conceal his sin from the sight of his fellows. The boy tries to get the smell of smoke from his breath when he has taken a cigar in disobedience of his father's command. The girl buries in the ash barrel the fragments of the dish that she has carelessly broken. It is difficult to get children to see that a sin concealed and unconfessed is a constant source of uneasiness and torment.

Moses does not make light of their act. He says: "Ye have sinned a great sin." All sins are great—infinite in their possibilities and consequences. Then he goes right to God to see what can be done. There is no human factory where sins can be worked over into virtues as bad grease can be worked into sweet butter. Only God can deal with the transgressions of the human heart.

Permit Moses in his willingness to yield his own life for the sinning people, as a type of our glorious Redeemer. Moses had an interest with the Almighty that made him a powerful pleader. Jesus can point to his wounds and his plea is never denied.

Apply the lesson to the individual. There is still an opportunity for forgiveness, for God's mercy is yet extended towards us. Recall the familiar practice of the Roman magistrates as they sentenced a criminal to be scourged. They placed before him a bundle of rods tied with many hard knots. The labor and delay of the executioner in untying the knots gave time for the prisoner to show sorrow for his offense, so that they might mitigate his punishment. How ready God is to forgive if we manifest any penitence.

FIGHT IS ON WITH BIG FOUR

SOUTHWESTERN CROSSING WAR
AT WABASH.

Fort Wayne Intaurban Line Has Trouble Over Its Entrance
at Hill Street.

Wabash, Ind., July 18.—The Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company, which has built to the city limits from the east, and the Big Four railroad are at lock horns. The Fort Wayne line enters at the Hill street crossing of the Big Four, by climbing a steep grade. The Big Four recently notified the Southwestern that it would not permit the traction line to cross at that point, and proposed that it follow the old canal towpath and run along the south line of its yards, the Big Four's Wabash river bridge being raised to permit the trolley cars to pass under, and still be just above the high water in the river. The Southwestern expressed a willingness to do this, but the city council declined to permit the change in the franchise, and the Southwestern people for several days have been trying vainly to reach an agreement with the Big Four.

Yesterday C. E. Cowgill, attorney for the Big Four, received instructions from John T. Dye, of Indianapolis, general counsel for the Big Four, to prevent, at all hazards, the Southwestern crossing the Big Four at Hill street. The plans of General Manager Nelson, of the Southwestern, are not known, but it is understood that he will insist on following the original franchise, and a bitter crossing struggle is almost certain to take place.

HOPE FOR ADJUSTMENT.

Judge Walter Olds, one of the attorneys for the Southwestern company, in reply to The Sentinel's question this afternoon, stated that the company hoped to reach an adjustment of the crossing difficulty at Wabash within a short time.

HER THIRD ELECTION.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 19.—Sister Mary Cleophas has been re-elected for a third term as superior of the Order of Sisters of Providence of the United States by the 800 members of the order who are now assembled at the mother house, St. Mary's of the Woods, near this city. A special dispensation from the pope was necessary to permit her to serve a third term, it being against the rule for a superior to serve more than two terms of four years each. Sister Mary Cleophas was Miss Mary Foley, of this city, sister of P. M. Foley, city attorney. Six assistants also were elected, the first two being re-elections. Sister Mary Josephine will be secretary for four years and Sister Mary Raphael treasurer. The 800 sisters are now receiving instructions in their work as teachers in the parochial schools in many cities, and will continue at that occupation until the first part of August, when they go into a period of ten days of silent prayer, after which they are assigned to schools for the year.

RIVAL LEADERS DO NOT MEET

D. B. HILL FAILED TO SEE THE PRESIDENT.

It Had Been Partly Arranged—Rumor of Miss Roosevelt's Engagement is Denied.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 18.—Arrangements were completed partially last evening for former Senator Hill, who came to Oyster Bay to spend the night with William F. Sheehan, to meet the president at Sagamore Hill, but it was found impossible to fix upon a time that would be convenient to both. Senator Hill returned to New York early today without meeting Mr. Roosevelt.

The president passed the morning at Sagamore Hill transacting some routine business with Assistant Secretary Loeb. Early in the day no callers of importance visited him, although two former members of Mr. Roosevelt's regiment rode out to pay their respects.

The reported engagement of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Lieut. Robert Sterling Clark, of New York, a son of Mrs. Alfred Corning Clark, is emphatically denied by authority of the president. Miss Roosevelt has not even a personal acquaintance with Lieutenant Clark.

This afternoon the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by some of the children, went out on an old-fashioned picnic, taking a lunch

TWO LUCKY CONVICTS.

New York, July 19.—In order that he may return to Germany and obtain a fortune of $50,000 to which he recently left heir and to which his right has been fully established, Richard Bessler has been pardoned by the New Jersey court of pardons.

Bessler was sentenced to two years in state prison last fall on a charge of burglary. The story of the crime, as he related it to the court of pardons, was that while intoxicated he fell through a store window with no intention of stealing.

Another prisoner, sentenced for ten years in 1896 on a charge of breaking into a postoffice, was paroled in order that he might take up the manufacture of a sewing machine invented by him while behind the bars. A company with a capital of $1,000,000 has been chartered to manufacture the machine. The pardoned prisoner is said to have received $50,000 cash and a block of stock in the new company.

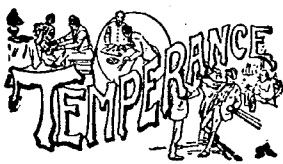

MATTIE BEALS MARRIED.

Wichita, Kan., July 19.—Mattie Beals, the Wichita telephone girl, who drew the second prize in the Oklahoma land lottery last fall, was married Wednesday night to Charles W. Payne, a Chicago grocery salesman. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother and was private. Miss Beals' trousseau is said to have cost $2,600, which is considered expensive in western society. Her farm is adjoining Lawton and is said to be worth $50,000. Under the laws of the interior department she would have forfeited her farm by marriage had not a special commutation plan been adopted in her case. She paid $1,600 to the land department Wednesday before a license could be procured without forfeiting her deed. Miss Beals and her husband met during the wild rush for land in the frontier town of Lawton.

GAYNOR-GREENE CASE.

Quebec, July 19.—Judging from present appearances argument on the motion to quash the writs of habeas corpus in the Gaynor-Greene case will not be concluded today. Mr. Stuart opened the proceedings this morning on behalf of the prosecution, being followed by Senator Vandrand, who addressed the court in French, both quoting numerous authorities in support of their motions. Messrs. Tashereau, Gervais and Tessier are to speak and Mr. McMaster will close the argument.

THE SERGEANT'S VOW.

Brave Soldier Boy Who Promised His Mother He Would Not Drink and Remained True to His Word.

It was the evening after one of the greatest battles of the rebellion. The surviving soldiers of the battle were fatigued, and glad to drop down almost anywhere to rest. Those who had been on the reserve were caring for the dead and wounded, and in the hospital tent those who wore the blue, and those who wore the gray, were groaning with the wounds received in battle, and were being treated by the union physicians.

Near the hospital about a dozen union men were sitting upon the ground, around a fire of sticks and limbs, trying to "cook coffee." They had been at the front all day; victory had been won. They were now upon the ground that had been occupied by the enemy in the morning. It was a victory; but such a victory, and at such a cost of human life! On the right and on the left, in the rear, could be seen the dead bodies, dressed in the uniform of the friend and of the foe.

They were just taking the coffee from the fire when a soldier came up, and discovering that the dozen men were of his company, said:

"How is it, boys; are you dry?" "Trying to cook our coffee, Ned," said one of the soldiers, "but I guess it will be Virginia mud and water mixed together."

"I've got something good," said the first speaker, producing his canteen, which had hung across his shoulders. "What is it?" asked one.

"Whisky," replied Ned. "You're a trump."

"That's jolly."

"That is just the stuff."

"That will revive us."

"And other expressions of satisfaction and pleasure were made by the men."

"Here, sergeant," said Ned, reaching the canteen towards a tall, noble looking fellow who had been silent, "throw aside your temperance principles for once and take a drink."

"Not any, Ned, thanks," replied the one addressed as sergeant.

"Come, now! you have fought like a tiger all day. You do not know, but what you might have to rally in five minutes."

"True, Ned, but excuse me."

"Not a drop?"

"Not a drop!"

"Say, sergeant," said Ned, "if it is agreeable to the boys, we will adjourn the drink for five minutes and you tell us how you came to be such an inflexible advocate of temperance."

"I second the motion," said another soldier.

"And so do I!"

"And I, too!"

"Well, boys," said the sergeant, "I will tell you. It is a short story, and therefore soon told. When I was 19 I had to leave school, owing to the death of my father. I came home to help my mother, who needed me. My father had been a prosperous farmer; he had that frugality and sturdy industry characteristic of the Vermont farmers. My mother I always considered the most handsome woman on earth, at least she appeared so to me; and as a mother there never was one better."

"After my father had been dead about a year somehow I acquired a passion for hunting, fishing, and especially cooning. There was nothing that delighted me so much as it did to take my dog and go out with some of the neighboring boys and bring home a number of coons. One night, three of our neighbors came to our house after me. They thought they had found a new place—a corn field—where there was plenty of game. I needed no urging. I kissed my mother good-by, told her that I would not be late, called my dog and away we went."

"I drank some whisky and on my return reeled and staggered around the yard a little in a vain attempt to find the steps to the house. I stumbled over something, fell down, and was unable to get up. After a little I went to sleep—a regular drunken sleep."

"It seems that in the night some time my mother became anxious because I did not come home. She had not been to bed, but had fallen into a slumber upon the couch. She awoke, as I said before, some time in the night, and fearing that harm had befallen me, arose from the couch, put her shawl over her head and started out to find me. And she found me in a condition most deplorable, indeed. At first she thought I was dead, or that I had been brutally treated by a highwayman. But when she stooped down to look at me, and saw, by the moonlight, my face, she knew that her only child was drunk. She tried to waken me; she tried to get me into the house, but she had not the strength. She went to the house and got a pillow and placed it under my head. She covered me with blankets; she protected my face from the dew by placing an open umbrella over me. She drew her shawl tightly round her shoulders and sat down by my side. In the morning I awoke just as the sun was rising. I found her there. Great tears were chasing each other down her cheeks. I saw at once that my mother had cared for me all night. She had faithfully kept her lonely vigil watching her drunken son, weeping and praying.

"I am awfully thirsty," I said. My voice sounded strange, weak and unnatural. I got up; my mother rose, went to the well and brought me a cup of water. As she handed the cup to me she bowed her head that I might not see her grief; but I saw a tear come down her pale cheek and drop into that cup. I took the cup from her hand and drank its contents, tear and all. Yes, boys, I drank my mother's tear, and I made a solemn vow that I never again would drink her tears."

"I led my mother into the house; I led her to the arm-chair, and as soon as she was seated I got down upon my knees."

"Mother," said I, "this is the first; it shall be the last."

"Charles," said she, running her fingers through my hair, "I hope so. God bless you!"

"I looked up, and my mother had fainted. I took her in my arms, as one might take a child, and placed her upon a bed. It was the beginning of what came near being her death. Days and nights and weeks I was by that sick bed. I heard her, as her mind wandered, praying for me, and pleading for my reformation. And at times she would imagine that she was talking to my father. She would tell him of the plans which she had for her son, and that she hoped that he would be a sober man. Every word she said was like a knife cutting me; and many a time I wished that I had died before I ever tasted liquor."

But, thank God, my mother got well. It was a long time before she was able to leave her room. I was her constant companion. Somehow it seemed to me that her life depended upon my care."

"When the war broke out, I made up my mind that I ought to enlist. I told my mother about it and asked her advice."

"Charles," she said, "I am afraid to let you go."

"Afraid of what, mother? Are you afraid that I will be shot?"

"Worse than that."

"Mother, what can you possibly mean?" I inquired.

"She blushed as she looked me in the face. But her reply was one never to be forgotten."

"Charles, I am afraid that you will be overpowered by strong drink."

"Mother," said I, "I solemnly vow by the sacred memory of my dear father, that I will never drink another drop of intoxicating liquor without your consent."

"Then you may go to the war, Charles." That was her reply, boys. And I tell you what—when I drink an intoxicant, it will be when my mother's own hand brings it to me and she asks me to drink it."

"Amen!" said several of the soldiers who were listening to the sergeant's story.

"I say, boys," said Ned, "here goes the whisky." Turning the canteen upside down, he emptied its contents on the ground. As the liquor went gurgling out, he said: "I've got a mother, too, and I'm done with liquor."

"And I, too!"

"And I!"

Every one took the pledge, and it was afterwards said that the men who were gathered around the camp fire that night were the strongest temperance men in the whole brigade.—Clark D. Knapp, in National Advocate.

TEMPERANCE ITEMS.

The Ministerial association of Muncie, Ind., is agitating the temperance question.

The city council of Sherman, Tex., on June 2, without a dissenting vote, all members being present, passed a resolution instructing the chief of police to enforce the law against open saloons on Sunday.

The superintendent of one of the western railways says: "Under no circumstances will I hire a man who smokes cigarettes. He is as dangerous at the front end of a motor as the man that drinks; in fact, he is more dangerous. His nerves are bound to give way at a critical moment. A motorman needs his nerve all the time, and a cigarette smoker cannot stand the strain."

In 1899, the Paris "Figaro," a non-temperance political paper, discussing conditions in France, said: "Alcohol is death to the race. Alcohol will kill emperors as it has killed the native tribes of every country of the world. Alcohol means disease, tuberculosis, decay, sterility, impotence; it is another word for wickedness, cruelty, vice and insanity; it means misery and the downfall of nations, and the best way to prove patriotism and to be useful to one's country is to fight against alcoholism."

BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY YEARS.

For the Children.

ALBERT and the SANDGLASS.

A regular April shower was falling. The crystal drops splashed on the window and ran down like tears in little streams.

Albert's nose was pressed and flattened against the glass as he said to his mother: "Oh, I don't want to stay at home! I don't, don't want to! I want to go down to Mr. Hobson's."

"Oh, no, Albert," his mother replied, "Just get your box of playthings and have a good time. It will clear off after awhile. Then perhaps you can go."

Still Albert stood in the chair eagerly looking down the street across the common toward the white parsonage nestling by the hill, where in winter all the village children went coasting. For Mr. Hobson, the kindly pastor of the little country church, had a warm place in his heart for children, and they loved to go to his home, where they had such good times.

Albert jumped down from the chair looking cross and unhappy. "I don't want to do anything but go to Mr. Hobson's," he cried out.

Uncle Bob sat reading his paper by the open grate, where just a little blaze flickered. Albert thought that Uncle Bob knew most everything, and he went over to him, hoping that he would suggest something agreeable.

Uncle Bob looked up just then and said: "It seems to me I hear a little boy say 'I don't want to' very often. It's generally better to do what mother wants you to do."

Then he jumped up and dared Albert to play a game of marbles with him, and directly they were down on the carpet snapping and shooting the bright glass balls back and forth.

Just as Uncle Bob said, "There, that's the third game I've lost!" the sun peeped in and made a great bright yellow spot on the carpet, so bright that Albert started up, clapping his hands.

"Can I go now, ma? Can I go now?" he called out.

"Yes," answered his mother, "if you will put on your rubbers."

Albert was out in the entry in a moment and tugging to get his rubbers on, and his short legs were soon taking him down across the common. Presently he stood on the piazza, ringing the bell at the parsonage.

Miss Mary, the minister's daughter, came to the door.

Albert spoke up promptly, "I've come a-visiting."

"Walk right in," said Miss Mary. He followed her through the entry into the sitting room.

She thought she knew what Albert wanted, so she pulled out a little table from the wall and drew a chair up to it. She put a big dictionary on the chair, and lifted Albert up on to the dictionary. Then she set before him two little glasses.

One was a three minute glass—two little crystal bulbs of glass joined by a small connecting stem. One of these bulbs had very pretty red sand in it. The bulbs were mounted in a round wooden frame.

When the bulb that had the sand in it was turned so that it was at the top, the sand began to run slowly into the lower bulb, and it took just three minutes for it to run from one bulb to the other.

Albert was never tired of seeing the sand run back and forth. And he wanted a three minute glass of his own so much! The other glass was a multiplying glass. It looked like a small spyglass.

Miss Mary took the multiplying glass in her hand, passing it to Albert, and said, "Now, Albert, if you look through this at the three minute glass you'll see what you did the last time you were here."

Albert took the multiplying glass and looked.

"Ooh-ee!" said he. "Oh, see 'em! See 'em! One, two, four, twelve, eight! Oh, Miss Mary, there's lots of 'em!"

"Should you like one of them?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am. May I have one?"

"Yes," she said; "if you don't take ours, you may have one of those others."

Then, holding the multiplying glass close to his eye, he put one hand out, with the fingers spread out as far as he could make them reach. Carefully he groped and grasped. Now his hand was on it. Now he had it.

Putting down the multiplying glass, he looked for the other glass that he thought he had caught, and it was gone. He tried it over and over again, and every time just as he thought he had it the glass that he thought he had caught seemed to slip away.

"Where do they go to?" he said to Miss Mary.

"Sure enough!" she replied. "How patiently he tried! Finally he had to go home. But when he got down from the dictionary he began looking underneath the table."

"What are you looking for?" questioned Miss Mary.

He didn't answer for a moment, but went down on his hands and knees, pulling up the edges of the rugs and still looking.

one day. After that he had business in the city and was gone for a week.

When he came back, he said to Albert: "I know a little boy somewhere who often says 'I don't want to.' He says it to his mother and to his father so often that I think it sounds very bad. Now, I don't believe in hiring folks to be good. But I do sometimes give rewards of merit. If that little boy leaves off saying 'I don't want to' and if I don't hear him say it for seven days and if nobody else hears him in that time, I shall go down to the minister's with you and see if I can't help you catch one of those little sand-glasses."

"Oh, would you, Uncle Bob?"

"Yes, I will; now, honest," said Uncle Bob, "if that little boy leaves off what I said."

"Why, that little boy is me!" shouted Albert.

"You?" replied Uncle Bob, looking astonished. "Is that little boy you? Well, well, I do declare! Then you can fix it. Do you begin today?"

"Yes, sir," answered Albert.

It was three weeks before Albert succeeded in doing what Uncle Bob proposed. The first time he tried it was two days before he said "I don't want to." Then he had to begin again.

At last he succeeded for seven days. Then Uncle Bob went with him to see if they could catch an extra glass.

When Albert was seated at the table, Uncle Bob sat close to him on one side. "Now," said he to Albert, "shut your eyes tight. Are they real tight shut?"

"Yes, sir," answered Albert.

"Then," continued Uncle Bob, "I don't really think it makes any difference, but just for the sake of form you had better say what I tell you: 'Come, come, fairly, come. Send the glass, and I'll be dumb.'"

And Albert repeated it.

Then Uncle Bob said: "Perhaps you won't get it the first time. If you don't,

That made him mad, and he went away sayin' as how he'd wallop me for his next victim. He knowed I was in pure health and couldn't fight a fly, but every two or three days he'd cum down and stand in front of the cabin and yell:

And so she went, and for awhile 'twas bright and happy there, But by and by the lights went out, And chill was in the air, And horrid noises smote her ears, And she began to rue her plan. She fled from "I don't want to" land And came back home again.

ONE October day Zeb White, the possum hunter of Tennessee, took me along with him when he went the rounds of his woodchuck traps, and as we were coming home he told me this story:

"I worked so hard for three or four years after the war that I got all run down and couldn't skassly git about. That was days when I felt purty well and days when I jest sot around and hadn't strength 'nuff to move outdoahs. That same y'ar a critter named Pike moved into the neighborhood. He was

FATHER OF TRUST

GATES CLAIMS PATERNITY OF STEEL COMBINE.
MAKES PLANS FOR MORGAN
SOME INSIDE HISTORY OF GIGANTIC TRUST.
LIGHT ON A RAILROAD DEAL
GREAT LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE COUP EXPLAINED.

New York, July 19.—The Sphinx has spoken. John W. Gates has revealed the secret of the birth of the United States Steel corporation. He asserts that he is the real father of the billion-dollar steel trust. He declares that he not only conceived the gigantic project, but laid down the plans which J. Pierpont Morgan carried out.

These surprising statements are made in a five-column interview published in the Commercial Advertiser. In this interview Mr. Gates gives a complete and detailed account of his business career, from the time he started selling barbed wire on a salary of $100 a month. He goes into all his big business deals since then, showing each step in his rise and revealing his profits with amazing frankness. The story is told without bombast, and it is a wonderfully interesting tale.

ORIGIN OF STEEL COMBINE.

This is the story of how he originated the great steel trust:

"In talking with James J. Hill one evening in January, 1901, he informed me that J. P. Morgan was very much disturbed over the iron and steel situation. The Carnegie Steel company was threatening to build a large steel tube plant and become a competitor of the National Tube company, in which Mr. Morgan was largely interested and instrumental as a banker in bringing out.

"After several hours' talk with Mr. Hill I told him that, in my opinion, there was but one way to manage the steel business of the United States and that was by an actual consolidation, and that if Mr. Morgan would go to work at it right all the iron and steel companies in the United States could be brought into one company.

"Next day Mr. Morgan telephoned me and asked me to come down to the bank and explain what I had said to Mr. Hill. I did so, and outlined to Mr. Morgan a plan for the formation of what was afterward named the United States Steel corporation.

ADVICE GIVEN MORGAN.

"I told him about the lines and general terms I thought would have to be adopted to obtain the Carnegie Steel company, which, being the largest and most aggressive steel works in the world, was the bone of contention among all the iron and steel manufacturers. I assured him that there was but one way to accomplish the consolidation, and that was by getting Mr. Schwab, with whom I was very well acquainted and with whom I had talked about the matter many times, to agree to a plan in advance and submit that plan to Mr. Carnegie and get his approval, and then go ahead and consummate the consolidation.

"Mr. Morgan requested me to see Mr. Schwab and arrange a meeting at his residence. This I did, having first posted Mr. Schwab regarding my former talk with Mr. Morgan on the subject. We finally mapped out a plan, after several hours' talk, that Mr. Schwab thought Mr. Carnegie would agree to, and that I strongly recommended.

"After many conferences with the various concerns that now form the United States Steel corporation the basis was made and all these properties put together."

HISTORY OF A BIG DEAL.

Mr. Gates also revealed some of the inside operations of the deal in Louisville and Nashville stock. Under the latter head he said:

"We had the opinions of the best experts and auditors in the country that Louisville was worth more per share than Illinois Central before we started into it. We knew it had $25,000,000 of quick cash assets in its treasury. The public did not know that. When we obtained 300,000 shares of stock—the amount we started out to get—there was a short interest on the market of 150,000 shares. Of it 100,000 shares was foreign short interest; 50,000 was stock Mr. Belmont had sold under a resolution of the board authorizing its sale. These 50,000 shares were not good deliveries for thirty days and if we had called the stock and insisted upon the specific performance of contracts, as we had every right to do, we could have caused a panic greater than the May 9 panic.

"The proposition was made to me by a thoroughly respectable man, financially, that if I would call and insist upon delivery of Louisville and Nashville he would sell 500,000 shares of stock and give me half of the profits for doing it. Mr. Morgan's people sent to my hotel and

OATS SOAR HIGHEST IN TWENTY-TWO YEARS

Chicago, July 19.—Fear that they could not secure enough of the new standard contract oats to fill July contracts, created great excitement among shorts on the board of trade today, and July oats soared to 65 cents, the highest price since 1874. This point marked a gain for the day of 7 1/4 cents, and of 15 cents for three days. The market had been excited for the past three days over the weather and it needed only today's reports of the devastations of the weather to bring on a semi-panic. The supply of contract oats at present is almost nil, and of today's scant receipts only 28 cars were up to the new standard which oats must grade to be deliverable on contracts. July oats closed 7 1/4 cents up, at 64 1/4.

awakened me at 1:30 in the morning, and stated that at a meeting of bankers it had been determined that we were the owners of Louisville and Nashville, and they wanted to know what we proposed to do about it, stating that it meant a panic probably greater than the May 9 panic. I told them the proposition that had been made to me, but that under no circumstances would we insist on specific performance of the deliveries of Louisville and Nashville stock, as we had no wish whatever to cause any panic or to make any one lose money in stocks they held. We loaned Mr. Belmont's people all the stock they wanted without any premium charged."

WAS PURSUED BY A GHOST INSANE GIRL RUNS TEN MILES THROUGH RAINSTORM.

Artie Pierce, of Upland, Haunted by Spirit of Tracey Mang, Who Was Slain by Sweetheart.

Marion, Ind., July 19.—Believing she was pursued by the ghost of Tracey Mang, who was slain by her sweetheart, Noah Johnson, near Upland, several years ago, Artie Pierce, the 17-year-old daughter of Thomas Pierce, living ten miles east of the soldiers' home, left her home Thursday night and ran to this city through a heavy rainstorm.

She arrived at the soldiers' home corner about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, covered with mud and water, and applied at the restaurant conducted by Mrs. Sanders for shelter. Mrs. Sanders then reported the matter to the police and the parents of the girl were notified.

Miss Pierce was taken into custody here and last night she said she was compelled to flee because the spirit of Tracey Mang haunted her. The Pierce girl was with Tracey Mang on her way to school when Noah Johnson, who was in love with Tracey Mang, met his victim in the road and shot her to death. Johnson, who was a mere boy, was found guilty of manslaughter and is now serving a life sentence in the Michigan City prison. Miss Pierce and Miss Mang were become friends and the cold-blooded murder of her schoolmate has ever since preyed on the Pierce girl's mind. An insanity inquest will be held today. Artie Pierce's grandfather, Jacob Bugher, is said to be the wealthiest man in Upland.

WORLD'S BURIED CITIES

Great Centers of Population and Industry Whose Fate is a Mystery.

By the devastation which overwhelmed St. Pierre one more instance is added to the list of buried cities, and it is even feared that the volcanic eruptions may render Martinique and St. Vincent so unfit for human residence as to necessitate the entire abandonment of those islands. The story is not a new one. All through history, from the time of Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of the plain now buried beneath the waters of the Dead sea, and in every quarter of the globe there is found the record of deserted towns. Nothing is more fascinating than the mysterious ways in which great sites of human habitation have had their day and strangely ceased to be, their hollow houses and crumbling ruins marking some vanished nation as an unearthed skeleton testifies to the life of a man long since dead.

In history, legend and excavation we are brought face to face with such sepulchered cities. The strangest of these are not those which, like Pompeii, have been overwhelmed by volcanic outbursts and buried beneath showers of ashes and streams of burning lava. Legends tell us of cities suddenly swallowed up by chasms rent in the earth's surface, and explorations have revealed cities more slowly, but as certainly, buried and effaced by the drift and swirl of sand. The sea has drowned and submerged others, and equally obliterated have been the forces of human society, so that the thronged metropolis of one age has within a few centuries become the haunt of only wild beasts.

In every country are such derelict centers of humanity, constituting the most fascinating mysteries of history. We know the story and fate of Pompeii and Herculaneum, but stranger is the decay and death of Babylon and Nineveh, those marvelous cities of the ancient world. Magnificent ruins still testify to the old glory of Babel, but how and why fell that city from its high estate?

Even more mysterious is the great desert of Chinese Turkestan, the cemetery of a civilization of which we know nothing. In that sea of sand Dr. Stern, acting on behalf of the Indian government, has recently unearthed many and great cities. "Weird looking" rows of bleached timber pieces projecting in various places like the framework of a wrecked ship from between the sand dunes were all that he saw in one locality, but the spade revealed houses and temples covering an area of six miles by four. Of the city history is absolutely silent, but that it was once an important focus of human life is proved by the remains. The temples and houses, sculpture and frescoes, and cities possessed a high degree of civilization. Household articles show that this and other cities were not uninfluenced by Greek and Roman thought. For 2,000 years they have been buried beneath the sand of the lifeless wilderness. In some of the houses were discovered hundreds of documents beautifully written on wooden tablets and carefully tied and sealed. The sand has preserved these in perfect condition, and as they are in a known Indian script their decipherment may be expected to reveal some of time's strangest secrets. Many of the idols and colossal statues were found to bear the votive offerings of worshippers long since dead. There is no evidence that these cities were abandoned owing to any sudden catastrophe, but their desertion seems to have been due to the inexorable encroachment of the sand and the gradual silting up of the site.

In parts of India one may come across traces of a once abundant population now buried in the solitude of the jungle. War and anarchy have as a rule depopulated these moldering towns and crumbling palaces. Sometimes plague has been at work, and in a few cases the caprice of a despot. In Karen, in central Burma, the approach of civilization has subtly and for no ostensible cause laid the hand of death over whole areas. Where a quarter of a century ago there were numerous villages and well cultivated paddy fields there is now one huge plain of grass. How this decay has fallen upon the Karens it is impossible to say, but so rapidly are they vanishing that in fifty years the race will be extinct and the land restored to its primeval jungle. The lost and buried cities of Africa are at once legend and legend; recent researches impress us with the power and wealth of their vanished builders. In Rhodesia there have been unearthed the sites and ruins of cities whose remains prove their residents to have been both civilized and powerful. Of these lost tribes even native folklore has scarcely a fragment to tell and history is wholly silent.

In the so-called new world are mysteries not less great. From the remains of the Incas, the Aztecs and the Mayas we can only conjecture the civilization and the story of those wonderful vanished nations. The forests of Yucatan are the storehouse of many and strange secrets. The volcanoes of Central America have been responsible for the blotting out of whole races and vast cities. Who dare dismiss as fiction Eldorado and the golden city of Manoa, which lured so many sixteenth century adventurers to death? In the mountains behind Santa Maria, on the Caribbean sea, are magnificent paved roads, thousands of feet above the sea level, and used to this day, but who made them no living man can guess. In the depths of the forest are the ruins of houses, but of the people who dwell therein no more is known than of the inhabitants of Mars. In Colombia are scores of lost towns, now completely overgrown with tropical vegetation. Sometimes a hunter in pursuit of his quarry comes upon a paved street and crumbling houses.

LESSON IN ETIQUETTE.

Burke Burrell is a little newsboy who serves customers at the white house. He is as black as the traditional ace of spades, with great luminous eyes, which shine with almost hypnotic effect, and he is just as bright a little darkey as one can find anywhere. Withal Burke has the newsboy characteristics of reverence. He is no respecter of persons in high places, says an exchange. The other day President Roosevelt, who was out driving, happened to pass the home of the elder Burrell. Burke was playing in the street in front of the house, and as the president's carriage approached he shouted: "Hello, Mr. Roosevelt!"

Recognizing Burke as the little white house newsboy, the president quickly directed his coachman to stop, and, calling Burke to the carriage door, he said: "My boy, you should say 'Good day, Mr. President,' and then you should salute."

"I don't know how," replied Burke. "It is this way," said the president, as he proceeded to give his small black friend an illustration of the military salute.

Burke raised his hand gravely to his forehead in imitation of the president's salute and the carriage drove away.

OREGON'S STRAWBERRIES.

The Hood river strawberry against the world.

This is the verdict of General Passenger Agent Craig, of the O. R. & N. Co., upon the far-famed Hood river berry.

Mr. Craig is enthusiastic over the quality of the Hood river berry, the large production of this fruit, the great care exercised by the growers and shippers in packing and the enviable reputation enjoyed by the berry wherever it is marketed.

As an evidence of the superiority of the Hood river berry over the fruit from other sections Mr. Craig was told of a circumstance that recently occurred in a town in Idaho. The railroad agent at that point as a side issue handled some fruit shipped to him on consignment. It happened that he received shipments from Hood river and Utah the same day a short time ago. The Hood river berries were cleaned up in no time, netting the grower, after deducting transportation charges, commission, etc., $2 a crate. It was with difficulty that the Utah berries were unloaded at $1.50 a crate, which, after deducting seventy-five cents a crate for freight and commission, left the grower but eighty cents a crate.

Mr. Craig was pleased to observe that great care is exercised in the handling and packing of the Hood river berries. There is not a bad berry in a carload shipment. Every berry is inspected and the grower is made to realize that the high reputation enjoyed by Hood river fruit depends entirely upon this extraordinary care in the selection, handling and packing.

The yield of the Hood river berry patches, Mr. Craig learns, will this year approximate 60,000 crates or 900 tons, which is about 50 per cent. in excess of the production of last year.—Portland Evening Telegram.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief; such was my case until I began using CASCARET. I now have from one to three regular movements a day, and I feel rich! I would give $100.00 for such movement; it is such a relief."

Surprised at the Quick Results

1924 Day St., Philadelphia, Pa.
When I was sick 2 years ago, with nervous prostration, palpitation of the heart, dizziness and general debility, I tried many medicines and several doctors, but grew steadily worse until I was unable to leave my bed, and no one expected me ever to recover. But a friend advised me to try Pastor Koenig's Nervous Tonic and as a last resource, without any hope or faith in it, I tried a bottle and was surprised at its quick results. After using only 2 bottles I was completely cured.

POISONING THE SYSTEM.
It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. Meyer Bros. & Co.
